GENERAL INFORMATION

HEADQUARTERS: Headquarters will be located in the San Francisco Hilton Hotel, Mason and O'Farrell Streets, immediately next to the downtown airport terminal, where buses travel to and from the San Francisco International Airport every few minutes. The AHA offices and the press room will be on the Hilton's fourth floor (Teakwood and Rosewood Suites), the registration desk and locator file on the ballroom floor (West Lounge), the exhibits on the lobby floor and ballroom floor (Hilton Plaza and Franciscan Room), and the Professional Register on the ballroom floor (Imperial Ballroom).

In addition to the San Francisco Hilton, blocks of rooms have been reserved for the membership in the following hotels: Californian, Fairmont, St. Francis, and Stewart. All of these hotels are close to the Hilton. Members who have not yet reserved local hotel accommodation should send their hotel reservation form (enclosed in the September Newsletter) to the AHA Housing Bureau, c/o San Francisco Convention & Visitors Bureau, 260 Fox Plaza, San Francisco, California 94102.

GROUP FLIGHTS: Arrangements have been made to provide group flights to the meeting from Atlanta, Baltimore, Boston, Chicago, Dallas, New York, and Philadelphia. For further details please see the announcement in the September Newsletter, or write directly to Tailored Travel and Tours (AHA Group Travel), 1440 Pennington Road, Trenton, New Jersey 08618.

AHA REGISTRATION: The registration desk will be in the East Lounge of the ballroom floor of the Hilton for those members who have not preregistered for the meeting. The registration counters will be open Thursday, December 27, from 2:00 to 9:00 p.m.; Friday, December 28, from 8:00 a.m. to 6:00 p.m.; Saturday, December 29, from 8:30 a.m. to 4:00 p.m.; and Sunday, December 30, from 8:30 a.m. to 12:00 noon. Registration fee is $6.00 for AHA members and $10.00 for nonmembers; students $3.00.

VOTING CARDS: Voting cards will be given out at registration at the meeting.

LOCATOR FILE: No locator list will be printed in advance of the meeting. A locator file will be maintained in the East Lounge of the ballroom floor of the Hilton, near the registration desk. To insure the rapid flow of information into the file, duplicate locator slips will be used. Registrants at the meeting will fill out these duplicate locator slips as part of their multiple copy registration form.

PROFESSIONAL REGISTER: Throughout the annual meeting the Professional Register will be located in the Imperial Ballroom at the Hilton Hotel. It will be in operation Thursday, December 27, from 2:00 p.m. to 6:00 p.m.; Friday, December 28, from 9:00 a.m. to 6:00 p.m.; Saturday, December 29, 9:00 a.m. to 3:00 p.m.; and Sunday, December 30, from 9:00 a.m. to 12 noon.

CHILD CARE CENTER: A child care center will be in operation at the Hilton Hotel on Thursday, December 27, from 7:30 p.m. to 11:00 p.m.; Friday, December 28, from 9:00 a.m. to 11:00 p.m.; Saturday, December 29, from 9:00 a.m. to 11:00 p.m.; and Sunday, December 30, from 9:00 a.m. to 3:00 p.m. There will be a fee of seventy-five cents per hour. Further details and preregistration forms may be obtained from Ms. Ellen T. Huppert, 1490 Willard Street, San Francisco, California 94117. The deadline for registration is Monday, December 10.
INFORMATION DESK AND BULLETIN BOARDS: Information regarding the annual meeting, the American Historical Association, and San Francisco—including a specially prepared guide to restaurants and other local attractions—will be available at the Information Desk located in the Promenade at the rear of the Hilton lobby. Bulletin boards for notices of special meetings, messages, etc., will be adjacent to the Information Desk.

WOMEN HISTORIANS: A room where women historians can gather and all historians can get information on women's history groups will be maintained throughout the annual meeting in the Shasta Room, fourth floor of the Hilton. It will be open on Thursday, December 27, from 7:00 to 10:00 p.m.; Friday, December 28, from 9:00 a.m. to 10:00 p.m.; Saturday, December 29, from 9:00 a.m. to 10:00 p.m.; and Sunday, December 30, from 9:00 a.m. to 5:00 p.m.

Women historians will also maintain an information desk near the registration desk, West Lounge of the ballroom floor of the Hilton.

MEAL MEETINGS: All luncheons are scheduled for 12:15 p.m. Tickets may be purchased at the meal ticket desk adjacent to the registration desk on the ballroom floor, East Lounge of the Hilton. Payment will be accepted in cash only, to avoid delays at the meal ticket desk. All payments must be in United States currency.

Arrangements for meal meetings must be conducted directly between the organization and the hotel where the meeting will be held. The persons to contact are as follows:

Mr. Frank Karlinger, Director of Catering; or
Mr. Rene Gregorius, Manager of Catering

Since the program of the annual meeting is on an earlier schedule this year for the sake of better mail delivery in the fall, I write this report in mid-summer on essentially the academic year 1972–73. For the association it has been again a year of somewhat reduced operations, because of both a need for economy and a staff sabbatical. Yet what staff and committees have attempted has proved in nearly all cases particularly satisfying, evidently because needs are plainer and cooperation more quickly given in these days of job shortages and related stringencies for the academic profession. The increasingly good cooperation by departments with the association’s Employment Information Bulletin is typical of much else this past year.

To speak first of financial matters, the year has ended again with a deficit, substantial but not necessarily alarming for a year of special effort on the concerns of women historians, and of special expenses in weighing possible reforms and reorganization through (and occasioned by) the Review Board. It is abundantly clear that as things stand the association does not have margins to permit further special efforts without outside funding. But the ending of the year with income from dues slightly above the budget estimate is reassuring testimony that the association is centrally strong enough to continue and improve its basic services to the profession.

Priority in program has gone this year to the work directed by the Committee on Women Historians and led by Dr. Charlotte Quinn as half-time special member of our staff. The women’s roster has had a highly successful year, proving itself to departments as a direct means of responding efficiently to the requirements for affirmative action laid down by the federal government, and to other interested associations as a model. Ms. Quinn’s work has benefited from the excellent relations she has developed and maintained with similar offices in other organizations. The association is grateful to her for a year’s devoted and intelligent work, and for her success in her last days of work in arranging (1) for efficient and economical handling of the roster with the University of Maryland’s computer center, and (2) for initial study of the employment situation by Ms. P. R. Dubuisson over the summer, using data collected previously.

As of this writing the office looks forward to being joined as of September 1 by Ms. Eleanor Straub as assistant executive secretary, to carry forward Ms. Quinn’s efforts and also to work with other association committees on professional matters. For lack of staff support the Committee on Ph.D. Programs in History has marked time in 1972–73, so that it begins the academic year with a meeting on September 8 and a full agenda. Word from the ad hoc Committee on the Rights of Historians is that it is about to bring in its report, which promises to be of considerable value.

In the area of the association’s concerns for the improvement of history teaching, the main event is the ten-day conference at the California Institute of Technology this August, of teachers of history from Great Britain and the United States generally, arranged at the initiative of British officials by Eugene Asher—which ensures its close relation to the AHA’s History Education Project of the past few years. This is the first chance for those concerned with history teaching in this country to draw on the experience of their counterparts in Britain, and the quality of the program and of the list of participants ensures profit for both visitors and hosts. The British, for example, have for two years been publishing through their Historical Association an excellent journal called Teaching History, while out at Long Beach, California, the journal called The History Teacher, previously developed singlehandedly by Leon L. Bernard at the University of Notre Dame, seems to have struck vigorous root—the only such effort by American historians now in actual operation. Plans call for a second conference next year in York, England, involving many of the same participants, and the hope is that similar means of communication can be maintained thereafter.

Eugene Asher has been able to keep in contact over the past twelve months with many of the participants in the former History Education Project, although funding for it has run out. The assumption this spring by the Indiana University Audio-Visual Center of responsibility for the Feature Film Project has revived hopes that its film cartridges and booklets can now yield “pilot project” experience on the use of film-plus-readings for homework and course papers in college courses.

On no other problem area as much as on teaching has the AHA co-operated with other scholarly associations these past eight years, and the good relations and understandings generated by the Consortium of Professional Associations (conpass) in 1966–71 have continued despite the ending of Office of Education support. The meetings every two or three weeks currently of the less formalized Consortium of Social Science Associations (cossa) made it this year easy to arrange a workshop conference early in May at Muncie, Indiana, to introduce selected persons from associations’ committees on teaching to the workings and problems of the National Council for the Accreditation of Teacher Education (ncate). The next step is to be a similar meeting, under scholarly auspices, to explore further ways in which the disciplines may better contribute to the improvement of teacher education in the face of the current pressures and changes.

Back in 1965 historians contributed behind the scenes to the shaping of the NDEA summer institutes, the last notable program to call out energies in higher education generally for the improvement of teaching. The contrast today is great. This June the Office of Education's "Undergraduate Preparation of Educational Personnel" program was given the green signal at the very last moment and then closed down without any grants whatever being made. The modest grant programs of the new Fund for the Improvement of Postsecondary Education and of the new National Institute of Education were launched this year without giving any opening for persons concerned with improving the quality of the subject matters being learned or to be learned. In the July 30 issue of the Chronicle of Higher Education the minority staff director of the House of Representatives Committee on Education and Labor himself called on American higher education not only to organize itself to influence the government's education policy, but specifically to include in the effort the discipline-based national associations like the AHA. The American Council on Education, the most obvious channel for such an effort, has been moving in this direction of collaboration, and last fall asked me to head an ad hoc committee to explore ways of better integrating the national associations' concerns into its own functioning. In a number of practical ways our association is uniquely placed to do something about the interests both of historians' societies and of the humanities disciplines in Washington.

Developments closer to the research interests of our members have therefore also involved contacts with the federal government. A better sense of how to report our concerns to Congress has thus far done no more than lay groundwork of support for the one project that would seem most important to us, the National Historical Records Program provided for in a bill introduced by Senator Edward Brooke. With many offices preoccupied over problems like Watergate, the long-range importance of this program for our nation is requiring tactful reiteration.

But a grant was at last obtained early this summer, from the National Endowment for the Humanities, for a small but significant project: the annual production by computer of a Writings on American History that builds on the lists of journal articles in the AHR, about which Mr. Webb is reporting as editor. This was only one of many matters that received close attention at an April meeting of the Committee on Information Services under the chairmanship of Walter Rundell.

Having last fall suffered through illness a loss of the services of Clarence Ver Steeg, the association was most fortunate that Richard B. Morris was free and willing to succeed him as chairman of the ad hoc Committee on the Commemoration of the American Revolution Bicentennial. Aided by a generous $2500 grant from the National Endowment to permit more committee activity this spring, Morris and his committee have been able to take the initiative in establishing scholarly contacts around this country and abroad that envisage serious bicentennial activities. Cooperation and support has been generously forthcoming from the Organization of American Historians, and staff work for this committee was most alertly and ably provided by Edward C. Papenfuse up to his resignation in July. A further grant from the Endowment for the committee’s activities is hoped for.

The AHA—OAH—SAA Joint Committee on Historians and Archives, replacing the former Committee on the Historian and the Federal Government, has proved important as means of communication and action on matters of common concern, thanks partly to the wise and considerate initiatives of Thomas Clark in this his concluding year as OAH executive secretary. Following the new presidential regulations of last year on security classification, the declassification by the government of its accumulated confidential documents has been going forward in somewhat promising fashion. But the committee necessarily remains watchful and concerned over the problem of adequate access for historians.

Under the auspices of the Committee on International Historical Activities, I accompanied a small group of historians, two Americanists, two Russianists, and one economic historian, to Moscow in October for the interesting experience of the first Soviet-American historians' colloquium in what is expected to be a biennial series. Appropriate steps have been taken during the year for American participation in the program of the next International Congress, which is to be held in San Francisco August 22–29, 1975. On the other hand, detailed plans for the Congress's local arrangements have had to be deferred pending confirmation of the desired funding. The Council at its Chicago meeting in May, meanwhile, has appointed Richard B. Schlatter to have charge of these arrangements, together with a small committee with whom he is to consult.

Other committees have proceeded with activities related to historical research work. The Committee on Documentary and TV Films has located a certain amount of definite support in Congress for its project of establishing in the Library of Congress a systematic archive of evening news programs over the television networks. By action of the Council in December, welcomed by the American Society for Legal History, the Committee on the Littleton-Griswold Fund has been converted into a joint committee with that society, to permit more effective use of the modest income from that fund.

On the basis of Council approval last December, plans are laid to convert the AHA Newsletter next January to a monthly, with a format more like a newspaper. Since additional staff time is not available, no major change in its contents is planned. Ms. Janet C. Hayman as editor, moreover, is impressed by evidence that different segments of the AHA membership are by now strongly attached to its various features. But the new format will permit more up-to-date reporting of the concerns and projects of association committees, as well as quicker word to the profession of relevant news reaching the Washington office.

The annual meeting in New Orleans proved, as expected, to be one of the most pleasant to attend in recent memory. Pierre Laurent and his committee had prepared an interesting program of 123 sessions, while Bennett H. Wall as local arrangements chairman saw to the countless and troublesome practical details for a successful meeting. The staff hopes that for this next December's meeting members will avail themselves of the charter flights to San Francisco. These flights, if they do not fail for lack of patronage, will make the trip to San Francisco possible for many who could not otherwise afford it.

The annual meeting this year should be a memorable one since the recommendations of the Review Board are to come up for direct and definitive discussion at the business session on the afternoon of the 29th. The Board's final report goes to all members this fall and is sufficient testimony in itself of the intelligence and hard work that the Board has contributed to its task—a task which comes not oftener than once a generation in the continuing life of the AHA. Every effort will be made to reserve virtually all of the business meeting, which begins at 3:30 p.m., for attention to the Board's concerns; the necessary report of recent Council actions will, for example, take the form of mimeographed sheets available as the meeting begins.

My thanks to my colleagues are particularly heartfelt as I complete this, my eighth annual accounting of my responsibilities. The Council has devoted more time and serious attention to association business in bringing needed clarity to problems of central administration and policy than any of its predecessors in my experience. As editor and colleague, Robert Webb has been stimulating and helpful in common efforts to raise the quality of association operations. The rest of the staff, and especially Eileen Gaylard, have been unfailingly dependable and good to work with. I am especially grateful to John Rumbarger for his colleagueship and the energy and acumen he brought to bear on so many association concerns during his four years, now completed, as assistant executive secretary. Finally, I appreciate very much the assurance from the Council on the association's behalf that, while I shall gratefully turn over the executive secretaryship next year to a successor, I shall be free to serve the AHA until my proper retirement date of February 1976. It has been a great satisfaction and honor to work for the association these past years.

Paul L. Ward, Executive Secretary
REPORT OF THE EDITOR, 1973

A report written by an editor on sabbatical leave might appropriately be defined as motion recollected in tranquility. But, thanks in part to editorial work brought along or editorial work in hot pursuit, the tranquility has proved almost as elusive as the suggestion of motion must appear unconvincing to authors of articles who had often to wait as much as twice as long as usual for decisions or to authors of books, reviews of which have not yet appeared. If the year 1972 proved anything, it was that no one person can now oversee the affairs of both the AHA and the AHR, without seriously neglecting more than one obligation. The argument made on Dr. Winkler's resignation for moving to a full-time editorship rested not merely on the obvious inefficiencies and overcommitments of a part-time editorship but on the positive expectation that the editorship should be reflective and imaginative, not hurried and bureaucratic—an expectation increased by the altered arrangements after 1969 that made the editor publisher of the AHR as well. Brief experience has convinced me that the same argument applies a fortiori to the executive secretaryship—a post of multiple responsibilities and rapidly expanding definition—which must be more amply backed by staff resources than has proved possible in the past. In any revision of the structure of the AHA this seems to me to claim first priority.

Technically I was absolved of double duty on Dr. Ward's welcome return from sabbatical leave in August 1972. But many matters raised in the preceding six months spilled over far into the fall and winter of 1972, while winter and spring were complicated by demands arising from two important reassessments of the AHA and of the place of the AHR within it—the preliminary report of the Review Board, published in November 1972, and the searching reappraisal made by the Council and a subcommittee chaired by Professor V. H. McNeill in the spring of 1973. The Council determined, quite rightly, that it should periodically review the operations of the AHR, and while the staff and I had every confidence in our record over the past five years, the very fact of a detailed inquiry meant many meetings and more memoranda, much research and calculation, and a lot of hard thinking. All this added to the editorial backlog, itself complicated by a surprisingly high incidence of submissions in the late spring, summer, and autumn of 1972, without the slack season that is a normal (and in 1973 re-established) expectation. To all those who have had to wait unusually long for attention I apologize. Although much reorganizational work remains to be done—all of it promising, I believe, a far more effective AHR—there should be no recurrence of the blockage of the past year.

Part of this certainty arises from the good fortune of the AHA in securing the services of Professor Thomas C. Cochran as visiting editor during my absence. With his experienced and skeptical eye and without some of the duties that inevitably attach to a full-time editor in residence, Professor Cochran moved swiftly to clear up what remained undone (mostly in book assigning) on my departure from the United States in late June, and his intimate acquaintance with AHA affairs as well as his acuity as a business historian will be immense resources in the organizational work that will be going on throughout 1973–74.

The AHR and its editor continue to owe much to a hardworking and imaginative staff. But the staff of any organization these days is subject to changes; our regret at the departure of valued and experienced members of the AHR staff has, however, been tempered by the remarkable qualities that new members have brought with them. Particular note should be made of the contributions made to the AHR by Esten Hardee, who left the AHR staff in January to take over the Professional Register operation in the executive secretary’s office, and by Joan Ansheles, taken from us by marriage in April; their loyalty and cheerfulness will be seriously missed. In the reorganization that followed, Marcia Castaneda came to the AHR from the membership department, as assistant to the managing editor, and Janet Hearne came to us as assistant editor from the staff of the Booker T. Washington Papers. In the autumn Janet Hayman moved over to full-time editor of the Newsletter; another assistant editor, Randall Koladis, has been added to take up the AHR work that Mrs. Hayman did and to relieve Ann Hofstra for more attention to the pamphlet series, now moving into high gear. In July we reluctantly accepted the resignation of Edward Papenfuse as bibliographer. Dr. Papenfuse has done a remarkable job in bringing rigor and increased coverage to the bibliographical operations of the AHR; he has staffed several AHA committees with notable imagination; and it was his most important contribution to devise a means whereby the computerization of the AHR bibliographies could be used to revive, in an altered form, the annual publication of Writings on American History, abandoned in its old format for lack of funds. The value of the new project was recognized by a grant from the National Endowment for the Humanities to support its launching, and we expect that by late 1974 the new series will be established—to appear regularly a year after the year of publication of the material listed, a notable improvement on the gap of more than ten years for the old series. We all wish Dr. Papenfuse well in his new career at the Hall of Records in Annapolis, representing as he does the fruitful linkage of the archival and historical professions; and we are glad to welcome Dr. James Dougherty as his successor. Dr. Dougherty, formerly with the department of history, University of Maryland, is admirably suited to carry on the work begun so impressively by Dr. Papenfuse, not only in the Writings project and the continuing work of the bibliographical department but in the improvement of the reviewer file, whose antiquated condition and structure have been yet another cause of what must appear superficially as delinquency or lack of sensitivity on the part of the editor.

Articles in the AHR during 1973 have gone from strength to strength; that they continue to evoke wide interest argues convincingly for our success in implementing the policy laid down by the Board of Editors in 1970 with respect to articles. It is also a pleasure to report that income from advertising and subscriptions has held up very well in a time of academic and publishing recession. While the various reorganizations of the past year have been carried out with only minor adjustments in the salary budget, we must recognize the severe threat posed to the AHR and to all scholarly publications by inflation. While our record with respect to printing costs has remained remarkably stable over the past four years, the future is less encouraging. Our printer's recognized efficiency and our own quest for economies and technological improvement will keep most manufacturing costs within reason, but neither the printer nor the editor can do anything about the crisis in the paper industry, marked as it is by severe shortages, altered grading, and skyrocketing prices. An increase in subscription and advertising rates is essential, and the general impact of inflation will in time affect the dues of AHA members. But we shall do our best to maintain the present proportion of dues that go to members' subscriptions to the AHR, a journal that continues, we believe, to be a remarkable bargain.

R. K. Webb, Editor
REPORT OF THE TREASURER
FOR THE YEAR ENDED JUNE 30, 1973

At the close of the fiscal year ended June 30, 1973, the total assets of the American Historical Association amounted to $1,314,096 (1972: $1,202,681) a gain of $111,415 over the preceding year. This amount is made up of three major funds:

a) General Fund—cash, temporary, and permanent investments, the use of which for the purposes of the association is controlled by a resolution of the Council in 1960, as amended in 1973, $460,976

b) Special Funds and Grants—permanent and temporary investments restricted as to the use of income, and grants, $682,791

c) Plant Fund—property and equipment, less depreciation, $170,329

In the figures given above the book values of all permanent investments have been used. For details, attention should be given to the auditor’s report that follows. All permanent investments are in the custody of the Fiduciary Trust Company of New York under the direction of the association’s Board of Trustees. The Fiduciary Trust Company’s report is filed at the association’s headquarters and available for inspection by interested members.

The budget for 1972-73, as anticipated, showed an excess of operating expense over operating revenue, amounting to $39,804. The one case in which revenue exceeded our budgetary anticipations is significant. Our income from dues exceeded our estimate by $1,227. In spite of the excess of operating expenses over operating revenue giving a deficit of $78,177 on operations, it will be noted that nonoperating revenue amounting to $169,110 brings about a balance as of the end of the fiscal year of $90,333. This is explained in large part by the action taken by the Council authorizing the transfer of General Fund participation in permanent investments held in the Fiduciary Trust Company, Regular Accounts to the Special Funds and Grants in order to ease the tight cash position of the General Fund. Pursuant to this action, additional investments by various Special Funds and Grants approximating $155,000 were made as of June 30, 1973, resulting in an increase in participation of these funds of 18% of the total regular investment account. The cost of this portion of participation in the General Fund approximated $138,000, resulting in a gain to the General Fund through profit on the sales of approximately $17,000.

In view of the far-reaching proposals of the Review Board, now under consideration for their early implementation, the time would seem to be inopportune for any recommendations. One brief observation would seem to be justified. The association within recent years has shown an inability to hold its expenditure in line with its revenue. By a carefully considered and thoroughly discussed action of the Council, the association's debt to the Special Fund incurred through deficits in operation has been absorbed by the use of a portion of the General Fund and provision made to ease the cash situation. This has been an expensive operation which the association cannot afford to repeat. Whatever changes may be made in the association's organization and activities, they must be made within the restrictions imposed by the association's financial capacity.

In this, his final report, the retiring treasurer would like to express his sincere thanks to those who have helped him serve the association.

The Executive Council
American Historical Association

We have examined the balance sheet of the American Historical Association as of June 30, 1973, and the related statements of revenue and expenses and fund balances for the year then ended. Our examination was made in accordance with generally accepted auditing standards, and accordingly included such tests of the accounting records and such other auditing procedures as we considered necessary in the circumstances.

It has been the practice of the American Historical Association to maintain its records on a general basis of cash receipts and disbursements, except for the recognition of depreciation on the Plant Fund's depreciable assets.

In our opinion, the accompanying statements present fairly the assets and liabilities of the American Historical Association at June 30, 1973 (arising from cash transactions, except as noted in the preceding paragraph), and the related revenue collected, expenditures made, and fund balance changes during the year then ended, on a basis consistent with that of the preceding period.

SUMMARY OF ACCOUNTING POLICIES

Fund accounting—The Association records its transactions in three separate, self-balancing funds. Each fund reflects only those transactions applicable to its designated functional area.

General Fund—Reflects transactions related to the general operations of the Association.

Special Funds and Grants—Reflects transactions under various prize funds and special projects that are funded by contributions and grants (restricted as to use by the donor) as well as by revenue generated by fund activities and investments.

Plant Fund—Reflects transactions relating to the property, plant and equipment owned by the Association, as purchased through transfers from the General Fund and charged to operations by that Fund in the year of acquisition.

 Marketable securities—Marketable securities, consisting of permanent and temporary investments, are carried at cost, less amortization of bond premium.

Property, plant and equipment—Property, plant and equipment are carried at cost, with depreciation being computed on the straight-line method. When assets are disposed of, the cost and related accumulated depreciation are removed from the accounts, and any remaining net book value is deducted from the Plant Fund balance.

Income taxes—The Association is exempt from Federal income tax under Section 501(c)(3) of the Internal Revenue Code.

RETIREMENT PLAN

Eligible employees are covered by a contributory retirement plan which is funded through the purchase of individual annuity contracts from the Teachers Insurance and Annuity Association. The Association follows the practice of recording as its expense the total premiums paid on such contracts in each fiscal year. The total charges against revenue on account of retirement insurance premiums for the years ended June 30, 1973 and 1972, amounted to $14,420 and $13,876, respectively. Credits for cancellation of annuity contracts upon termination of employment may, with the consent of the Association, be paid to the individual if the annuity has not been in force for more than five years, and if the individual is not moving to another institution having the same plan. Ownership of the annuity contracts vests in the individual after it has been in force for five years. To date, the Association has received no refunds as a result of employment terminations.

ADMINISTRATIVE FEES

As a result of the overhead studies for the fiscal years ended June 30, 1969, 1970 and 1971, the Department of Health, Education and Welfare has agreed to an increase in the rate of indirect expenses to be charged by the Association on contracts awarded by the Office of Education (HEW). The agreement covers virtually all projects of the Consortium of Professional Associations for Study of Special Teacher Improvement Programs for the three-year period ended June 30, 1971. The amount of administrative fees receivable at June 30, 1973, approximated $37,000. On the cash basis, such amount is not reflected in the accompanying financial statements.

UNRECORDED LIABILITIES

At June 30, 1973, the Association had material unrecorded liabilities of approximately $38,000, representing the cost of publishing the June, 1973, issue of the American Historical Review and legal fees applicable to the fiscal year then ended. On the cash basis, such amounts will be recorded in the period in which disbursement is actually made.
THE AMERICAN HISTORICAL ASSOCIATION

Founded in 1884 Chartered by Congress in 1889
Office: 400 A Street S.E., Washington, D. C. 20003

MEMBERSHIP: Persons interested in historical studies, whether professionally or otherwise, are invited to membership. Present membership ca. 18,500. Members elect the officers by ballot.

MEETINGS: The Association holds an Annual Meeting with a three-day program, December 28–30 of each year, at which time many professional historical groups meet jointly with it. Except for 1973 when it meets with the AHA, the Pacific Coast Branch holds separate meetings in August on the Pacific Coast and publishes the Pacific Historical Review.

PUBLICATIONS AND SERVICES: The American Historical Review, published five times a year in October, December, February, April, and June, is the major professional historical journal in America. It is sent to all members and available by subscription to others. In addition, the Association publishes its Annual Report, pamphlets designed to aid teachers of history, bibliographical as well as other volumes, and the AHA Newsletter. To promote history and assist historians, the Association offers many other services.

PRIZES: The Herbert B. Adams Prize of $300 awarded annually for a work in the field of European history. The Troyer Steel Anderson Prize awarded every ten years to the person whom the Council of the Association considers to have made the most outstanding contribution to the advancement of the purposes of the Association during the preceding ten years (next award, 1980). The George Louis Beer Prize of $300 awarded annually for a work on any phase of European international history since 1895. The Albert J. Beveridge Award of $5,000 awarded annually for the best book on the history of the United States, Canada, or Latin America. The Albert B. Corey Prize, sponsored jointly by the AHA and the Canadian Historical Association, of $1,000 awarded biennially for the best book on the history of Canadian-American relation or the history of both countries (next award, 1974). The John H. Dunning Prize of $300 awarded in the even-numbered years for a book on any subject relating to American history. The John K. Fairbank Prize in East Asian History of $500 awarded in the odd-numbered years for an outstanding book in the history of China proper, Vietnam, Chinese Central Asia, Mongolia, Manchuria, Korea, or Japan, since the year 1800. The Clarence H. Haring Prize of $500 to be awarded every five years to that Latin American who has published the most outstanding book in Latin American history during the preceding five years (next award, 1976). The Howard R. Marraro Prize of $500 awarded annually for the best work on any epoch of Italian cultural history or of Italian-American relations. The Robert Livingston Schuyler Prize of $500 awarded every five years for the best work in modern British and Commonwealth history (next award, 1976). The Watumull Prize of $1,000 awarded in the even-numbered years for a work on the history of India originally published in the United States.

DUES: Annual regular dues are $20.00, student (faculty signature required), emeritus, and spouse $10.00, full professor and nonacademic $25.00, and life $400. All members receive the American Historical Review, the AHA Newsletter, and the program of the Annual Meeting, except for spouses of members who receive all membership mailings except the Review.

CORRESPONDENCE: Inquiries should be addressed to the Executive Secretary at 400 A Street S.E., Washington, D. C. 20003.

William Leo Hansberry’s African History Notebook: Africa as Seen by Classical Writers edited by Joseph Harris. William Leo Hansberry, a professor at Howard University for over 40 years and a pioneer in the study of African history, devoted his life to uncovering the secret of Africa’s past. Dispelling the notion that Africa had no culture, no civilization, in short, no history, Professor Hansberry traveled extensively into Africa and kept copious notes of all he saw and discovered. Now, for the first time, the results of his efforts are available. This volume—the first of two—presents his many years of research and scholarship and examines the view of Africa as seen by classical writers.

Joseph Harris, a professor at Williams College, has edited the many notes of Professor Hansberry and the result is a book that is not only valuable but enduring.

The Reluctant Reformers: Racism and Social Reform Movements in the United States by Robert L. Allen with the collaboration of Pamela P. Allen. This is a history of racism and the reform movement in the United States. Robert Allen, the author of Black Awakening in Capitalist America has examined the populist abolition and women’s suffrage movements in the context of their ideological and class makeup, the effect and participation of blacks in those organizations and the consequent result and relationship of the movement to Blacks.

How Europe Underdeveloped Africa by Walter Rodney. This historical volume analyzes the development of Europe and Africa and concludes that there is a relationship between the two. Dr. Rodney, a Guyanese graduate of the University of the West Indies (Jamaica), is also the author of A History of the Upper Guinea Coast 1534-1800. The present volume, however, is more expansive—setting its perimeters as far apart as the 15th Century, on the one hand, and the end of the colonial period, on the other. Written with simplicity and clarity, this book will do much to clear up the misconceptions regarding Africa’s development and will in some measure outline a path for future African development.

TUDOR DYNASTIC PROBLEMS
1467—1571
Mortimer Levine

This work is intended to supply the need for a detailed history and analysis of Tudor dynastic problems from their origin to 1460, when Richard of York asserted his claim to the crown, to 1571, when Elizabeth I's second Treasons Act virtually established parliamentary statute as the constitutional way to settle questions of succession.

VICTORIAN ENGLAND: Aspects of English and Imperial History
1837—1901
L. C. B. Seaman

By taking 1837 as his starting point the author is able to devote more time to the middle and closing years of the reign than is possible in books which attempt to cover the whole century, and he is able to show that the years after 1875 are more important than is often realized. Considers many of the social, political and imperial issues of the time: religion, economic and social problems, the ‘Age of Steam’ and ‘The Great Depression,’ foreign policy and ideas and events associated with Victorian Imperialism.

TERROR AND REPRESSION IN REVOLUTIONARY MARSEILLES
William Scott

Analyzes the origins and course at Marseilles of a revolt which aimed at overthrowing the Jacobin domination of the French Revolution, but whose defeat, however, provided conditions for the intensification of that domination as expressed in the Reign of Terror. It studies the work of the Revolutionary Tribunal of Marseilles (active in the period August 1793 to April 1794), making extensive use of the verbatim reports of the cross-examinations of men accused of counter-revolution.

THE MASSACRE OF ST. BARTHOLOMEW AND THE EUROPEAN CONFLICT 1559-1572
N. M. Sutherland

"In their treatment of the Massacre of St. Bartholomew most writers, whether historians or novelists, have been obsessed with its premeditation, organization, and individual culpability; but in this present book Dr. Sutherland clearly shows that its primary purpose was the death of Coligny, and was the direct result of the failure to assassinate him two days earlier. If Coligny had died on August 22nd 1572, it is unlikely that there would have been any massacre two days later. Dr. Sutherland reveals the principal figures—English, Spanish, and Papal, as well as French—in a new perspective, and ably delineates the complexity of policies and ambitions that divided them or brought them into brief uneasy alliance, providing a lucid understanding of one of the most important events in European history. Appendix. Bibliography. Index." —THE BOOK EXCHANGE

CREATING THE EUROPEAN COMMUNITY
R. C. Mowat. Foreword by M. Jean Rey

The theme of this volume is the fragmentation and reintegration of Europe. Dr. Mowat's broad canvas ranges from the cultural integration of the Middle Ages to the contemporary scene, and he looks to the future and Europe's role in a world society. The work traces the process whereby the fragmented Europe of the inter-war years began to be reintegrated in response to a new public opinion which grew up, partly through the resistance movement during World War Two. The contribution of leaders such as Robert Schuman, Konrad Adenauer, Jean Monnet and Andre Philip is assessed, and the importance of their work in restoring to politics the central values of the European tradition.

1973. 235 pp. $7.00
"The record of American civilization from the beginning to 1945 is here unfolded in about 2,800 pages, of which nearly 200 consist of interpretive essays on their periods by the author-editors.... The sumptuous effect is enhanced by the inclusion of generous numbers of well-reproduced black-and-white plates. Clearly here is a series which takes great pride in itself, and justly so. Not merely does it make newly available an enormous number of first-rate documents for the classroom teacher of American cultural, intellectual, and social history, but it must be seen as something of a contemporary interpretation of its whole subject. The editors are among the most up-and-coming younger historians in their field...."

THE ORIGINS OF MODERN MEXICO

Announcing a new monographic series under the general editorship of Laurens Ballard Perry, University of the Americas, Puebla, Mexico. The editorial board consists of Richard E. Greenleaf, Tulane University; Charles A. Hale, University of Iowa; Michael C. Meyer, University of Arizona; and others to be announced.

This series will explore a number of varied topics dealing specifically with President Porfirio Díaz (1867-1910) and generally with Porfirian society—economics, politics, philosophy, culture—from the approach of understanding the Mexican past in relation to contemporary Mexico. All archival sources including the personal papers of President Díaz are used to counter earlier attempts which either glorify or vilify the Porfirian period; this series will instead—free of revolutionary passion—approach the genesis of a new nation as the Mexicans of that day experienced it.

IN PREPARATION Publication dates to be announced

We are pleased to announce the forthcoming publication of two new volumes dealing with Bartolomé de Las Casas. The first is the DEFENSE AGAINST THE PERSECUTORS AND SLANDERERS OF THE PEOPLES OF THE NEW WORLD DISCOVERED ACROSS THE SEAS: The Disputation Between Bartolomé de Las Casas and Juan Ginés de Sepúlveda on the Intellectual and Religious Capacity of the American Indians, written by Bartolomé de Las Casas in Spanish between 1548 and 1550 (no known copy of this original exists) and translated into Latin probably sometime in 1552 or early 1553. The forthcoming edition, edited, translated, and annotated by Stafford Poole, C.M., is based on the only surviving Latin text, which is in the Bibliothèque Nationale, Paris. It is to be published in 1974 in commemoration of the five hundredth anniversary of the great bishop’s birth. We estimate a volume of some 600 pages.

Professor Lewis Hanke has written our second new volume, a 240-page introduction entitled ALL MANKIND IS ONE, in which he explains the nature of the Indians according to the Spaniards, sets forth the position of Sepúlveda, analyzes Las Casas’s treatise, and describes the aftermath of the conflict.

Both volumes will be published simultaneously in a design and format similar to those of BARTOLOMÉ DE LAS CASAS: Toward an Understanding of the Man and His Work, edited by Juan Friede and Benjamin Keen.

ALL MANKIND IS ONE, Hanke: ISBN 0-87580-043-2 $15.00 minorities, women, and social history and stresses the significance of past history to present-day problems. Photo essays based on the Preamble to the Constitution provide dramatic commentary for student thought and reaction. Provocative questions in each part Introduction stimulate students to reassess the past in terms of the present and future.

1973, 630 pages, illustrated, paper $6.95

NEW
The Third Edition of The Democratic Experience is now available in a Two-Volume
Edition for two-semester or two-quarter American history courses.

Volume I: The Founding of America to 1877
Rather than conforming to the traditional Civil War break, Volume I covers American History from the founding of the nation through the Reconstruction period.
This enables first-semester students to get the complete perspective on the Civil War and its resulting repercussions on the nation. The text retains the same visual and structural features of the single-volume edition.

1973, 336 pages, illustrated, paper $3.95

Volume II: 1861 to the Present
Volume II begins with the Civil War and Reconstruction, overlapping the first volume. This allows flexibility in a starting point for second-semester courses. In addition to thorough coverage of the Age of Industrialism and both World Wars, up-to-the-minute information has been added, such as a section dealing with withdrawal from Vietnam and a mention of the Watergate scandal.

1974, approx. 400 pages, illustrated, paper, approx. $3.95

Herbert H. Rowen and Carl J. Ekberg's
EARLY MODERN EUROPE: A Book of Source Readings
These source readings (over 100) are wide ranging, encompassing social, economic, and political matters as well as the purely intellectual. They are, however, confined to the types of materials that can be grasped by the student solely within the framework of this book.
The purpose of the book is twofold: First, to present materials conveying a sense of immediacy, a sense of the past come alive. Second, to give the student raw materials with which professional historians themselves work.

Rondo Cameron's
CIVILIZATION SINCE WATERLOO: A Book of Source Readings
A companion volume to Early Modern Europe, the two together are eminently suitable for a course in modern Europe.
These sources (almost 250) are characterized by the same fine balance among social, intellectual, political, economic and cultural materials as Early Modern Europe.
Divided into topical and chronological chapters, each having its own general introduction. Each document within the chapter is preceded by an introduction relating it to the other documents in the chapter and to the general trend of events considered in the chapter. Most of the documents have never before been published in a similar format.

WORKERS AND PROTEST: The European Labor Movement, the Working Classes, and the Origins of Social Democracy, 1890-1914
By Harvey Mitchell, University of British Columbia and Peter N. Stearns, Rutgers University
Introduced by Robert Wohl, this is the first study of a subject which presents two independently conceived treatments of a single theme. Readers are asked to consider the theses argued by each of the authors. In the debate which follows, the authors try to reassess their positions and refute one another's claims.

THE WEST OF THE AMERICAN PEOPLE
Allan G. Bogue, Thomas D. Phillips and James E. Wright, editors
This is one of the most comprehensive collection of selections from outstanding literature on western development available in one volume. The editors have written extended introductions which actually constitute a short history of the role of western development on our national history. They combine these introductions with selections from some sixty scholars into a flexible topical framework. The book may be taught chronologically as well.

THE SHAPING OF THE AMERICAN PAST

by Robert Kelley, University of California, Santa Barbara

"How did we become what we are? The answer lies in examining the experiences we have passed through."—Robert Kelley does this and more in his excitingly fresh new narrative of American history. The author examines not only the standard chronology of events—continental expansion, social and institutional evolution, national events of significance, and increasingly complex international relations—but also the larger history of ideas and of cultural influences and effects. For him, it is the cultural pattern of American politics that gives order and coherence to the apparently disconnected issues and crises of America's history. For example, the people and events of early America are nothing more than narrow islands in time without their backgrounds and inheritances from England. Thus, the author begins with a complete discussion of England—socially, economically, religiously, and politically—at the time of American exploration.

Analysis and interpretation go beyond the major figures in America; they extend to the different cultural and ethnic groups—blacks, women, Indians, and the religious sects—whose interaction and segregation shaped the America we know today. The conflict between racial and ethnic prejudice and democratic values is a major theme of the book.

As a comparative history of this nation, this is the first text to provide an encompassing understanding of the nation's past as a means of comprehending the present.

FEATURES:
- Pictorial vignettes illustrating a major theme in each chapter
- Time line of events in each chapter
- Historiographical essay of suggested readings in each chapter
- Introduction describing the historian's task
- Final chapter essay providing a historical perspective
- 70 maps

In a thoughtful re-interpretation of Western Civilization, the authors offer new insights to help students understand why and how events occurred. The text shows the importance of social and cultural history and the underlying economic base within a political framework. For every period the authors provide a sense for the total life of the past, not simply a familiarity with particular events or facts.

Sixty-four pages of five-color art, selected by the distinguished art historian H. W. Janson, are included in four sixteen-page portfolios, each of which is accompanied by a lengthy essay in which Professor Janson draws the relationship between the art of the period and man’s changing image of himself and his society. In addition, there are 130 pages of black and white art. Over sixty two-color maps have been designed and supervised by D. W. Meinig, Maxwell Professor of Geography, Syracuse University. The entire illustration program has been carefully designed to extend and complement the text narrative. Instructor’s Manual available.

Studies in World Civilization

Eugene Rice, Columbia University, Consulting Editor

Brief introductions to selected topics in the respective histories of Africa, Asia and Latin America. The books are written to enrich a student's understanding of these non-Western areas, but the treatment is explicitly comparative so that the student can contrast the parallel period (or issue) with developments in the West. Hence, the books are appropriate for either Western or World Civilization courses. The series includes, to date:

The Western World

THE DEVELOPMENT OF MODERN CIVILIZATION (1300-PRESENT)

Arthur Joseph Slavin, University of California at Irvine and James Hardy, Louisiana State University

From Feudalism to Globalism — the social, cultural, economic and political "modernization" of Europe. Part I., "The First Great Transformation" (1300-1600) approaches analytically the emergence of towns in Feudal Europe, and their development into modern nation-states. Part II., "The Modern World" (1600-present) describes chronologically the shifting patterns among European states and the emergence of continuing Global crises.

The Middle Ages
SECOND EDITION

Volume I: Sources of Medieval History
Volume II: Readings in Medieval History

Edited by Brian Tierney, Cornell University

A thorough revision. New topics covered in Volume I include life in a Carolingian Abbey, the career of a twelfth-century merchant, and attitudes toward Jews in the thirteenth century. The sections on Charlemagne's coronation and the Investiture Contest have been expanded, and there are new readings from Bonaventura, John Buridan and Nicholas Oresmen. Volume II offers new readings by Henri Pirenne, Daniel Dennett, Christopher Dawson, Bruce Lyon, David Herlihy, Marc Bloch, Georges Duby, Richard Southern, Eva Sanford, Gaines Pose and Etienne Gilson. Ideal for use with Western Europe in the Middle Ages (Brian Tierney, Cornell University, and Sidney Painter; Knopf, 1970).

The Dynamics of Ascent: American Economic History
W. Elliot Brownlee, University of California, Santa Barbara
An interpretive survey of American economic development, from British North American expansion to "Nixonomics." Focusing on economic growth, economic stability, and the distribution of income and wealth, Professor Brownlee describes economic development both through the use of economic analysis and with reference to the changing contours of American society. Attention is given throughout to the economic participation of immigrants, women, and Blacks. Drawing on recent and traditional scholarship, the author examines in depth such contemporary economic problems as the difficulty of maintaining full employment with price stability; determination of an appropriate role for the U.S. on an international level; poverty; and the environmental crisis. Suggested readings; tables and charts; overview, beginning each large chronological unit; footnotes; illustrations.

From Slavery to Freedom
FOURTH EDITION

John Hope Franklin, University of Chicago

The classic history, generally regarded by serious scholars as the most comprehensive and scholarly detailed synthesis of the Afro-American experience. The new revised edition is shorter by some 120 pages than previous editions; several chapters have been combined, and the material on African origins has been extensively revised to incorporate much recent scholarship. The final chapter, "The Black Revolution," gives much greater attention to the emergence of the community of Black Americans, by analyzing the stresses and strains that produced the current Black Revolution in America.

American Epoch
A HISTORY OF THE
UNITED STATES SINCE 1900
FOURTH EDITION, REVISED

Arthur S. Link, Princeton University and
William B. Catton, Middlebury College

A thorough revision of a perennially popular text. The material in the previous edition has been considerably shortened by the elimination of excessive detail and a tightening of the prose style, so that even with the addition of sections on the final years of the Johnson Administration and an entire new chapter on the Nixon years, the present edition is slightly shorter than its predecessor. Other additions include new sections on the dynamics of progressivism and the struggle for Women's Rights; a new assessment of the Harding Administration; and a new treatment of the Cold War.

Please write: Robert Jordan, Dept. CJ-714, College Division, PRENTICE-HALL, Englewood Cliffs, New Jersey 07632
Volume VII of Perspectives will contain a collection of essays on the history of population movements and patterns of emigration as they relate to the eventual recruitment of the population of the United States. The essays focus not upon the process of assimilating immigrant groups after their arrival in the United States but rather upon the projective forces, direct or indirect, that set people in motion in their lands of origin. An introductory essay by the editors discusses the general demographic patterns disclosed by the essays and analyzes the forces that shaped these patterns.

Venice, a Maritime Republic
FREDERIC C. LANE
A monumental achievement by one of the world's foremost authorities on the history of Venice. Among the cities men have built, Venice was supreme as a symbol of beauty, wise government, and innovative economic institutions. Lane places maritime matters at the center of his narrative, and around them he weaves a fascinating account of the city's life and fortunes from the beginning of the Republic through the eighteenth century. Illustrated. $17.50, $6.95 paper

METANOLOGICAL SOCIOLOGY
An Essay on the Interpretation of Historical Data and the Phenomena of Collective Behavior
FRED WEINSTEIN and GERALD M. PLATT
Can psychoanalytic techniques be used to interpret group and mass phenomena? In this innovative study, the authors argue that they can. They develop a new sociological theory of psychological constructs that provides the basis for a systematic analysis of collective behavior in history in psychosocial terms. $8.50, $2.50 paper

Metahistory: The Historical Imagination in Nineteenth-Century Europe
HAYDEN WHITE
Metahistory proposes an innovative theory of the poetic nature of historical narrative and is a unique attempt to define deep structures of historical consciousness. White studies the thought of four great historians (Michelet, Ranke, Tocqueville, and Burckhardt) and of four philosophers of history (Hegel, Marx, Nietzsche, and Croce). $15.00

SOVIET-AMERICAN CONFRONTATION
Postwar Reconstruction and the Origins of the Cold War

Frederick Law Olmsted
A Biography
LAURA WOOD ROPER
Best known as the designer of Central Park and the architect of the national park system, Olmsted also played a prominent role in movements that helped reshape American society—anti-slavery, philanthropy, conservation, and urban planning. In the first definitive biography of Olmsted, Laura Roper brings to life a man of great vision and an era of immense importance in American history. "The book is massive, monumental, and magnificent."—DANA F. WHITE, Atlanta University and Emory University

THE POLITICS OF CONTINUITY
Maryland Political Parties from 1858 to 1870
JEAN H. BAKER
Jean Baker challenges the assumption that the Civil War marked a major turning point in American political history. She demonstrates that political realignment in Maryland came on the eve of the war, and that patterns established then persisted throughout the 1860s. In the Goucher College Series

FREE MEN ALL
The Personal Liberty Laws of the North: 1780–1861
THOMAS D. MORRIS
In this first comprehensive study of the Personal Liberty Laws, Morris argues that they represented a broad social commitment to the traditional guarantees of freedom ultimately nationalized in the 14th Amendment, and that the legal conflict they represented contributed to the growing crisis that divided the nation in the Civil War.

From Confederation To Nation
The American Constitution, 1835–1877
BERNARD SCHWARTZ
In the years between 1835 and the end of Reconstruction, American democracy was put to the test of fire. Out of these four decades came a "second Constitution," and a nation, not a mere confederation of states. Professor Schwartz's book offers a new constitutional approach to Reconstruction. He shows how the Supreme Court laid the groundwork for Constitutional amendments which made enforcement of civil rights a national function.

DANIEL WEBSTER AND JACKSONIAN DEMOCRACY
SYDNEY NATHANS
Daniel Webster was a creative anachronism in the Jacksonian era; he at first resisted, and later tried to answer, the demands of the new mass politics. Professor Nathans shows how Webster's attempt to bridge old and new politics was doomed to ironic and revealing failure.

Radicalism, Racism, and Party Realignment: The Border States during Reconstruction
Richard O. Curry, Editor

These essays have won acclaim for their boldness, excellence, provocative thrust, and scholarly quality. They bring the border states into Reconstruction for the first time with a thematic approach and a precision of detail that is unmatched.

"A valuable contribution to the literature of the period." — Willie Lee Rose in Virginia Magazine of History and Biography
$10.00, $3.45 paper

From Thurmond to Wallace: Political Tendencies in Georgia, 1948–1968
Numan V. Bartley

Based on sophisticated statistical analysis, this work disputes Alexander Heard's and the late V. O. Key's thesis that a two-party system would emerge in the South and the event would liberalize southern politics. The author's challenging findings are so congruent with political trends throughout the South that his study has wide significance.

The Negro in Maryland Politics, 1870–1912
Margaret Law Callcott

With consummate skill the author has analyzed the voting statistics of the Free State and has provided us with some startling discoveries. Alone of the southern oriented and southern states, Maryland had a viable two-party system after 1870 and it was due to the tenacity of the Blacks in registering and voting Republican.

"A significant contribution to courses in political parties and the electoral process, political behavior, and political dynamism, but [also] to Negro history. It should be required reading." — Robert Lewis Gill, in American Political Science Review

The White Man's Burden

Historical Origins of Racism in the United States

By WINTHROP D. JORDAN, University of California, Berkeley. A provocative attempt to demonstrate that American racism has its roots in the earliest period of the nation's history. Professor Jordan traces the evolution of white racial attitudes toward blacks from Elizabethan England to the War of 1812, marshalling a persuasive body of evidence that notions of racial superiority and inferiority came to the New World with its earliest European and African settlers. Much of the material in this book has been derived from Jordan's award-winning study White Over Black: American Attitudes Toward the Negro, 1550-1812. Designed for the student at the undergraduate or secondary level, as well as the general reader, this forceful, brilliantly written study provides effective and essential background to this crucial aspect of the American character.

Family and Fortune
Studies in Aristocratic Finance in the Sixteenth and Seventeenth Centuries
LAWRENCE STONE, Princeton University. Through a series of narrative family histories, Professor Stone illustrates how such factors as personality, number and sex of children, marriage, royal favor, and financial management interacted to determine the fortunes of the elite of England’s aristocracy through the 16th and 17th centuries. Designed as a complement to Stone’s The Crisis of the Aristocracy 1558-1641, this work illustrates, through detailed examples, the general theories advanced in the earlier volume. The author centers on a few families who occupied the topmost ranks of the aristocracy, and whose intimate connection with the Court were dramatically reflected in the speed and scale of their gains—and losses—through successive generations. Previously unpublished documentation as well as skeleton genealogies are included.

France 1848-1945
Volume I: Ambition, Love and Politics
THEODORE ZELDIN. Dr. Zeldin reinterprets a paradoxical period in French history—a century of brilliant cultural achievements and repeated political disasters. He proposes a new framework for understanding the events of French history against a backdrop of the country's ideas, movements, and institutions, and discusses the common beliefs, attitudes, and values that underlie the French character. Primarily a social history, this volume stresses the bourgeoisie and their influence on education; the family, the professions, the church, the arts, crime, and politics. (Oxford History of Modern Europe)
1973 3 figures, 13 maps 828 pp. $19.50

A History of Modern Norway 1814-1972
T. K. DERRY. The history of Norway, from its independence in 1814 to its rejection of membership in the Common Market in 1972, is presented here as a comprehensive study in the growth of a small nation with aspirations towards political democracy, egalitarian social forms, economic advancement, and cultural achievement.

The Emperor Frederick II of Hohenstaufen
Immutator Mundi
THOMAS CURTIS VAN CLEVE, Bowdoin College. In this major biography, Professor Van Cleve discusses the political and cultural pursuits of Frederick II, one of the most influential figures in the European medieval period. "A massive and definitive book—far the best ever written about Frederick."—London Telegraph
1972 8 plates, 5 maps 624 pp. $19.25

Rudolf II and His World
A Study in Intellectual History 1576-1612
R. J. W. EVANS. Emperor Rudolf II of Hapsburg was an unstable and impoverished ruler with lavish tastes in the arts and the occult. The author examines Rudolf's enigmatic personality and career against a background of contemporary attitudes and events. He also emphasizes the significance of Rudolf's court as the center of late humanism in central Europe.
1972 16 plates, map 332 pp. $24.00

Endurance and Endeavour
An Introduction to Modern Russian History 1812-1971
J. N. WESTWOOD. In Russia both the rulers and the ruled have tried to forcibly change the country through reform and revolution—yet the results have often fallen short of the desired goal. In this concise volume, the author seeks to explain this paradox by relating Russian tradition and circumstances to the events of history. (Short Oxford History of the Modern World)
1973 Maps, tables 480 pp. $16.00
Early Man
Prehistory and Civilizations of the Ancient Near East
CHESTER G. STARR, University of Michigan. "A fine up-to-date summary.... The illustrations are particularly apt and well chosen to integrate closely with the text."
—H. E. Hazelton, Manhattan College. "Very good as collateral reading for survey courses in World History. Lucidly written account of a difficult period for freshman students. Illustrations relevant to text." —Thomas C. Herndon, East Carolina University
1973 224 pp. illus. cloth $8.95 paper $3.50

The Ancient Greeks
CHESTER G. STARR. "An excellent survey, beautifully and authentically illustrated."—Joseph M. Kadans, Bernardine University. "Good text with excellent integration of maps and illustrative material."—Donald P. King, Whitman College. "Written with appealing style; injecting new viewpoints as well as fluid writing. Look at varied aspects of Greek society gives a good sense of the total environment."—David Draves, University of New Hampshire
1971 240 pp. illus. cloth $8.95 paper $3.50

The Ancient Romans
CHESTER G. STARR. "The work is intelligently conceived and successfully executed.... Excellent illustrations, charts, and maps grace the text; and the illustrations possess full explanatory comments, not just standard captions.... The problems confronting an ancient historian and the tentativeness of conclusions are emphasized—a feature uncommon in introductory books. As an initial exposure to Roman history for younger students this volume has few peers."—Erich S. Gruen, American Historical Review

Brazil
The Land and People
Second Edition
ROLLIE E. POPPINO, University of California, Davis. Concentrating on the social and economic developments from colonial times to the present, the new edition of this popular book incorporates recent data and observations in its discussion of the changes that have taken place since the mid-1960’s: the high economic growth rate, the government’s growing concern with social issues, and the systematic political repression. The bibliography, tables and statistics have been updated for the second edition.

Modern Europe and America
Readings in World History: Volume X
Edited by WILLIAM H. McNEILL, University of Chicago, and SCHUYLER O. HOUSER, University of Nebraska. This collection of primary source materials represents the important movements and changes in European and American history since 1500: the Renaissance and Reformation, the Democratic and Industrial Revolutions, and the two World Wars. The recurring theme is the complex and ever-changing relationship between government and religion.

541 pages / paper / 1973 / $6.95
Volume II: From Reconstruction to the Present
527 pages / paper / 1973 / $6.95
Chronicles the human drama of American history through writings distinguished as much for their literary merit as for their interpretations. Editorial introductions provide historical background for the essays, biographical portraits, eye-witness accounts, and dramatic narratives.
AMERICANS IN CONFLICT: THE CIVIL WAR AND RECONSTRUCTION
David Lindsey, California State University at Los Angeles
About 208 pages / paper / November 1973
A concise account of factors contributing to the growth and intensification of sectional antagonisms, the war and its attendant problems, and changes envisioned and effected during Reconstruction. Noteworthy for thorough treatment of the role and status of black people—as participants in the Abolitionist crusade, as soldiers in the Union army, and as central to the problems of postwar readjustment.

THE AMERICAN DIPLOMATIC EXPERIENCE
Daniel M. Smith, University of Colorado
491 pages / paper / 1972 / $5.95
Combines essential facts and the latest interpretations to trace the main thrust of American foreign policy from the Revolution through the 1970s. With maps, photos, and political cartoons.

Announcing Volume III of the authoritative legislative history

Congress and the Nation 1945-1972

Congress and the Nation is produced by the staff of Congressional Quarterly Service which has for 28 years published the authoritative reference on legislation and politics, the CQ Weekly Reports. Annually, the 52 Weekly Reports are summarized in the 1,500 page CQ Almanac.

In 1965 twenty years of CQ's scholarly reporting was rewritten, reorganized and compressed into a single volume, Congress and the Nation 1945-1964. In 1969 a second volume covering the period 1965-1969 was published. With publication of volume III, this massive 4,400 page reference work provides the essential facts covering 28 years of legislation and politics and spanning six presidencies. It is carefully organized and indexed for reference.

FROM THESE BEGINNINGS . . . A Biographical Approach to American History/

RODERICK NASH

A completely new approach to American history at the introductory level, this book rests on the assumption that history is more meaningful when it is related to particular individuals. Viewed from the perspective of actual persons (chapters range from Christopher Columbus to Bob Dylan), subjects such as the American Revolution, slavery, the frontier, industrialization, conservation, space exploration, and the American mind, economy, and government are brought into sharp focus. 548 pp.; $6.95; paper. Spring, 1973. Instructor's Manual.

AMERICAN POLITICAL BEHAVIOR:
Historical Essays and Readings/LEE BENSON, ALLAN BOGUE, J. ROGERS HOLLINGSWORTH, THOMAS J. PRESSLY, and JOEL H. SILBEY, Editors

Original introductory essays by the editors and readings by prominent scholars place six key topics in historical perspective: problems in the study of popular voting behavior; American historians and legislative behavior; political parties and political history; political elites; studies of public opinion without the use of modern opinion polls; and the new politics and American history. Readings explicate subjects and offer different perspectives to ensure a balanced picture. Tentative: 512 pp.; $8.95; paper. Spring, 1974.

TECHNOLOGY AND SOCIAL CHANGE IN AMERICA/EDWIN T. LAYTON, Jr.

Announcing . . . an abridged version of JOHN A. GARRATY’S well-known THE AMERICAN NATION . . .

A SHORT HISTORY OF THE AMERICAN NATION/ JOHN A. GARRATY

This abbreviated version of THE AMERICAN NATION: A History of the United States, Second Edition, is designed to provide in an economical, one-color format the same high quality for which the parent volume has been acclaimed. Marked by the superb writing style which so distinguished the longer work, this edition is nearly 40 percent shorter and about half the price of the parent volume. The organization is the same, but discussions throughout are less detailed, some anecdotal material and certain minor events have been deleted, and a brief discussion of the 1972 elections has been added. This shorter version concisely covers basic events; thus giving the instructor greater freedom to use more and varied supplementary materials. Tentative: 544 pp.; $6.95; paper. January, 1974 (books available for examination late Fall, 1973). New Test Bank.

MODERN EUROPE/
PETER GAY and R. K. WEBB

Superb writing by two of America’s most distinguished historians is a prominent feature of this broad and cohesive history of Europe since the Renaissance. An extensive introduction reviews the legacy of the ancient and medieval world; an epilog deals with postwar Europe. Cultural and intellectual history is emphasized throughout, while the traditional fields of politics, the economy, and diplomacy are treated fully and with close attention to recent historiography. Europe is viewed as a whole, and events in different countries are interrelated. The discussion of Russian and Eastern Europe is unusually comprehensive. Two-color maps and map essays. Available in one or two volumes. Vol. I: To 1815—536 pp. + index; $6.95; paper. Vol. II: Since 1815—585 pp. + index; $6.95; paper. Complete Work—1195 pp.; $12.95; cloth. Spring, 1973. Instructor’s Manual.

PERSPECTIVES IN WESTERN CIVILIZATION: Essays from Horizon/
WILLIAM L. LANCER, Editor

In two volumes, these thirty-five historical essays span topics from earliest times to the present. Distinguished for their historical content and literary style, the selections are vivid and authoritative accounts of important episodes in European history. Each—288 pp.; $3.25; paper. 1972.

EUROPE SINCE 1870: An International History/JAMES JOLL

This general history of Europe deals with the experiences common to the whole continent over the past century. Intellectual history is linked with political and social developments to provide a political context for the study of the history of ideas and of the arts. Tentative: 520 pp.; $6.95; paper. Spring, 1974.

STRATEGY FOR A BLACK AGENDA
A Critique of New Theories of Liberation in the United States and Africa
Henry Winston

A timely and significant appraisal, by the National Chairman of the U.S. Communist Party, of the current theories of Neo-Pan-Africanism, Marxism, and “Black Capitalism.” The author counterposes a Marxist strategy for black liberation: the defeat of racism and imperialism through the united mass struggle of the working class—black, white, red and brown.
Cloth $7.50  Paper $2.50

The exhilarating autobiography of a merchant seaman who helped found the National Maritime Union. The author spiles a warm personal tale of his adventures in many ports, through two world wars, and in the years of struggle to build a fighting union.
Cloth $7.50  Paper $2.25

A History of Colonial America treats in detail the development of the Anglo-American colonies from the European background through the American Revolution and the establishment of the new nation under the Constitution of 1787. The analysis occurs within the general context of European penetration of the Americas, and thus a major theme is the intense rivalries among European nations over control of New World lands.

 Revolutionary Virginia
The Road to Independence
Forming Thunderclouds and the
First Convention, 1763-1774
A Documentary Record

Compiled by William J. Van Schreven. Edited by Robert L. Scribner,
Director of Research and Publications for the Virginia Independence Bicentennial Commission. xii, 308 pp., frontis. (Virginia Independence Bicentennial Commission) $13.50

The seventy-two documents and tracts collected here for the first time reflect clearly the spirit of Virginians immediately before the Revolutionary War. The items first appeared as public resolutions, newspaper notices, and pamphlets. They were written by such men as Thomas Jefferson, Patrick Henry, Colonel Richard Bland, Thomson Mason, and Lieutenant Governor Fauquier, and by such groups as the Sons of Liberty. In them, increasing disenchantment with the political and economic policies of Great Britain is expressed not only by the well-known Virginia leaders but by the freeholders across the colony as well.

Boston Prints and Printmakers, 1670-1775
Edited by Walter Muir Whitehill and Sinclair H. Hitchings. xxv, 294 pp., illus. (Colonial Society of Massachusetts) $15.00

The major prints produced in Boston before the American Revolution are subjected to complete examination in this volume. A great majority of the surviving prints of these colonial Boston printmakers are excellently reproduced and conveniently brought together here for the first time. One special item, appearing for the first time, is Nathaniel Hurd's View of the Old State House. Another specialty is an impression of Paul Revere's engraving A View of the Obelisk Erected Under Liberty Tree. This volume is an indispensable pictorial record of eighteenth-century colonial America.

The Republican Party and Black America From McKinley to Hoover
1896-1933

By Richard B. Sherman, The College of William and Mary. viii, 266 pp., index. $9.50

Richard B. Sherman examines the attitudes and policies of national Republican leaders toward American blacks from the term of President McKinley through the term of President Hoover. This time span extends from the 1890s when the Republicans became the country's majority party to the early 1930s when they lost their power to the Democrats. Following the Civil War, Republicans won black favor by promoting the Negroes' right to vote as well as other rights assured them as freedmen. When the Republicans emerged as the majority party in the 1890s, they were faced with the challenging and yet contrasting facts that black support was not essential to maintain Republican control and that the party now had the power to advance and protect Negro rights. This volume discusses the reaction of national Republican leaders to these challenges.

THE MILITARY AND AMERICAN SOCIETY
Edited by Stephen E. Ambrose, Louisiana State University, and James Alden Barber, Jr., Naval War College, Newport, Rhode Island

Covering the rise of the American military establishment following World War II, this book is a penetrating examination of the conditions within society that allowed the growth of what is now called the "military-industrial complex." Contributors consider such heatedly debated topics as the military's roles in foreign policy, race relations, the draft, domestic order, and ecology. 322 pages paper $2.95

SOLDIERS AND CIVILIANS
The Martial Spirit in America, 1775-1865
Marcus Cunliffe, University of Sussex, England

"An intelligent and illuminating introduction to our early military policy. The specialist in military history will find in it many things that he already knew but some that he did not—and dozens of observations that will set him thinking about the whole range of our martial tradition."—The New York Times 512 pages paper $4.95

PRESIDENT AND CONGRESS
Power and Policy
Louis Fisher

"A quite rare study that covers familiar material and brings to it understanding and insights that have not previously been presented or have been presented less vividly... describes how the President and Congress work with or against each other in four significant areas: legislative power, spending power, taxing power, and war power."—Howard R. Penniman, Perspective 368 pages paper $3.45

LENIN
Michael C. Morgan

A brief, highly readable introduction to Lenin's life, his work, his role in the revolution, and his place in history. THE CAUSES OF WAR
Geoffrey Blainey, University of Melbourne, Australia

This book surveys all the international wars fought since 1700, searching for patterns and clues that offer new solutions to the puzzle of war and peace. In examining many fascinating, widely accepted theories of international conflict, Blainey finds that many are contradictory or completely without basis in fact. 304 pages $7.95

MENTAL INSTITUTIONS IN AMERICA
Social Policy to 1875
Gerald N. Grob, Rutgers University

"This book, the first of two volumes, is more than a medical and scientific history of mental institutions in America to 1875; it is also a history of public policy toward the insane—a major contribution to American social history, especially the history of social welfare. . . . This is history at its best."
—Walter I. Trattner, The University of Wisconsin, Milwaukee

THE RISE AND FALL OF THE PEOPLE'S CENTURY
Henry A. Wallace and American Liberalism, 1941-1948
Norman D. Markowitz, Rutgers University

A reappraisal of the effects of World War II and the Cold War on the New Deal and American liberalism. Wallace is the central figure in a study based on previously unexplored material that sheds new light on the major political and foreign policy questions of the 1940s. 369 pages $8.95

AMERICAN HABITAT
A Historical Perspective
Edited by Barbara Gutmann Rosenkrantz, Harvard University, and William A. Koelsch, Clark University

We have taken advantage of that characteristic twentieth-century trait, specialization, and divided the history of these years among seven authors... Inevitably, we have been concerned with the growth of that Leviathan, the twentieth-century state, but our interests run well beyond what is usually connoted by "political history." In addition to analyzing legislation, government agencies, and the warfare of political parties, we have been engrossed by the social, economic, and, in a broad sense, the cultural history of the times.

A Troubled Feast
American Society Since 1945
William E. Leuchtenburg
Columbia University
The essence of this book is suggested by its title. The "troubled" aspects may be the more familiar — the frightful assassinations of public men, the malignant effects of two Asian wars, the endemic violence, the persistence of social ills. Acknowledgment of the reality of the "feast" — that is, the widespread affluence made possible by the prodigious expansion of the economy — has often been more grudging. Yet in these years millions were lifted out of poverty, millions more into the ranks of the middle class. And it was the abundance that shaped many of the contours of American Society in the nearly three decades since 1945, especially the consumer culture in its multifarious ramifications, and that exerted a decisive influence upon not only the troubles of this era but the too little noticed advances.
— William E. Leuchtenburg

A SHORT HISTORY OF WEST AFRICA: A.D. 1000 TO THE PRESENT
by T. A. OSAE, S. N. NWABARA & A. T. O. ODUNSI.
Most histories of colonized areas have been written by the colonizers. This useful work was written by prominent African scholars. It is not only important for an understanding of this region of Africa, but also for the background of Afro-American history. The authors describe the geographic and ethnic setting of the region, influences from North and East Africa, the rise of the great West African kingdoms, the coming of the Europeans, the slave trade, the period of European colonization, and the modern African struggle for political and economic independence. Bibliog., index, maps. About 384 pp. Coming February 1974. H&W 1373. Clothbound $10, paperbound $3.95

READINGS ON LA RAZA: THE TWENTIETH CENTURY
edited by MATT S. MEIER & FELICIANO RIVERA.
This chronological anthology contains some 55 articles and documents on the 20th-century history of Mexican-American people — ranging from early Department of Labor reports to Reies Tijerina’s “Letter from Jail.” It is a valuable companion to The Chicanos: A History of Mexican Americans by Meier and Rivera — a well-reviewed and widely adopted book that was published by Hill & Wang in 1972. Together with that authoritative history, this careful and thorough documentation forms a comprehensive guide to the complex history of these people. Introduction, headnotes, map. About 275 pp. Coming February 1974. H&W 0110. Clothbound $8.95, paperbound $2.95

Contributions in American History

SERIES EDITOR: JON L. WAKELYN, CATHOLIC UNIVERSITY OF AMERICA

NEWLY PUBLISHED

PARTY AND FACTION IN AMERICAN POLITICS: THE HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES, 1789-1801 by Rudolph M. Bell.
Vast new strata of information are uncovered, and unsuspected coalitions revealed. This quantitative analysis of actual voting records will revise simplistic views of our government's formative years. $13.95

THE UNBOUNDED FRAME: FREEDOM AND COMMUNITY IN NINETEENTH CENTURY AMERICAN UTOPIANISM by Michael Fellman. Intellectuals of many persuasions sought to invent perfect communities, then disagreed on basic concepts. Analyzes utopian thought from Brisbane through Howells. "...an important contribution to American intellectual history."—Merle Curti $10.00

FROM CONTRABAND TO FREEDMAN: FEDERAL POLICY TOWARD SOUTHERN BLACKS, 1861-1865 by Louis S. Gerteis.
Slaves enveloped by Union lines served Federal purposes as a labor pool, regulated to forestall racial agitation. Expedient "emancipation" of blacks brought no real social reform. "A worthwhile addition..."—Library Journal $11.50

Since Plymouth Rock, the vagrant had been thought to be a willful social threat. Not until the panics of 1893 and 1907 did reformers see correlation between the prevalence of tramps and the scarcity of jobs. $10.50

ROOTS OF MARYLAND DEMOCRACY, 1753-1776 by David Curtis Skaggs. A widespread poor tenantry, denied vote or office, surged in democratic revolution against the gentry leadership. Skaggs' conclusion is clear: many Marylanders fought the War of the Revolution primarily to change prevailing structures within the colony. $12.00

THE TARIFF, POLITICS, AND AMERICAN FOREIGN POLICY, 1874-1901 by Tom E. Terrill. With neither one dominant, both major parties spotlighted tariff levels. Republicans aimed high, Democrats low. Then, boom and bust convinced both parties that prosperity hinged on foreign trade, and required an expansionist consensus. $12.00

The Democratic Party and California Politics, 1880-1896

R. Hal Williams. A history of the California Democratic party during a period that marked the beginning of the state's swift rise to prominence, this study freshly considers the actual, rather than mythical, political role of the Southern Pacific Railroad, the relative importance of state government in these decades, and the relationship between state and national politics. November. About $10.00

The African Slave in Colonial Peru, 1524-1650

Frederick P. Bowser. The most intensively researched work ever to appear on African slavery in Latin America, this book sets forth the intricacies and iniquities of the slave traffic to the colony, its influence on the economy of Peru, the daily life of the black man himself, and the beginnings of his assimilation into Peruvian society. December. About $17.50

The Pattern of the Chinese Past

Mark Elvin. "Without doubt the most lucid and stimulating introduction to the problems of the economic and social history of traditional China at present available. Anyone interested in China’s past, in the historical development of the traditional sector of China’s economy . . . should read this book. . . . A superb introduction to the distinctive patterns of Chinese history over the span of two millennia."—The Economist (London). $12.50

COMMUNITY AND COMMUNICATIONS

by Seymour J. Mandelbaum of the Departments of History and

City and Regional Planning, University of Pennsylvania

This book develops a simple but powerful set of concepts for evaluating networks of social communication. Professor Mandelbaum argues that such efforts as governmental decentralization, new towns, and school integration have failed to bring people together or to increase public understanding; and he proposes instead new ways to organize urban communication. Students will find in this book an intellectual and historical framework for the present cable television debate, and a useful guide to other policy issues.

"...thoughtful and interesting; a set of wise observations and proposals on the important urban problems of our time." — Herbert Gans, Professor of Sociology, Columbia University

"...an extraordinary book assessing the uses of the new communications potentials...Direct, persuasive, lacking in jargon. A masterpiece!" — Richard L. Meier, Professor of Resources Planning and Environmental Design, University of California, Berkeley and author of Communications Theory of Urban Growth

NEW FROM BASIC BOOKS

STYLE IN HISTORY
by Peter Gay, Yale University. Professor Gay brilliantly penetrates the process of historiography through a stylistic analysis of Gibbon, Ranke, Macaulay, and Burckhardt. In his view of history as a science, Professor Gay argues that the public and private dimensions of great historians demand inquiry beyond the literal and literary implications of their work. His book is at once a major contribution to historiography and to the interpretation of the great historians he discusses. Spring '74

EUROPE IN THE HIGH MIDDLE AGES: 1150-1309 by John H. Mundy, Columbia University. This long-awaited study of medieval Europe examines the social, economic, political, and intellectual questions of the period. Professor Mundy clearly demonstrates how, toward the end of the thirteenth century, one could already discern forces that would ultimately destroy the alliance of ecclesiastical and secular elements which had defined high medieval culture throughout Europe. $11.95

ROME BEFORE AVIGNON
A Social History of Thirteenth-Century Rome
by Robert Brentano, University of California, Berkeley. In this sensitive yet probing study of papal Rome, Robert Brentano uniquely captures the subtle interaction between the physical decay of the city itself and the complex religious, intellectual, and social life of its people. Professor Brentano's concern with the physical city, its art and other forms of culture, create a fascinating social history of papal Rome. January/Illustrated $15.00

THE METHODIST REVOLUTION
by Bernard Semmel, State University of New York, Stony Brook. Historians have long debated why England was spared a violent counterpart to the French Revolution. Professor Semmel argues that what he calls the Methodist Revolution, initiated by Wesley and Whitefield in 1739, might have been the English equivalent of the "democratic revolution of the eighteenth century." Methodism became the spiritual form in which liberal and egalitarian ideals were presented to the lower orders of English society. Semmel attacks the view of Methodism as a repressive force, suggesting that it may have had a decisive role in shaping the liberal and progressive England of the nineteenth century. $10.00

TO SAVE A NATION
American Counter-Subversives, the New Deal, and the Coming of World War II
by Geoffrey S. Smith, Queens University, Ontario. This brilliant account of American counter-subversion during the years immediately preceding Pearl Harbor demonstrates what an important role "non-diplomatic" factors can often play in foreign policy. Professor Smith shows how the pre-World War II Fascist ideologies of Father Coughlin, Bund-leader Fritz Kuhn, and others created serious problems for respectable isolationist. What's more, he declares, they provided the Roosevelt administration with evidence to stimulate national anxieties that frightened the U.S. into war. "Carefully researched . . . A valuable addition to literature on the New Deal, World War II, and the intellectual history of extremist groups."—Library Journal $10.00

THE HISTORY PRIMER
by J. H. Hexter, Yale University. "The whole tiresome business of analytical philosophy is shaken down to its proper size ..." Hexter goes a good day's journey toward providing us with a definition of the autonomy of history based on the autonomy of its rhetoric."—W. WARREN WAGAR, American Historical Review. $10.00

REBELLION, REVOLUTION AND ARMED FORCE:
A Comparative Study of Fifteen Countries with Special Emphasis on Cuba and South Africa
by D. E. H. RUSSELL, Division of Social Science, Mills College, Oakland, California
This book provides a systematic study of fourteen twentieth-century rebellions, seven successful and seven unsuccessful, with special emphasis on the behavior of the establishment armed forces in each instance. In light of his detailed analysis of these fourteen rebellions, the author reevaluates prevailing theories on the nature of rebellion, and offers a fresh, penetrating analysis that will make his book indispensable to anyone interested in rebellion as a social and historical phenomena.

LAW AND ORDER IN HISTORICAL PERSPECTIVE
The Case of Elizabethan Essex
by JOEL B. SAMAMA, Department of History and Criminal Justice Studies, University of Minnesota, Minneapolis, Minnesota
Believing crime to be an outgrowth as well as a reflection of the social upheavals that took place during the Elizabethan Era, Professor Samama has prepared an in-depth study of the Elizabethan system of criminal justice as it operated in Essex County during the last half of the sixteenth century. He shows in detail how the administration of justice worked on a day-to-day basis, describing what crimes were committed, who was prosecuted for them, who was convicted and who went free, what punishments were given for different offenses, and what standards were set up for determining legality and illegality.

THE MODERN WORLD-SYSTEM:
Capitalist Agriculture and the Origins of the European World Economy in the Sixteenth Century
by IMMANUEL WALLERSTEIN, Department of Sociology, McGill University, Montreal, Canada
Prepublication Reviews of this Outstanding Book:
"I can say without hesitation that it is the finest book of analytical history that I have read in the last ten years. That Europe had formed a world economy around herself historians knew, but only in general. What they had never thought about with the keenness and intelligence which characterizes I. Wallerstein's thought is that this entity provides a new framework for the subject of European history, that it is compelling, a new explanation, a new classification, indeed a revolutionary one, of received knowledge and current thought.
"—Fernand Braudel, College de France
"The first and only serious, comprehensive and successful attempt to advance an analysis and explanation of the early development of a world economy, the understanding of which is essential for the proper appreciation of all subsequent development. This book should become a classic immediately upon publication."
—Andre Gunder Frank, Professor of Economics, University of Chile
Not since Barrington Moore's Social Origins of Dictatorship and Democracy has a work of history provoked such advance excitement as this first volume of a comprehensive four-volume treatise on the modern world-system. Immanuel Wallerstein has gone beyond prevailing perspectives of history, formulating a bold hypothesis about the world as a whole which promises to be something of an intellectual event. It is not just a synthesis of historical and sociological writings, but a new interpretive framework for both the political and economic origins of capitalism.
