

UNIT PLAN: FINAL with REVISIONS RUBRIC – 10%

Follow the Unit Plan Outline and Unit Plan Lessons rubrics. In addition:

A (100-90):

The Unit Plan (UP) is complete, professional, and ready to be submitted to an interviewer. A colleague could take the UP and teach effectively from it without any outside support. The UP forms an integral whole, with all of its components working together toward a goal.

The Revision Summary highlights the major revisions and clearly explains how and why changes were made. The revision decisions are logical and significantly enhance the UP.

All UP material (quizzes, tests, PowerPoint presentations, overheads, etc.) are clear and effective.

The UP meets the vast majority of the “A” elements of the other rubrics.

B (89-90):

The Unit Plan (UP) is complete, professional, and ready to be submitted to an interviewer. A colleague could take the UP and teach effectively from it with only minimal outside support. The UP forms an integral whole, with the vast majority of its components working together toward a goal.

The Revision Summary highlights the major revisions and explains how and why changes were made. The revision decisions are logical and dramatically enhance the UP.

All UP material (quizzes, tests, PowerPoint presentations, overheads, etc.) are clear and effective.

The UP meets or exceeds the vast majority of the “B” elements of the other rubrics.

C (79-70):

The Unit Plan (UP) is complete, mostly professional, and ready to be submitted to an interviewer with only a few changes. A colleague could take the UP and probably teach effectively from it with only minimal outside support. The UP forms an integral whole, with the majority of its components working together toward a goal.

The Revision Summary highlights the revisions and explains how and why changes were made. The revision decisions enhance the UP.

All UP material (quizzes, tests, PowerPoint presentations, overheads, etc.) are fairly clear and effective.

The UP meets or exceeds the vast majority of the “C” elements of the other rubrics.

Below C (<70):

The Unit Plan (UP) is incomplete or not ready to be submitted to an interviewer with only a few changes. A colleague would have trouble teaching from the UP. The UP forms an integral whole, with the majority of its components working together toward a goal.

The Revision Summary does not present any clear explanation of the revisions.

Most UP material (quizzes, tests, PowerPoint presentations, overheads, etc.) are fairly clear and effective.

The UP does not meet or exceed the vast majority of the “C” elements of the other rubrics.
