Leadership

Rethinking History Education
- Published Careers for History Majors to help departments recruit students and to inform current and future undergraduates about the social and economic value of studying history, distributing 5,000 copies in six months
- Launched History Gateways, an initiative to revise introductory college history courses to better serve students from all backgrounds
- Engaged with more than 30 institutions to discuss strategies and spearhead cultural and curricular change in PhD programs as part of the AHA’s Career Diversity for Historians initiative. Activities included 136 seminars, workshops, informal information sessions, visits, and conferences

Improving Data Transparency
- Expanded the annual jobs report to provide more context about academic hiring
- Collaborated with the Association of American Universities and the Council of Graduate Schools to collect improved data about doctoral career outcomes across disciplines
- Published “The History BA since the Great Recession” by Benjamin M. Schmidt in Perspectives on History, which sparked wide conversation about the future of historical knowledge in the United States

Raising the Bar for Diversity and Inclusion in the Discipline
- Partnered with the American Philosophical Association to collaborate with faculty at Historically Black Colleges and Universities to explore how scholarly associations can better serve these institutions
- Embarked on a broad range of initiatives to comprehensively diversify the American Historical Review with respect to article topics, contributors, peer reviewers, and more
- Developed policies and a code of conduct to safeguard our member spaces and to protect members from harassment and discrimination within the scope of AHA activity

Advocacy

Defending and Supporting the Work of Historians
- Issued a record-breaking number of letters and statements regarding academic freedom and the integrity of historical work in Saudi Arabia, Iran, Nicaragua, Hungary, and across the United States
Mobilized members to protect federal funding for the humanities, higher education budgets, and history courses in public higher education systems

Established a committee to advise on issues at the National Archives and Records Administration relating to the work of historians

Played a leadership role in the National Humanities Alliance, National Coalition for History, and American Council of Learned Societies, in addition to continued participation in the Consortium of Social Science Associations and Social Science Research Council

Bringing Historical Thinking into Policy Debates

- Responded to current events with late-breaking sessions at #AHA19 related to such issues as Confederate monuments, threats to the collections and work of archives, and Brazil’s presidential election
- The National History Center convened five congressional briefings by expert historians on the histories of federal agricultural policy, US refugee policy, congressional reform and rules changes, US gun rights and regulations, and US health care policy, which consistently attracted large audiences and were filmed and broadcast by C-SPAN
- A series of Perspectives Daily articles contextualized contemporary issues, including marijuana decriminalization, white supremacist nostalgia for the Middle Ages, and African American student activism
- A webinar with leading political historians discussed the historical implications of the 2018 midterm elections

Creating Community

Supporting Members with Professional Development

- Subsidized $17,200 worth of graduate student travel to #AHA19 and provided childcare stipends to graduate students and non-tenure-track faculty
- Welcomed the participation of over 500 students at all levels at #AHA19, with an undergraduate lightning round and poster presentation
- Held the first annual Department Chairs’ Workshop to develop leaders who can advocate for disciplinary priorities on campus
- Arranged dozens of informational interviews through Career Contacts, a database of nearly 250 history PhDs working beyond the professoriate
- Sponsored two large teaching conferences in Texas and California, connecting high school and undergraduate educators
- Launched Perspectives on History biweekly newsletter to better communicate with our readers
- Expanded the digital scope and reach of the American Historical Review
