General Information

HEADQUARTERS: The Conrad Hilton Hotel, 720 South Michigan Boulevard, Chicago 5, Illinois (Telephone: WAbash 2-4400). At the headquarters hotel 1000 rooms are available for members of the American Historical Association at these rates: single rooms, $7.00, $8.00, and $9.00; double-bed rooms, $12.00, $13.00, and $14.00; twin-bed rooms, $14.00, $14.00, and $15.00; suites, $25.00 and up. Because many other groups meet in Chicago during the same time as the annual meeting, correspondence regarding accommodations should be directed to The Conrad Hilton (or other hotels) at the earliest possible date. A reservation form for The Conrad Hilton is enclosed with this program. Other hotels near headquarters include The Sheraton-Blackstone, 630 South Michigan Avenue, and The Congress, 530 South Michigan Boulevard.

REGISTRATION: The registration desk in the Normandie Lounge, second floor, of The Conrad Hilton will be open on Sunday, December 27, from 2 until 9 p.m.; Monday, December 28, from 8 a.m. to 6 p.m.; Tuesday, December 29, from 8 a.m. to 6 p.m.; and Wednesday, December 30, from 9 a.m. until noon. The registration fee is $1.50. The registration badge for admittance to sessions and all tickets for luncheons and dinners listed in this program may be obtained at the registration desk. There will be no advance registration. Members are asked to fill out in advance the enclosed registration form and present it with the proper fees at the registration desk immediately upon arrival.

LUNCHEON AND DINNERS: All luncheons are priced at $3.50 and all dinners are $5.75, including taxes and gratuities. Tickets desired should be indicated on the form to be presented at the time of registration. There will be no advance sale. Checks will be accepted if made out to the American Historical Association for the exact total of registration and meals. No refunds can be made. Reservations for luncheons must be made before 10:00 a.m. on the day of the luncheon. Reservations for dinners must be made before 2 p.m. on the day of the dinner.

LOCATOR FILE: Names of registered members in attendance and their local addresses while at the meeting will be on file in The Conrad Hilton’s Writing Room opposite the registration area.

JOB REGISTER: At the meeting the services of the Job Register will be available. Candidates for positions may register or reregister and departmental representatives seeking staff members may make inquiries. Departmental representatives will facilitate arrangements by informing Association headquarters of their needs before the meeting, and each candidate should inform the Job Register of his presence and local address as soon as he arrives in Chicago. Schedule of hours will be distributed at the registration desk.

GROUP MEETINGS AND REUNIONS: Some historical societies and groups have arranged special sessions which cannot be listed in the general program. Mimeographed announcements will be available at the registration desk when these are supplied to the Local Arrangements Committee Chairman. Information concerning group reunions such as smokers and breakfasts will be posted on the bulletin board at the registration desk. All groups desiring to hold such meetings or reunions should arrange for them directly with the Convention Bureau of the Hotel, sending a copy of correspondence to the Local Arrangements Committee Chairman.

SPECIAL EVENTS: Roosevelt University will conduct special tours of the Auditorium Theatre, two blocks north of The Conrad Hilton, at 430 South Michigan Boulevard, on Sunday, December 27, at 8:30 p.m., and on Monday, December 28, at 4:30 p.m., free of charge for Association members.

The Art Institute of Chicago, Adams Street and Michigan Boulevard, will admit Association members free to its exhibits.
A Short History of Western Civilization

by JOHN B. HARRISON, Michigan State University and RICHARD E. SULLIVAN, Michigan State University

In this brief survey text each chapter is designed for a day's assignment covering only the essential facts in order to allow time for adequate use of collateral reading. The book is written in a clear, straightforward, yet challenging manner, encompassing political, intellectual, and cultural history to give the introductory student a well-rounded account of Western civilization. 900 pages. 41 maps. Illustrated. $6.00

A History of the United States

Volume I: To 1876 Volume II: Since 1865

by T. HARRY WILLIAMS, Louisiana State University,
RICHARD N. CURRENT, Woman's College, University of North Carolina, and FRANK FREIDEL, Harvard University

"I have seldom seen such a superior account of American history in every respect: interpretation, balance, coverage, style of writing, enthusiasm for the subject, and inclusion of recent scholarship."—JAMES R. CONNOR, Virginia Military Institute.

Volume I, 720 pages. 142 illustrations. 63 maps. 6 charts. $6.75
Volume II, 752 pages. 169 illustrations. 49 maps. 6 charts. $6.75

Twentieth Century Europe

by C. E. BLACK, Princeton University and E. C. HELMREICH, Bowdoin College

This revised edition of this widely adopted text has been reorganized and simplified in structure. In addition there is now wider coverage of Central-European Europe and the Near East. "A book rich in insights and perspectives, admirably lucid, fair-minded and scholarly. It is unusually well balanced in its treatment of Western and Eastern Europe, with full attention to the important changes of the 1950's. By far the best text of its kind."—KARL W. DEUTSCH, Yale University. 960 pages. 33 maps. Illustrated. $7.50

by D. Malone and B. Rauch

A complete survey history of the United States from the discovery of America to 1958, inclusive, the two volumes of EMPIRE FOR LIBERTY views American history from all the most important angles—political, economic, diplomatic, social, intellectual, religious, and biographical. The work differs from other such histories in its enlarged emphasis on the history of United States’ foreign relations and its special attention to biographies of leading persons. Notable is the thorough treatment of the Eisenhower administration to the end of 1958.

The American attempt to attain, maintain, and extend liberty is the main theme of the work, which is told in a narrative form. Clear and lucid, as well as interesting, it is not encumbered with unnecessary details. The main purpose of the two volumes is for use as the required text in undergraduate American history courses, but it also has a freshness and a new approach, which will appeal to mature students and general readers.

The Appendices contain reference tables of officials of the United States Government, important documents, and useful lists. Both volumes are enriched with 50 charts and more than 30 pages of color photos. To be published in January, 1960.
THE PAPERS OF BENJAMIN FRANKLIN

Volume 1, 1706-34

Leonard W. Labaree, Editor
Whitfield J. Bell, Jr., Associate Editor

This is the first volume to come from a great scholarly undertaking, the assembly and editing of Benjamin Franklin's complete writings and correspondence. Sponsored jointly by the American Philosophical Society and Yale University, this new edition of forty volumes will contain everything that Franklin wrote that can be found and, for the first time, in full or abstract, all letters addressed to him, the whole arranged in chronological order. To be published over a period of fifteen years, it will supersede all previous editions, for thousands of letters by Franklin have been located since Smyth's edition of fifty years ago.

This first volume contains more than three times the amount of material as the Smyth edition for this period, from Franklin's birth in 1706 to the end of 1734. It shows the young Franklin of Boston and Philadelphia as a man of letters—essayist, journalist, pamphleteer—and as a rising young printer.

Here are the literary pieces he wrote and printed in the New-England Courant, the American Weekly Mercury, or the Pennsylvania Gazette, or as separately printed pamphlets. Here are the first issues of Poor Richard's Almanack. Here is his famous Epitaph and his ritual for private worship, "Articles of Belief and Acts of Religion." Here are legal documents and papers connected with his printing business. The genealogy of Franklin's complicated family is the fullest ever compiled, with a chronology of Franklin's first twenty-nine years. Each volume has its own index, and there will be a cumulative index at the end.

A large proportion of Franklin's literary production of the 1720s and 1730s has never been reprinted; therefore this volume is a valuable addition to the available body of early American materials. Especially significant to collectors will be the reproduction in photographic facsimile, for the first time, of the entire twenty-four pages of the "first impression" of the Poor Richard, that for 1733, from the unique copy in the Rosenbach Foundation. Indexed.

Beautifully designed and printed, with full color and half-tone illustrations. $7.50
JOURNEY TO AMERICA
by Alexis de Tocqueville
Edited by J. P. Mayer. Here, for the first time complete in English, is the record of Alexis de Tocqueville's historic visit to America in 1831-32. The source for his epoch-making Democracy in America, these fourteen notebooks present a vivid and penetrating commentary on American Democracy at work. $6.50

ARMY EXPLORATION IN THE AMERICAN WEST
by William H. Goetzmann
The author describes and evaluates the vital role of the United States Corps of Topographical Engineers in the opening of the trans-Mississippi West, with particular emphasis on the years between 1838 and 1863. Five original foldout maps and sixteen pages of illustrations. $6.50

RUSSIA AT THE DAWN OF THE MODERN AGE
by George Vernadsky
In the fourth volume of A History of Russia, Mr. Vernadsky examines Russia's transition from the Middle Ages to the Modern Age and details the formation of the modern Russian state. It is during this period that the foreign policies of modern Russia and the basic patterns of her political institutions were laid down. $7.50

FREE JAMAICA, 1838-1865:
AN ECONOMIC HISTORY
by Douglas Hall
Volume I in the Caribbean Series, this is the first detailed account of the economic development of Jamaica during the crucial years of 1838-1865, a period still regarded in her history as the dark ages. $5.00

OTHER VOLUMES IN PREPARATION
The American Pageant is now the leading single-volume textbook in United States history courses! Why? Because the text brings the issues of yesterday—and the forces that shaped them—into the perspective of today. Because the stimulating—yet balanced—interpretation provokes thought and kindles discussion. Because the main trends of the successive periods of history are made memorable to the reader. 1024 pages $7.75

THE UNIVERSITY OF MICHIGAN PRESS / ANN ARBOR
Atlas of European History

Edited by Edward Whiting Fox, Cornell University, with the assistance of H. S. Deighton, Pembroke College, Oxford

This atlas has been widely successful as a classroom text. The maps are clear and uncluttered, emphasizing only the major places and topics covered in undergraduate textbooks. Twenty-four physical maps, featuring Oxford's new three-dimensional "photo-relief" technique, illustrate vividly why and how European history has been influenced by its geographic setting. In addition to the 64 pages of full-color maps, the text includes map exercises, drills, test questions, and a gazetteer.

1957 Paperbound $3.95

The Growth of the American Republic

Fourth Edition

By Samuel Eliot Morison, Harvard University, and Henry Steele Commager, Amherst College and Columbia University

Now in its thirtieth year and still a leader in its field, The Growth of the American Republic has become a standard by which other general histories are evaluated. Distinguished for its outstanding scholarship and refreshing presentation, the text makes the study of history an exciting adventure. The Fourth Edition has been adopted in hundreds of colleges and has been translated into three foreign languages. Each volume contains statistical tables, charts, maps, and index.

1951 Vol. I, to 1865, 865 pp. $7.00 each volume

Study Guide for the Growth of the American Republic

Prepared by Harris G. Warren, Miami University

The Study Guide contains a chapter-by-chapter analysis of The Growth of the American Republic and is closely keyed to the headings within the chapters. A valuable study aid and teaching adjunct, it provides general summary questions at the end of each group of five or more chapters, exercises on the identification of people, places, and events, and short drills on vocabulary and special terms.

1957 Vol. I, 84 pp.; Vol. II, 82 pp. each volume paperbound, $.75

The Growth and Culture of Latin America

By Donald E. Worcester, University of Florida, and Wendell G. Schaeffer, University of Pittsburgh

The authors have divided this history into chronological periods based on internal developments rather than on external forces. Each section is introduced by a chapter covering the period in general terms, followed by chapters on various regions or groupings of countries on a basis of similarities in development during that period. With this arrangement, the student gains a broad perspective that cannot be acquired in the usual historical treatment of individual countries.

THE AMERICAN HISTORICAL ASSOCIATION

Founded in 1884  Chartered by Congress in 1889
Office: 400 A Street, S.E., Washington 3, D. C.

Membership: Persons interested in historical studies, whether professionally or otherwise, are invited to membership. Present membership ca. 7,600. Members elect the officers by ballot.

Meetings: An annual meeting with a three-day program is held during the last days of each year. Many professional historical groups meet within or jointly with the Association at this time. The Pacific Coast Branch holds meetings on the Pacific Coast and publishes the Pacific Historical Review.

Publications and Services: The official organ, the American Historical Review, published quarterly, is sent to all members, and is available by subscription to others. In addition, the Association publishes its Annual Report, prize monographs, pamphlets designed to aid teachers of history, and bibliographical as well as other volumes. To promote history and assist historians, the Association offers many other services. It also maintains close relations with international, specialized, state, and local historical societies through conferences and correspondence.

Prizes: The Albert J. Beveridge Award, given annually for the best manuscript in the history of the Western Hemisphere, with a cash value of $1,000 and assurance of publication. The Watunull Prize of $500, awarded biennially for a work on the history of India originally published in the United States (next award: December 1960). The George Louis Beer Prize of $300, awarded annually for a work on any phase of European international history since 1895. The John H. Dunning Prize of $300, awarded in the even-numbered years for a monograph on any subject relating to American history. The Herbert B. Adams Prize of $300, awarded in the even-numbered years for a work in the field of European history. The Moses Coit Tyler Prize of $1,500 plus publication, awarded in odd-numbered years for the best manuscript in the field of American intellectual history, including biography.

Dues: There is no initiation fee. Annual dues are $7.50, students $4.00. Life membership is $150. All members receive the American Historical Review and the program of the annual meeting.

Correspondence: Inquiries should be addressed to the Executive Secretary at 400 A Street, S.E., Washington 3, D. C.

Ancient History

Stewart C. EASTON's
The Heritage of the Ancient World
FROM THE EARLIEST TIMES TO THE FALL OF ROME

At your suggestion, the first 14 chapters of Professor Easton's THE HERITAGE OF THE PAST are now available in a separate volume for ancient history courses. Teachers and scholars everywhere have heaped praise on the "freshness and vigor," the "lively, provocative flavor and tone," the "superior coverage and organization" of Professor Easton's treatment of the ancient civilizations. Superb illustrations; 38 clear, interesting, accurate maps; chronological charts all add to the exceptional value of this outstanding text.

A New Text for Courses in World History and Western Civilization

In this book a new synthesis of European and non-European history emerges, and a new unity of development, traced through the main threads which have led to the modern world, becomes apparent. Here is a fresh, judicious appraisal of the main streams of history which have produced the political, economic, social, and cultural characteristics and problems of the contemporary world.

ANCIENT CIVILIZATION

by TOM B. JONES, University of Minnesota

A new one-volume text for courses in Ancient History. Professor Jones weaves together the story of archaeological discoveries and the narrative of the rise and fall of empires from Akkad and Egypt to the Rome of Diocletian and Constantine. His treatment of the subject, tested in years of teaching, makes the ancient peoples live for modern students. The origins and development of the social and cultural institutions which are the foundation of today's civilization are illuminated in an unusually clear and well organized text.

Maps, drawings, and photographs help the reader to visualize the history of ancient lands. The bibliography lists readable and easily accessible books in English to guide and encourage the student in his supplementary reading.

Publication: Spring, 1960  Probable price: $6.50 list

Civilization Through the Centuries

By WILBUR D. JONES, Associate Professor of History, University of Georgia, and HORACE MONTGOMERY, Professor of History, University of Georgia

A stimulating, thoroughgoing one-volume history which records man's progress from the ancient Middle East to the contemporary world. The emphasis on Western civilization is balanced by a full historical treatment of Eastern civilizations at the time that the West impinges upon them. The basic, political narrative is supplemented by sections on cultural and intellectual history—as well as the technological and scientific developments of each period. A Student's Guide will be available.

An Introduction to the History of Western Tradition

By EDGAR N. JOHNSON, Chairman of the History Department, Brandeis University

An original, selective text which employs as a teaching device a unifying theme: the clash in Western culture of two world views, the humanistic and the ascetic. Volume I begins with the ancient Hebrews and Greeks and ends with Erasmus. Volume II begins with Castiglione and Cellini and ends with the United Nations. Copious material from original sources is woven into the narrative. Beautiful illustrations, forty in color, highlight the development of art and architecture. Study Guides

The community of scholars will be interested to learn that after ten years of intensive effort, we have succeeded in attracting funds for our scholarly books program. Specifically, we have had earmarked for the expansion of our program $100,000 in credits advanced by a book manufacturer.

As always, we are happy to share our good fortune with those who are primarily responsible for it, and we cordially invite the scholarly fraternity to stop by our booth to view some of the latest books in our accelerated scholarly books program and to make suggestions whereby we may spend $100,000 at a somewhat faster tempo than we can do by ourselves. . . . in publishing, that is.

In the Shadow of Russia: Eastern Europe in the Postwar World
NICHOLAS HALASZ

NEW! A probing study which brings a fresh perspective to the Cold War. Writing from a truly international point of view, the author describes the outburst of national fervor and the concern for social justice after 1945, the gradual expansion of Communist control, the impact and meaning of Titoism, and the attempts to assert national individuality. "The reader comes away with a better understanding of the diversity that is Eastern Europe."—Current History. 388 pp. $5

Borderlands of Western Civilization

Borderlands of Western Civilization: A History of East Central Europe
OSCAR HALECKI, Fordham University

An expert analysis of military, economic, social, and political factors in the history of East Central Europe. Pointing to the organic unity of the whole region, this engrossing book traces its fortunes from earliest times to the present. Essential background for understanding the significance of events that are taking place today. "A monument of mature scholarship ..."—M. K. Dziewanowski, Harvard University. Illus., 503 pp. $7.50

DIPLOMACY IN THE NEAR AND MIDDLE EAST
by J. C. Hurewitz
This two-volume study is the first systematic, thorough diplomatic history of the Near and Middle East. The more than 225 diplomatic documents cited include many which have never before been made public. Introductory notes, vigorously and succinctly written, provide the historical background essential to a full understanding of each document and of its significance.
Volume I: A Documentary Record 1535-1914 399 pages, $5.00
Volume II: A Documentary Record 1914-1956 448 pages, $6.50

THE ITALIAN SOCIALIST MOVEMENT: Origins (1860-1882)
by Richard Hostetter
“Richard Hostetter offers with this book the first full, rich installment of a three-volume history of the Italian socialist movement. He has bravely plunged into the labyrinth of an obscure sector of a neglected period of unitary Italian history and has come up with a fine, clear chronicle of the ideological-revolutionary battles waged therein.” American Historical Review 455 pages, $6.50

MODERN CHINA: A Brief History (No. 42)
by David Nelson Rowe, Yale University.
This sorely needed analysis of recent Chinese history traces China’s tumultuous path from imperial absolutism to republicanism to Communist absolutism in the years since 1839, giving students a sound basis for gauging current events.

A BASIC HISTORY OF THE OLD SOUTH (No. 43)
by Wendell Holmes Stephenson, University of Oregon.
Here is the background of the passionate spirit of nationalism which led to the Civil War, developed in a well-rounded history of the South from 1607 to 1860; its regions, social classes, economics and expansion. Rare documents give first-hand accounts of plantation, homestead and town life.

THE BENELUX COUNTRIES: An Historical Survey (No. 44)
by F. Gunther Eyck, The American University
A quiet revolution is in the offing in the Lowlands with the recently proposed Benelux union. This Anvil Book surveys, in clear narrative and vital documents (some appearing for the first time in English) the political, social and economic history of Belgium, The Netherlands and Luxembourg since Roman times.
A SHORT HISTORY OF THE AMERICAN PEOPLE
by Oliver P. Chitwood, Frank L. Owsley and H. C. Nixon

This set, noted for its impartial discussion of all sides of major disputes, covers the political and economic development of the United States from the beginning of the colonial era up to a brand new chapter entitled “America at Mid-Century.” Both volumes are profusely illustrated.

Volume I: (1492-1865) 824 pages, $6.25

WESTERN CIVILIZATION
by Franklin C. Palm, Charles R. Webb, Jr., and Paul B. Schaeffer

Entirely reset in an attractive, easily-read format, this highly regarded survey dramatically recounts the forward movement of Western civilization across the centuries. The first volume carries the narrative from the beginnings of Western culture to the partitions of Poland late in the 18th century; the second volume deals in greater detail with the more recent period.

Volume I: 442 pages, $6.75
Volume II: 468 pages, $6.95

MEXICO AND THE CARIBBEAN:
Volume I of Modern Latin America (No. 45)
by Lewis Hanke, University of Texas

In this fast-paced survey, a distinguished historian explores the fundamental social and economic problems of Central America, the Caribbean islands, Colombia, Venezuela and Mexico. He gives students both basic information and a variety of viewpoints as an aid to understanding Latin America at the beginning of another revolutionary period.

SOUTH AMERICA:
Volume II of Modern Latin America (No. 46)
by Lewis Hanke

A penetrating analysis of social and economic realities in Brazil and Spanish South America, this compact volume presents the Latin Americans’ own views—and those of their neighbors—about themselves and their countries in order to present a clear picture of this volatile area.

The Truman-MacArthur Controversy and the Korean War
By JOHN W. SPANIER. With the perspective of eight years the Truman-MacArthur dispute stands revealed not only as one of the most dramatic events of our time, but as the most serious constitutional crisis of the century. Here, step by step, is the complete inside story of this epic struggle.

Century of Struggle
The Woman's Rights Movement in the United States
By ELEANOR FLEXNER. "Never before, to this reviewer's knowledge, has a book done more to relate the woman's rights movement in the United States to the centuries-old struggle of the individual to attain his full stature in society."—Christian Science Monitor.

The Urban Frontier
The Rise of Western Cities, 1790-1830
By RICHARD C. WADE. This book adds a new dimension to our knowledge of the trans-Appalachian West. The Urban Frontier demonstrates that from the very beginning there was not only a rural West but also a dynamic and vital urban West. The author illustrates his theme by tracing the influence of five cities: Cincinnati, Pittsburgh, Louisville, Lexington, and St. Louis.

The Eighteenth-Century Commonwealthman
Studies in the Transmission, Development and Circumstance of English Liberal Thought from the Restoration of Charles II until the War with the Thirteen Colonies
By CAROLINE ROBBINS. A comprehensive discussion of the 18th-century heirs—in Britain and the Colonies—of the radical notions of the 17th Century. This is not a study of parliamentary parties and factions, but an analysis of the vicissitudes of political theories and of the factors which circumscribed or enlarged their development.

Smolensk Under Soviet Rule
By MERLE FAINSOD. "A particularly happy choice made Professor Fainsod responsible for editing . . . the records of the [Communist Party organization of Smolensk] . . . Professor Fainsod is to be warmly congratulated . . . for having distilled out of this formidable mass of material a human story which is fascinating and illuminating . . . quite easily absorbed even by the non-specialist reader."—Times Literary Supplement (London)

SELECT BIBLIOGRAPHY OF REVISIONIST BOOKS
Dealing with The Two World Wars and Their Aftermath

"With the publication in 1948 of his [Charles A. Beard's] President Roosevelt and the Coming of the War, revisionism reached the status of a mature historical interpretation of events that no serious student of prewar policy could ignore."

Although this is a modest list of books limited to the outstanding volumes on the subject which have been published in English, it will prove an "eye-opener" to most teachers and students of history.

Few of the important revisionist books dealing with the causes, merits and results of the second World War have been reviewed in historical journals or the book review sections of leading newspapers and periodicals. When they have been reviewed, their nature and contents have rarely been fairly stated and appraised.

It has almost universally been taken for granted that, however important revisionist research and publication may have been in setting the record straight in regard to the first World War, there is no revisionist issue or problem relative to the second World War.

The facts already well established demonstrate, however, that the revisionist correction of wartime illusions and prejudices relative to the second World War is far more drastic and revolutionary than the import of the revisionist publications which appeared between 1920 and 1935. The books cited in this Bibliography will enable historians who seek the truth to undertake this novel and exciting intellectual adventure in a realistic and informed manner.

The majority of the volumes listed in this Bibliography deal with the second World War. In the light of the fact that there has been a recent effort on the part of some writers and publishers to discredit the revisionism of 1920-1935 and return to the myths and propaganda of 1914-1919, the Bibliography leads off with an ample selection of the chief books which, in an earlier generation, set forth the assured facts on the events that followed June, 1914.

CONTROLS FOR OUTER SPACE
by PHILIP C. JESSUP AND HOWARD J. TAUBENFELD

The growing effort to conquer outer space brings with it overwhelming problems of control. This book considers how the United Nations and other international organizations can help to find solutions for the control of outer space. The authors look to the precedent set during the IGY in Antarctica and to other instances of international cooperation. A pioneering book of vital interest to all concerned with the conquest of unknown worlds.

RACE RELATIONS AND AMERICAN LAW
by JACK GREENBERG

This book is the only up-to-date treatise on the law of race relations in the United States. Mr. Greenberg, who argued in the School Segregation Cases before the United States Supreme Court, here assesses the current situation in relation to the American ideal of human equality. Identifying the fundamental principles on which the law of our land is based, Mr. Greenberg ventures predictions as to the future course of that law. This book should be read by all socially conscious individuals to learn what the law is, what it is likely to be in the future, and the assistance it gives to help solve the dilemma of race relations.

MAN, THE STATE, AND WAR
by KENNETH N. WALTZ

The inseparable questions of the causes of war and the conditions for peace are seen through the eyes of political philosophers and social scientists such as Spinoza, Kant, Rousseau, and Reinhold Niebuhr. By analyzing the views of modern social scientists, liberals, and socialists, Dr. Waltz develops a systematic and thought-provoking approach to international relations. $5.50

THE CONSERVATIVE ILLUSION
by M. MORTON AUERBACH

A provocative evaluation of Conservatism in general and the “New Conservatism” in particular. The inconsistencies of contemporary Conservatism, says the author, are worse than they ever have been, because the realities of the twentieth century are further from Conservative ideals than those of any other period in history. This is particularly true in the United States, where the “New Conservatism” is a motley collection of mutually contradictory and internally inconsistent fragments. A challenging criticism of Conservatism.

AMERICAN DIPLOMACY
A HISTORY

By ROBERT H. FERRELL, Indiana University

A vividly-written text that is already setting new standards for the teaching of American diplomatic history. Suitable for both one- and two-semester courses, American Diplomacy has been hailed as the first textbook in the field to combine comprehensive treatment of the period from the American Revolution to the War with Spain with a proper emphasis on American foreign relations in the twentieth century.

Division of Social Science

Harpur College
The State University of New York

- Greatly expanded treatment of early Russia giving better overall balance to the text. Several chapters rewritten to give improved coverage to the developments from pre-tsarist times to the period of Peter The Great, including more detailed accounts of the Mongol Conquest and other important events.

- More accurate and detailed account of the rulers of ancient Russia—their times, lives, and influence.

- Up-to-date material on the modern period discussing Khrushchev and other recent developments within and without the Soviet Union.

- Four-color map insertion to provide a vivid and brilliant depiction of Soviet history.

- New illustrations and other data add more complete documentation to the new edition.

THE AMERICAN STORY

By ROBERT E. RIEGEL, Dartmouth College; and DAVID F. LONG, University of New Hampshire

Here is a vivid re-creation of the American story—a full and fascinating description of American life, its culture, its relationship with the rest of the world, and the personalities who have played a significant role in its growth.

VOLUME I. YOUTH (522 pages, $6.25)—from early exploration to 1877. It carries the American story through the political reconstruction following the Civil War.

VOLUME II. MATURITY (544 pages, $6.25) continues the national story of the United States from 1877 to the present. The basic trends are the development of an industrialized, urban, highspeed civilization and leadership in world affairs. Separate Workbooks are available: "A Student Guide to the American Story" Volume I—by Brown & Stewart—$1.75, Volume II—by McCoy & Fausold—$1.75.

A PREFACE TO HISTORY

By CARL GUSTAVSON, Ohio University. 244 pages, $4.00 (paper edition, $2.90)

This unique text for introductory European or world history courses seeks to teach the historical approach by describing such general concepts as the relationship of past to present, the nature of social forces, causation, change, and continuity. The chapters parallel the successive periods studied in Modern European History.

AMERICAN CIVILIZATION: A History of the United States

By WESLEY M. GEWEHR, DONALD C. GORDON, DAVID S. SPARKS, and ROLAND N. STROMBERG, all at the University of Maryland. 664 pages, $6.90

A basic college text showing the significant trends, meanings, and interpretations of the nation's history from colonial times through the Korean War and its aftermath. The approach is radically new, in that the student learns American history by means of basic themes around which the narrative is woven. Each chapter is a unit in itself.

THE UNITED STATES IN WORLD HISTORY

By JOHN B. RAE and THOMAS H. D. MAHONEY, both of the Massachusetts Institute of Technology. Second Edition. 842 pages, $7.50

Presents the growth of the U.S. as a part of the larger Western civilization through the 19th century, and of world civilization since. It emphasizes interrelationships of ideas and historical forces between the U.S. and the world, showing the contributions both to and from Americans. Political, social, economic, intellectual and cultural factors are covered from 1492 to the Eisenhower administration.

SINCE 1900: A History of the United States in Our Times, Third Edition
by Barck and Blake
1959, 855 pp., $7.00

Emphasizing the widening scope of American government, this text views the present age in light of the shifting political movements, literary trends, and social reforms of the past half-century.

"... its style is smooth, fast and interesting, which makes for easy reading. The authors have done a workmanlike job in connecting the jumbled events of the past ... and cogently relating them to present conditions ..."

Robert O. Mead, World Affairs

COLONIAL AMERICA
by Barck and Lefler
1958, 767 pp., $7.50

A well-organized history of early America, this text discusses the economic, social, and cultural factors contributing to the development of the colonies. Incorporating the most recent scholarship and research in the field, including the findings of such eminent scholars as Andrews, Osgood, and Beer, the authors give a straightforward, unbiased picture of colonial times.

WESTWARD EXPANSION, Second Edition
by Billington
To be published March, 1960

This popular account of the frontier movement traces American expansion from the establishment of the first outpost to the close of the nineteenth century. Over 90 pages of bibliography, completely revised and brought up to date, are featured in this new revision.
