The Culture of Contemporary Canada

Edited by JULIAN PARK, Professor of European History and International Relations at the University of Buffalo

THESE 12 objective essays comprise a lively evaluation of the young culture of Canada. Closely and realistically examined are literature, art, music, the press, theater, education, science, philosophy, the social sciences, literary scholarship, and French-Canadian culture. The authors, specialists in their fields, point out the efforts being made to improve and consolidate Canada's culture. 419 Pages. Illus. $5.75

The American Way

By DEXTER PERKINS,

John L. Senior Professor in American Civilization, Cornell University

PAST and contemporary aspects of American political thinking are illuminated by these informal but informative essays. Professor Perkins examines the nature and contributions of four political groups—conservatives, liberals, radicals, and socialists, pointing out that the continuance of healthy, active moderation in American politics depends on the presence of their ideas. 148 Pages. $2.75

A Short History of New York State

By DAVID M. ELLIS, James A. Frost, Harold C. Syrett, Harry J. Carman

HERE in one readable volume is concise but complete coverage of New York's complicated history from 1609 to the present. In tracing the state's transformation from a predominantly agricultural land into a rich industrial empire, four distinguished historians have drawn a full picture of political, economic, social, and cultural developments, giving generous attention to the important period after 1865. 718 Pages. Illus. $7.75

Flat guaranteed rates are: single rooms, $8.00; double-bed rooms, $11.00; twin-bed rooms, $12.00. Members should use reservation card or mention the AHA.

Other hotels in the Pennsylvania Station zone, all less than two blocks from Headquarters, include the following: Governor Clinton (Seventh Ave. and 31st St.): singles, $9.25-$14.75; doubles, $11.50-$16.75; twins, $14.00-$19.75. McAlpin-Sheraton (Broadway and 34th St.): singles, $9.75-$14.85; doubles, $13.35-$16.85; twins, $14.35-$18.85. All the above rates are on a per day basis; you are advised to make advance reservations.

REGISTRATION: The Bureau of Registration and Information will be on the south side of the Mezzanine Floor. It will be open on Friday, December 27, from 5 until 9 p.m.; on Saturday, December 28, from 8 a.m. until 6 p.m.; on Sunday, December 29, from 8:30 a.m. to 6 p.m.; and on Monday, December 30, from 8:30 a.m. until noon. The registration fee is $1.50. The registration badge for admittance to sessions and all tickets for luncheons and dinners listed in this program may be obtained at the Bureau of Registration.

There will be no advance registration. Members are asked to fill out in advance the enclosed registration card and present it with the proper fees at the Bureau of Registration immediately upon arrival.

LUNCHEONS AND DINNERS: All luncheons are priced at $4.50, all dinners at $6.80, including taxes and gratuities. Tickets desired should be indicated on the enclosed meals card, to be presented at the time of registration. There will be no advance sale. All checks covering registration and luncheon and dinner tickets should be made out to the American Historical Association; no refunds can be made. Reservations for luncheons must be made before 9:45 a.m. of the day of the luncheon. Reservations for dinners must be made before 2:45 p.m. of the day of the dinner.

TRANSPORTATION: Members should confer with their local ticket agents well in advance concerning routes and fares.

JOB REGISTER: At the meeting the services of the Job Register will be available. Candidates for positions may register and departmental representatives seeking staff members may make inquiries. The Association will assist in arranging interviews. Departmental representatives will facilitate arrangements by informing Association headquarters of their needs before the meeting, and each candidate should inform the Job Register of his presence and address as soon as he arrives in New York.

A representative of the Conference Board of Associated Research Councils will be present at the meeting to consult with those interested in Fulbright awards.

REUNIONS: Information concerning group reunions will be posted on the bulletin board at the Bureau of Registration and Information. Groups desiring to hold such functions should communicate with the Chairman of the Committee on Local Arrangements as soon as possible.

MEETINGS OF OTHER GROUPS: Some historical societies or groups have arranged special sessions which cannot be listed in the general program. Mimeographed announcements will be available at registration when these are supplied to the American Historical Association.

RELIGIOUS SERVICES: A listing of religious services in New York may be found in the main lobby of the Hotel Statler.

THE GROWTH OF THE AMERICAN REPUBLIC FOURTH EDITION

By Samuel Eliot Morison, Harvard University and Henry Steele Commager, Amherst College and Columbia University

ATLAS OF EUROPEAN HISTORY

Edited by Edward Whiting Fox, Cornell University with the assistance of H. S. Deighton, Pembroke College, Oxford

Published in January 1957, this new historical atlas has been enthusiastically received in colleges and schools throughout the country. Prepared specifically for use with the major textbooks of European history used in American courses, the maps are exceptionally clear, and represent an achievement in modern cartography.

Complete, 64 maps, 2 endpaper maps, gazetteer, exercises, clothbound $3.95, paperbound, $3.65.

In two parts, each with 32 maps, gazetteer and exercises, paperbound $2.25: Part I, to the Renaissance; Part II, from the English Revolution.

THE GROWTH AND CULTURE OF LATIN AMERICA

By Donald E. Worcester, University of Florida and Wendell G. Schaeffer, Public Administration Service, Chicago

A new and broader perspective on Latin American history has been achieved in this text by concentration on fundamental forces rather than on detailed accounts of individual countries. The chronological sections are based on internal developments rather than external forces. Emphasis is placed on regional characteristics and similar development among countries, thus enabling the student to recognize common trends and problems.

THE FRONTIER IN PERSPECTIVE

Edited by Walker D. Wyman and Clifton B. Kroeber

Thirteen essays written by specialists in history, anthropology, and classical and modern literature. These essays discuss frontiers and their influences from ancient Rome to the modern world, and cover a wide variety of frontier experiences—static and moving societies, intermingling of civilized and barbarian cultures, and how these cultures affected each other.

Rand McNally & Company is pleased to announce the publication of

Atlas of World History

edited by R. R. PALMER, PRINCETON UNIVERSITY

This completely new atlas should appeal to those who want a comprehensive and factual work of reference in attractive format and at moderate cost. It contains 128 pages of maps, 92 of which are in four colors—all of them designed and drawn by Rand McNally's experienced craftsmen. The atlas illustrates the history of all parts of the world since ancient times, and there is more than the usual amount of material on Asia and Africa, Latin America, Russia, and Eastern Europe.

Interleaved with the maps are some 55 pages of text, or close to 60,000 words, in itself a brief summary of world history as well as a continuous commentary on the maps. The political maps are also supplemented by economic, social, religious, and military maps, and by a series of special maps portraying the civilization of Europe and the United States at successive periods. The atlas includes a complete index, a bibliography, and an interesting statistical appendix.

The Atlas of World History has been conceived, designed, and manufactured entirely in the United States. The editorial board, under Professor Palmer's supervision, comprises the following historians from leading American universities: Knight Biggerstaff, Cornell, John W. Caughey, U.C.L.A.; Charles Jelavich, California; Tom B. Jones, Minnesota; Charles E. Nowell, Illinois; and Sidney Painter, Johns Hopkins.

From Fief to Indenture

THE TRANSITION FROM FEUDAL TO NON-FEUDAL
CONTRACT IN WESTERN EUROPE

By BRYCE D. LYON. This book, the first to deal with the fief-rente in Western Europe, provides a valuable comparative study of feudalism and of the financial, administrative, and military institutions of the principal feudal states from the late 10th century through the 15th. An understanding of the fief-rente helps to explain how feudalism based upon land gave way to feudalism based on money, and how ultimately non-feudal contracts became the accepted method for obtaining military and political service. An appendix of thirty documents, hitherto unpublished, presents much new and important information on the fief-rente. $8.00

The Brazilian Cotton Manufacture

TEXTILE ENTERPRISE IN AN UNDERDEVELOPED AREA,
1850-1950

By STANLEY J. STEIN. This book explores the background against which Brazilian industry developed, discusses the influence of the early feudal plantation system on more recent relations between cotton manufacturers, the state and labor, and suggests the need for certain revisions in current policies of management. The author concludes that modernization of management must precede technological modernization, and that this must coincide with improvement in rural standards of living. A book of far-reaching implications for those concerned with the growth of modern industry in an underdeveloped area and with the development of "backward" countries in general. $5.00

VASSOURAS

A BRAZILIAN COFFEE COUNTY, 1850-1900

By STANLEY J. STEIN. This book tells the full story of the origins, development and decline of plantation economy and society in a representative Brazilian community. The author shows how a virgin forest was transformed into a thriving coffee plantation area, examines the economies of coffee cultivation, and discusses in detail the major groups of plantation society. A final section treats the factors of land, labor and finance in the decline of the plantation before and after abolition.

A significant case study which reveals certain key aspects of 19th century Brazil that are still influential today, and traces the impact of Western Europe and the U. S. upon an underdeveloped area in 19th century Latin America. $7.00

American Education in the Twentieth Century

By I. L. KANDEL. The past half century has seen the emergence of a distinctively American system of education, embodying the strength of an unparalleled effort to prepare all young people as intelligent and active citizens of a democracy and the weakness of an enterprise so large that students below and above the average standard must be neglected from sheer lack of facilities.

Mr. Kandel discusses in detail the background and the characteristic features of American education at mid-century—the part played by the public and by various psychological and philosophical factors in its development; local independence and its relation to state and federal governments; the problems and preparation of those entering the teaching profession.

A valuable and thought-provoking book for all those interested in the growth of our educational system and in the many problems that must be met. $5.00

The American Business System

A HISTORICAL PERSPECTIVE

By THOMAS C. COCHRAN. In this book twentieth-century business development in America is analyzed against the whole background of modern technological and economic growth. From both a historical and a present-day perspective Mr. Cochran tells the fascinating story of the businessman, his changing concept of his own role in society and the equally important changes in society's attitude toward him. What part have advances in technology, the spread of managerial enterprise and the rise of the welfare state played in the evolution of our business system? What has been the effect of business growth on the general economic policy of the American government? Answers to questions like these make this an important book not only for the businessman, the economist and the political scientist, but for the sociologist and historian of American customs and growth as well. $4.75

Pioneers of Popular Education, 1760-1850

By HUGH M. POLLARD, M.A., Ph.D. This book tells the story of the men and ideas behind the development of popular education in Western Europe—from the appalling conditions existing in the primary schools in France at the end of the Revolution to the adaptation of the Bell-Lancaster system of instruction by monitors throughout Continental Europe. It shows too how education developed in Great Britain during the same period—where, despite a general lack of interest in educational reform and a marked hostility toward ideas of foreign origin, a group of dedicated pioneers managed to bring to the English educational system all that was best in contemporary educational thought and practice. $5.50

THE AGRARIAN FOES OF BOLSHEVISM

OLIVER H. RADKEY, JR.

A study of the Socialist Revolutionary Party, the political expression of the peasant movement in Russia. Dr. Radkey describes its role during the critical period of February-October, 1917, discussing the errors and deficiencies of leadership by which the party lost its power, and points up the contributions to socialist theory, particularly by Victor Chernov, that influenced the Bolshevik wing of the Social Democrats.

THE BACKGROUND OF NAPOLEONIC WARFARE

ROBERT S. QUIMBY

Working from the writings of the principal military theoreticians of the eighteenth century, Dr. Quimby follows the development of military theory in France during that century and the resulting transformation of the French army, which provided the foundation of Napoleonic warfare.

$6.75

WAR COMES TO QUAKER PENNSYLVANIA 1682-1756

ROBERT L. D. DAVIDSON

Dr. Davidson follows the defeat of Quaker pacifism in William Penn's American colony. His account is an impartial one, crediting the Quakers with sincerity and strength in their intent but recognizing that their idealism was tempered by, first, the profit to be had from rapidly expanding trade and, finally, imperialism.

THE AMERICAN HISTORICAL ASSOCIATION

Founded in 1884

Chartered by Congress in 1889

Principal Office

400 A STREET, S.E., WASHINGTON 3, D. C.

MEMBERSHIP: Persons interested in historical studies, whether professionally or otherwise, are invited to membership. Present membership ca. 6,600.

MEETINGS: An annual meeting with a three-day program is held in the last days of each year. Election of officers is by ballot of the membership.

The Association maintains close relations with the state and local historical societies through conferences at the annual meetings. The Pacific Coast Branch holds meetings in December on the Pacific Coast and publishes the Pacific Historical Review.

PUBLICATIONS: In addition to the Annual Report, the Association publishes from time to time out of special funds important documentary collections in American political and legal history. Its official organ is the American Historical Review, published quarterly and sent to all members. It appoints a proportion of the members of the board of editors of Social Education, a journal on the social studies for secondary-school teachers.

PRIZES: The Albert J. Beveridge Award, given annually for the best manuscript in the history of the Western Hemisphere, with a cash value of $1,000 and assurance of publication. The Watumull Prize of $500, awarded biennially for a work on the history of India originally published in the United States (next award: December, 1958). The George Louis Beer Prize of about $200, awarded annually for a work on any phase of European international history since 1895. The John H. Dunning Prize of about $140, awarded in the even-numbered years for a monograph on any subject relating to American history. The Herbert B. Adams Prize of $200, awarded in the even-numbered years for a work in the field of European history. The Moses Coit Tyler Prize of $1,500 plus publication, awarded in 1957 for the best manuscript in the field of American intellectual history, including biography.

DUES: There is no initiation fee. Annual dues are $7.50, students $4.00. Life membership is $150. All members receive the American Historical Review and the program of the annual meeting.

CORRESPONDENCE: Inquiries should be addressed to the Executive Secretary at 400 A Street, S.E., Washington 3, D. C.

THE GOVERNOR AND THE REBEL:

A History of Bacon's Rebellion in Virginia

By WILCOMB E. WASHBURN

"Dr. Washburn has written a thoroughly documented but fascinating history of Bacon's Rebellion, which will upset the notions current about that affair for the last two centuries. And justice at last is done to the memory of Governor Berkeley of Virginia."

ECONOMIC HISTORY of the UNITED STATES

HOWARD R. SMITH, University of Georgia

A significant departure from the traditional topical approach to economic history, this book presents a chronological-narrative account of our developing economy—highlighting those aspects which were most important in each period. This stimulating approach shows students our economic evolution in its day-by-day context: the problems posed and how they were resolved. Book reveals why our economic institutions developed as they did and how the historical process has in the past, and continues in the present, to shape our economy. "The best of the U. S. economic history books." Douglas F. Dowd, Cornell University.

AMERICAN DEMOCRACY under PRESSURE

DONALD C. BLAISDELL, The City College of New York

First published analysis of the relation between pressure groups and our over-all social process. This new textbook authoritatively discusses the pressures generated within the formal structure of our national government as well as those group claims imposed upon society as a whole. It shows how groups exert their pressures on the Congress, the Presidency, the executive and judicial branches of the government, and on political parties. Includes an objective exposition on the making of national policy—fully documented by case studies. ". . . original and brilliant organization . . . will be an excellent teaching tool." Washington Post & Times Herald.

European Civilization

Expanded within an improved organization, this revision is completely reset and redesigned with all new maps and many new illustrations in a completely new format. Yet it retains its firm structure, its explicit chronological divisions, and its consistent progression. It continues to be the survey combining unequalled factual coverage with sound interpretation. . . .

Three books by HANS KOHN:

AMERICAN NATIONALISM: An Interpretative Essay

"In his new book, Hans Kohn, who has spent many years of his fruitful life studying comparative nationalism, has cast a fresh and discerning eye on American nationalism . . . He perceives contrasts and comparisons of which some specialized students of our history may have been ignorant, and others only dimly aware. Furthermore, he brings to this task of interpretation the power of analysis and the qualities of imagination and literary felicity that have marked his entire career as a historian. The result is an engrossing and stimulating book."—Dumas Malone, The New York Times Book Review
1957, 637 pages, $5.00

NATIONALISM AND LIBERTY: The Swiss Example

"Hans Kohn brings his vast knowledge of trends and ideas to bear not on the Swiss 'problem,' but on the question of how the people of the cantons managed to be ardently patriotic without succumbing to the various forms of megalomania which during the past two centuries have beset nationalistic Europe. His book is short and crisp . . . it contains more valid information than American readers of history can readily find elsewhere."—George N. Shuster, The New Leader
1957, 130 pages, $3.25

THE TWENTIETH CENTURY: The Challenge to the West and Its Response, New and Enlarged Edition

Four new chapters have been added dealing with the new forces in Asia and Africa which have emerged since 1949 and with the problem, expounded by Toynbee, of whether the free Western civilization is in a critical condition or in decline. "In The Twentieth Century he [the author] has packed an amazing amount of information, freshly presented and enlivened by quotations of unusual excellence. . . ."—Arthur M. LOWDEN OF ILLINOIS

By William T. Hutchinson

Here is the important first biography of the illustrious Illinois statesman who, in his various roles of corporation lawyer, farmer, planter, Republican leader, governor, and influential spokesman for midwestern agriculture, shared in the making of local and national history for two crucial decades.

"People interested in the Illinois past will inevitably find their way to these volumes. Professional historians will mine them for decades."

A Radically New American History Text—

AMERICAN
CIVILIZATION

A History of the United States

Wesley M. Gewehr David S. Sparks
Donald C. Gordon Roland N. Stromberg

All at the University of Maryland
McGraw-Hill Series in History

In this text for the basic college survey course, the student is carried through the story of American history by means of basic themes around which the narrative is woven. Each chapter is a unit in itself—an essay that could stand alone, but which is intimately related in content and style to the preceding and following chapters. Its purpose is to point up the significant trends, meanings, and interpretations of the nation's history, from colonial times through the Korean War.

Factual content is reduced to only that absolutely necessary to an understanding of the historical problem or development being described. Thus, names, dates, and irrelevant details are kept to a minimum, freeing the student from nonessentials (lists of important events are, however, given at the beginning of each chapter, and numerous charts, tables, and appendixes include facts not given in the text). The appendix includes two essays of unusual interest on "Civil Rights and the Constitution" and "The Negro and the Constitution."

Of special importance is the final synthesis chapter surveying the course of some of the continuities of American history and civilization. Throughout the text are numerous maps and illustrations. A manual is available to instructors upon request.

FROM: LONDON TO YOU

History TODAY

conveys warm greetings and best wishes for a successful meeting to all members of the American Historical Association.

Historians in all English-speaking countries are confronted with similar problems—how to keep abreast of the flow of historical writing outside their own immediate field; how to assimilate the fresh views of the past constantly presented by the advance of modern scholarship; how to advise students to build up their own historical libraries at a reasonable cost.

HISTORY TODAY helps to provide the historian with an answer to many of these questions. Among its contributors are such well-known historical writers as Professor H. Butterfield, Professor G. Barraclough, Professor C. R. Boxer, Professor Asa Briggs, Professor D. W. Brogan, Lord David Cecil, Sir Kenneth Clark, Sir Lewis Namier, Professor L. R. Palmer, Dr. Arthur Waley, Miss C. V. Wedgwood, Sir Leonard Woolley, etc.

Its articles throughout the year give a comprehensive picture of the latest developments in the world of history. HISTORY TODAY, founded seven years ago under the auspices of the British Historical Association, takes as its subject matter the whole of man's inheritance—from pre-historic times up to the present day; politics, economics, philosophy, art, music and literature all come within its sphere. American history and particularly Anglo-American relations receive especial notice.

★ Articles published during 1957 include:—

A New Monograph Series

THE ANNALS OF AMERICAN HISTORY

Manuscripts Invited For Consideration

This new Public Affairs Press series provides a highly appropriate medium for prompt, effective, and inexpensive publication of outstanding contributions to history. The attractive monograph format of the series is especially suitable for relatively brief works.

Recognizing the urgent need for wider and more advantageous publishing outlets in the social sciences, Public Affairs Press, a leading publisher of scholarly books and monographs since 1938, has established the Annals of American History with confidence that this series will serve to promote appreciation and recognition of noteworthy contributions to historical literature.

Manuscripts believed suitable for consideration in this connection should be addressed to The Editor, Annals of American History, 419 New Jersey Avenue, S.E., Washington 3, D. C.

READINGS IN EUROPEAN HISTORY

By LEON BERNARD and THEODORE HODGES,
University of Notre Dame

Nearly 250 selections from original sources illustrate European History from the Battle of Marathon to the Allied Landings in Normandy and the United Nations. Although primarily designed to accompany Hayes, Baldwin and Cole: History of Europe, these readings could be effectively adapted to any college text on European history. The selections are purposely short, each illustrating a key idea, personality or event. The editors have organized the readings, not on a "problem" basis, nor as an encyclopaedic anthology of great thinkers, but to offer an extensive coverage of material, in a unified, workable form.
