Accommodations

The AHA has reserved substantial blocks of rooms at the Manchester Grand Hyatt and the San Diego Marriott, with smaller blocks at the Hilton San Diego Bayfront and the Embassy Suites San Diego Downtown. The hotels are located on San Diego Bay, adjacent to the Gaslamp Quarter, a historical neighborhood that is San Diego's dining, entertainment, and urban shopping district.

The Manchester Grand Hyatt San Diego (www.manchestergrandhyatt.com; 619-232-1234), located at 1 Market Place, will serve as headquarters and will house AHA exhibits, meeting registration, a wireless café, and AHA and affiliate sessions/events. The San Diego Marriott Hotel & Marina (www.sandiegomarriotthotelandmarina.com; 619-234-1500), at 333 West Harbor Drive, will serve as co-headquarters and accommodate the Job Center, the Messaging and Internet Center, and AHA and affiliate sessions/events. The Hilton San Diego Bayfront (www.hilton.com; 619-564-3333), located at 1 Park Boulevard, has a block of 400 rooms. The Embassy Suites San Diego Bay Downtown (www.EmbassySuites.Hilton.com; 619-239-2400), 601 Pacific Highway, will provide additional suite inventory for individuals or institutions who prefer this type accommodation, particularly those interviewing job candidates during the annual meeting.

Rates at the Hyatt and Marriott are $129 single and $168 double, the additional person charge is $30. The rate at the Hilton is $125 single and $155 double and $30 for each additional person. The rate at Embassy Suites is $159 single and double with an additional person charge of $30. It is a full-service all-suite hotel, and suites set aside in the AHA block have a private bedroom with either a king or two double beds, and a living room with sofa and chairs. All are equipped with two televisions, a full-size refrigerator, microwave oven, sink, coffee maker, three telephones, and large moveable desks with electrical and data port outlets. Each suite has high-speed Internet access with full wireless and "print now" capabilities. The hotel also has a 24-hour automated, self-service, fully equipped business center.

All rooms are subject to city and state occupancy taxes of 12.50 percent plus $0.23 assessment per room, per night. Rates are in effect three days before and after the January 7–10 meeting dates, and are for a limited number of rooms only at each property.

Making a Hotel Reservation

Once preregistered for the annual meeting, attendees can make hotel reservations through the San Diego Convention Center Corporation's convention housing reservation service, referred to as San Diego... accommodating YOU. Each preregistrant will receive a confirmation of their registration that will include information on how to make a standard room or suite reservation. Attendees will be able to make a standard room reservation via the Internet or via San Diego... accommodating YOU toll-free number. There will also be a direct-dial number for international attendees to call. Suite reservations for the Hyatt, Marriott, and Hilton can only be made by completing a suite reservation form, available through the meeting registration confirmation. Suite reservations for these three properties cannot be made via the Internet or directly with hotels. Embassy Suite reservations can be made in the same manner as standard room reservations-toll-free number or via the Internet. Reservation office hours for phone transactions are Monday through Friday 8:00 A.M.-5:00 P.M. Central Time. Internet and incoming fax services are available 24 hours a day, 7 days a week. Throughout the fall members can consult the AHA's web site (www.historians.org/annual) for complete details of each property's suite types and rates. The site will be updated frequently with availability information.

SCREENING 1: THURSDAY, JANUARY 7, 5:30-7:30 P.M.

Hyatt, Randle Ballroom D

WORLD PREMIERE: Manifest Destiny: To Conquer or Redeem

Sharon Wood, producer and director (Lucasfilm, 2009)

To Conquer or Redeem tells the dramatic story of the Spanish-American and U.S.-Philippine wars in the context of continental expansion and conquest. As Part One of Manifest Destiny, a documentary series on U.S. foreign policy, this film tracks the evolving role of exceptionalism as a rebellious colony grew into a continental power and then an overseas empire. You'll never see William McKinley—or these wars—the same way again.

Mark Bradley (University of Chicago) will introduce the film, and Sharon Wood will be present to participate in the post-screening discussion led by Professor Bradley.

SCREENING 2: FRIDAY, JANUARY 8, 12:00-2:00 P.M.

Hyatt, Randle Ballroom D

2009 John O'Connor Film Award Winner: Herskovits at the Heart of Blackness

Vincent Brown, Christine Herbes-Sommers, and Llewellyn Smith, producers. Executive Producer for ITVS Sally Jo Fifer. [Vital Pictures and the Independent Television Service (ITVS), 2009]

Herskovits at the Heart of Blackness is a thought-provoking documentary about Herskovits's foundational contributions to anthropology, African American history, and cultural studies as well as the continuing intellectual relevance of his work. The authors have imaginatively combined archival film footage (some shot by Herskovits himself), photographs, animation, and re-enactments. The result is a highly effective use of the visual medium of film, especially in the fast-paced accumulation of profound questions at the end of the documentary and in the segment concerning the 1969 storming of the African Studies Association by black activists, which productively recalls Chris Marker's seminal photo-essay, La Jetée.

SCREENING 3: FRIDAY, JANUARY 8, 4:30-6:30 P.M.

Hyatt, Randle Ballroom D

An Island Calling

Annie Goldson, producer/writer/director; Owen Scott, writer; Theresa Koroivulaono, consultant (Occasional Productions, 2008)

On July 1, 2001, prominent couple John Scott and his partner Greg Scrivener were murdered in their Suva, Fiji home. This film traces the extraordinary and colorful story of the Scott family, the political crises that have marked Fiji's recent history, the killings and their aftermath, and the complex mix of tribal authority, ethnicity, Christianity, and democracy that exist in the postcolonial Pacific.

Filmmaker Annie Goldson (University of Auckland), Vilsoni Hereniko (University of Hawai'i at Manoa), and Tarcicius Kabutaulaka (University of Hawai'i at Manoa) will introduce the film and lead a discussion afterward.

The screening is co-sponsored by the AHA Working Group for Historical Perspectives on Same-Sex Marriage and the Committee on Lesbian, Gay, Bisexual, and Transgender History.

SCREENING 4: SATURDAY, JANUARY 9, 11:00 A.M.—1:00 P.M. Hyatt, Randle Ballroom D

Ruins

Jesse Lerner, director (1999)

Jesse Lerner's Ruins is a hybrid film that blurs the line between fiction and documentary, and melds culturally skewed anthropological films, staged scenes, and documentation about a Mexican antiquities forger to question not only the traditional reception and understanding of pre-Columbian culture, but also our very assumptions of historical truth as mediated through the camera lens.

Matthew Restall (Penn State University, and editor, Ethnohistory) will introduce the film, and director Jesse Lerner will be present to participate in the post-screening discussion led by Professor Restall.

SCREENING 5: SATURDAY, JANUARY 9, 2:30-4:30 P.M.

Hyatt, Randle Ballroom D

Ararat

Atom Egoyan, director, writer (Miramax Films, 2002)

Atom Egoyan's thought-provoking film compels us to experience the toxicity of genocide and the ways it continues to cast shadows on the lives of Armenians and others years after its bloody unfolding. Its harrowing aftershocks animate a movie maker, an art history professor, a confused young Armenian, and a screenplay writer as they explore what it means to them. Their ideas and ideals are tested by others who have no connection with the genocide but who serve as catalysts to their struggle to come to terms with what happened so long ago.

Laurence Baron (California State University, San Diego) will introduce the film and lead a discussion afterward.

SCREENING 6: SATURDAY, JANUARY 9, 5:00-7:00 P.M.

Hyatt, Randle Ballroom D

Tabu: A Story of the South Seas

F.W. Murnau, director, writer, and producer; Robert Flaherty, writer and producer (Kino International, 1931)

Tabu started out as a collaboration of two of the most distinguished filmmakers of the 1920s, F.W. Murnau and R.J. Flaherty. Completed by Murnau and shot on locations in Tahiti, Bora Bora, and Morea, the film tells the story of a young Pacific island couple falling in love and thereby violating a local taboo. Tabu, released in 1931 just days after Murnau's untimely death, was rightly called "the apogee of the art of silent film." It was often interpreted as a commentary on Hollywood by two dropouts of the studio system, but it also establishes—in beautiful images—a powerful argument for inevitable tragedy. Screened courtesy of Kino International, kino.com.

Olaf Stieglitz (Muenster University) and Massimo Perinelli (University of Cologne) will introduce the film and lead a discussion afterward.

Information and Accommodations for Persons with Disabilities

General Information

San Diego is one of the most accessible cities in the world for visitors with disabilities. Here are a few resources:

Accessible San Diego (AccessSanDiego.com; 858-279-0704) has an access guide ($5), Access in San Diego, published each year. The guide gives brief descriptions of hotels, restaurants, amusement parks, and the area's many other tourist attractions, and has reliable information about their access features, locations, and contact numbers. It also lists accessible public transportation providers, community service agencies, and a host of other resources including wheelchair repair.

To obtain a copy of A Wheelchair User's Guide to Getting around San Diego, contact 619-233-3004. For the hearing impaired TTY/TTD call 619-234-5005.

At San Diego International Airport numerous accessibility services are available, such as TDD telephones, visual paging monitors, and a courtesy cart operated by the Volunteer Airport Ambassadors. Travelers may request personal assistance at any time by calling Airport Paging from any courtesy phone or TDD phone location. Once connected, advise the Airport Operator that accessibility services are required. The Red Bus provides complementary wheelchair-accessible transportation between the airport's terminals. Buses run at intervals not to exceed 10 minutes. Designated Red Bus stops are located curbside at all three terminals. For ADA passengers, each shuttle company is required by the airport to have within their fleet ADA-compatible vehicles. San Diego's public transit provides full accessibility on all trolleys and buses. It also offers MTS Access Service, which provides point-topoint paratransit service for $3.50 each way, exact change required. To use it, you must be ADA-paratransit-certified in your hometown or in San Diego. MTS Access can make same-day pickups, but recommends making reservations two days in advance. To schedule a ride, call 888-517-9627 any day between 8:00 A.M. and 5:00 P.M. (TTY/TDD: 1-800-568-7097). Reservations are accepted from two days in advance up to 5:00 P.M. the day before travel. That means if you want to travel on a Monday, you can call to schedule your trip from 8:00 A.M. on Saturday up to 5:00 P.M. on Sunday. Be ready to provide your name, pick-up address, when you would like to travel, destination address, and if/when you would like to book a return trip.

Wheelchair rentals are available through Wheelchair Source (www. wheelchairsource.com; 619-234-9505; info@mobility-source.com). Rental prices include pick-up and delivery to hotels.

Scooter rentals are available by contacting ScootAround Inc., toll-free at 888-441-7575, by e-mail at info@scootaround.com, online at www.scootaround.com, or by fax at 204-478-1172.

A general resource is Barrier-Free Travels: A Nuts and Bolts Guide for Wheelers and Slow Walkers (2009, 3rd edition). It contains detailed information about the logistics of planning accessible travel—whether by plane, train, or bus. The book includes important details about accessible air travel, traveling with oxygen, accessible ground transportation, choosing a travel agent, online booking, accessible recreation, and budget travel. It is available in bookstores, or online at www.barrierfreetravel.net.

Transportation to San Diego

Association Travel Concepts (ATC) is the official travel agency for the annual meeting. As such, ATC has negotiated discounts with American Airlines, United Airlines, Amtrak, and Hertz Rent-a-Car to bring attendees special air, rail, and car rental rates that are lower than those available to the public. To take advantage of these rates and benefits, e-mail reservations@atcmeetings.com. ATC is available for reservations from 8:30 A.M. until 7:00 P.M. EST, Monday through Friday. A link is also available through the AHA annual meeting web page, www.historians.org/annual or directly from ATC's web site at www.atcmeetings.com/aha.

Airfares: By contacting ATC, attendees traveling on American (ID Number A6210AH) will save up to 5 percent. Some restrictions may apply and service fees will vary. Travelers on United (ID Number 510CK) will receive up to 15 percent off tickets purchased more than 30 days prior to the meeting. Discounts apply for travel Monday, January 4 through Thursday, January 14, 2010, for service into San Diego International Airport (SAN). Attendees may also contact airlines directly, noting ID numbers—United at 800-521-4041 and American at 800-433-1790; the discount ID cannot be used on airline web sites.

ATC will also search for the lowest available fare on any airline serving San Diego International Airport. ATC is a full-service travel agency that provides personalized service, advance seat assignments, special meal requests, frequent flier programs updates, electronic ticketing, e-mail access for convenient booking of your tickets, and more.

Train fares: Amtrak offers a 10 percent discount on the lowest available fare to San Diego between January 4 and January 13, 2010. To book, call Amtrak at 800-872-7245 and refer to Convention Fare Code X92Y-967. Please note that this discount cannot be booked via Amtrak's web site—you must call Amtrak or your travel agent directly and mention the fare code. The offer is not valid on Auto Train and Acela Service but is valid with Sleepers, Business Class, or First Class seats with payment of the full applicable accommodation charges.

Car rental: Attendees can also arrange to rent a car through Hertz Rent-a-Car, with discounted rates effective from January 4 through January 14, 2010. Contact Hertz at 800-654-3131, noting ID number CV#031C0014. International callers, 800-654-3001 and hearing impaired (TDD) 800-654-2280.

Ground Transportation from Airport

Located three miles northwest of downtown San Diego, San Diego International Airport—sometimes called Lindbergh Field—(SAN) (www.san.org) hosts 25 carriers in three terminals (Commuter, Terminal 1, and Terminal 2). Carriers include all the major airlines, including American, Continental, Delta, JetBlue, Northwest, Southwest (the largest in terms of carriers with 33 percent of the volume), United, and USAirways. Departures are not allowed from the San Diego airport between 11:30 P.M. and 6:30 A.M. The airport's Red Bus offers free transportation services from terminal-to-terminal, running about every 10 minutes. There are curbside Red Bus stops at each of the three terminals. For the convenience of people with disabilities, the Red Bus vehicles are all wheelchair accessible.

Alternative to San Diego International Airport: LAX

Travelers will have greater access to additional carriers and flight options (including less expensive "red eye" flights) flying into Los Angeles International Airport (LAX). Travelers can catch FlyAway, an express bus service that goes directly from LAX to Amtrak's Union Station in downtown Los Angeles. The FlyAway fare is $3 for adults, $2 for children. The bus departs to and from Union Station every half hour between 5:00 A.M. and 1:00 A.M. and every hour between 1:00 and 5:00 A.M. Passengers will arrive at Amtrak's Santa Fe Depot in downtown San Diego, and are within short walking distance to the hotels. The train from LAX to San Diego costs $29 one way.

Transportation Services at the Airport

Shuttle, bus, and taxi service are available at the Transportation Plazas across from Terminals 1 and 2 and curbside at the Commuter Terminal. Passengers must use the skybridge to cross the street. Transportation coordinators assist passengers in finding their preferred method of traveling to their hotel. A cab ride to the downtown Gaslamp District ranges from $12 to $15. Rates for pay shuttles vary widely, based on destination, persons per van, and number of stops. Generally, however, service from the airport to the downtown hotels range from $7 to $14 per person.

Public Transit at the Airport

The Metropolitan Transit System (MTS) public bus, Flyer Route No. 992, is available to the downtown area for a fare of $2.25. The fare for a senior or disabled rider is $1. Exact fare is required, as the drivers cannot make change. Buses depart the airport for downtown approximately every 10 to 15 minutes. Buses travel downtown between 6:00 A.M. and midnight. Day Tripper Passes are also available for $5 per day, $9 for two consecutive days, $12 for three consecutive days, and $15 for four consecutive days. Riders can purchase from ticket vending machines as bus stops and from bus drivers.

Car Rental

All car rental agencies are located off-site, so there are no service counters at the San Diego airport. Travelers can, however, use the car rental reservations boards and courtesy phones located near the baggage claim areas in Terminals 1 and 2. Free shuttles operate every few minutes from the airport's Transportation Plazas to off-site rental offices for most major companies (Avis, Alamo, Hertz, Enterprise, Thrifty, etc.).

Ground Transportation from Santa Fe Depot (Amtrak)

Amtrak's Santa Fe Depot is located in the Centre City area (downtown) San Diego at 1050 Kettner Blvd. The station is open daily from 5:15 A.M. to 10:30 P.M. Although within walking distance to the meeting hotels, unfamiliar travelers with luggage will find it easier to take the short cab ride (approximately $5) to their hotels. Amtrak at Santa Fe Depot station offers rail service from San Diego with 11 round trips to Los Angeles, continuing to Santa Barbara and San Luis Obispo. Also available at the Santa Fe Depot station is access to the Coaster, local commuter train service, and the San Diego Trolley.

A Note about Taxicabs in San Diego

Taxicab stands are located at the airport and the hotels. The fare will display on a meter and includes a flag drop charge plus a per-mile and/ or a per-hour charge. Current taxi rates of fare are $2.20 first one-tenth mile, $2.30 each additional mile, and $19 per hour waiting time.

Getting around in San Diego

Finding your way around downtown San Diego by car is fairly straightforward. But, as in any city, be prepared to navigate a few tricky one-way streets, and, once you get where you're going, you'll have to find a place to park or hire a valet service to find one for you. The best advice is to know before you go—figure out where you're going, plan out your day, and map out your route. Make advance reservations for prime dining hours at popular restaurants. Carry cash and coin for the many self-pay lots and parking meters around town. There are also several large parking structures serving areas nearby meeting hotels in the Gaslamp District and the Convention Center.

Perhaps the best way to visit downtown is by taxi or by public transportation. San Diego is served by an excellent trolley and bus network that will take you virtually anywhere you want to go (619-685-3004; www.sdcommute.com). There's also horse-drawn carriages and bicycle-powered rickshaws called pedi-cabs around the Gaslamp Quarter. With a decent sense of direction and a little common street sense, it's relatively safe and easy to make your way around downtown San Diego on foot.

The San Diego Trolley (www.sdmts.com/Trolley/Trolley.asp) is a trolley-style light rail public transportation system serving greater San Diego and consists of three lines, Blue, Orange, and Green. It is distinguished by its 134 bright red, electric powered trains. The trolley's three routes cover 50 miles and serve 53 station stops. On all lines, the Trolleys run every 15 minutes, seven days a week. They run every 30 minutes late night and on weekend mornings and evenings. In addition, the Blue line runs every 7 minutes during weekday rush hours. Fares to ride the Trolley are self-serve, meaning you buy your tickets from kiosks. One-way adult fare is $2.50, there is no round-trip fare. Instead, single day trip fares are $5 for unlimited rides. There are no gates or turnstiles to board the Trolleys, but transit police do patrol for random fare inspection, so make sure you have valid tickets or you will be asked to leave at the next stop. Trolleys are accessible; older cars have wheelchair lifts and newer cars, primarily on the Green Line, have ground level ramps.

None of San Diego's big attractions—its famous beaches, museums, zoos, and amusement parks—are located downtown, so a visitor will need to rent a car or utilize public transportation. For example, the San Diego Trolley reaches many neighborhoods and areas with popular attractions and landmarks, such as Old Town, Mission Valley, and Fashion Valley.

Parking

Hotels

All hotels have parking available. Current published rates for each 24-hour period are: Manchester Grand Hyatt: $22 self service, valet $32; San Diego Marriott: $22 self service, valet $32; Hilton San Diego Bayfront: $21 self service, valet $32; Embassy Guest Suites San Diego Bay Downtown: no self service, valet $29.

Additional Parking Options

Parking zones throughout San Diego feature color coordinated curbs and/or signs to help drivers quickly identify parking rules for the area. A red curb means "no stopping any time." When signs are used in place of a red curb, the prohibition is in effect on the days and times specified on the sign. White curbs indicate a passenger loading zone, and vehicles are allowed to stop for the purpose of loading or unloading passengers. The time limit is three minutes, or ten minutes in front of a hotel. Yellow curbs designate a commerical loading zone with vehicles permitted to stop for 20 minutes to load or unload goods. These zones are in effect from 6:00 A.M. to 6:00 P.M., Sundays excepted. Blue curbs signify disabled persons parking zones, and vehicles displaying a distinguishing placard or license plate issued to a disable person by California may park in the zone. Out-of-state placards are also honored. Green curbs denote a shortterm time limit parking zone, and parking is limited to the time period stenciled on the curb or posted on a sign. In most cases, the time limit is either 15 or 30 minutes. Short-term time limit parking zones are in effect from 8:00 A.M. to 6:00 P.M., Sundays excepted.

Downtown San Diego has more than 55,000 parking spaces, many in large parking facilities. As the meeting hotels are near the convention center, there are several possibilities. There is a 2,000-space structure on the corner of Harbor and Eighth Avenue. There are additional lots within blocks of the hotels. As they are individually owned and operated, prices will vary according to location.

Sign Interpreting

In order to make the necessary arrangements, hearing-impaired members who will need sign-interpreting service at the AHA annual meeting must notify the Headquarters Office and register for the meeting by December 1, 2008. After reviewing the program, but not later than December 1, members who have made such requests should inform Headquarters of the sessions they plan to attend. Headquarters will then, with the assistance of the Local Arrangements Committee and the Registry of Interpreters, secure the services of appropriate interpreters. The AHA will assume the cost for up to nine hours of interpreting service or a maximum of $400 per member, whichever is less.

An American Sign Language interpreter will be provided for the General Meeting (Friday, January 8, 8:30 P.M.) and the Annual Business Meeting (Saturday, January 9, 4:45 P.M.). Please contact Sharon K. Tune, Convention Director, AHA, 400 A Street SE, Washington, DC 20003, by December 2 to stune@historians.org.

Meeting Registration

Intending participants are urged to preregister at the reduced rates of $152 members, $173 nonmembers, $74 student members, $84 student nonmembers, $74 retired and unemployed, and $37 precollegiate teacher (evidence of employment is required for the precollegiate teachers' rate). The AHA also offers special preregistration rates of $50 for middle and high school teachers and $100 for undergraduate teachers each leading groups of up to five students. A preregistration form is included as an insert in the program and is available through the AHA headquarters office. Attendees can also preregister online via a link on the AHA's web site (www.historians.org/annual). Please note that preregistration for the 2010 meeting will be handled by a processing service and forms should be sent to the address on the form and not to the AHA office. Events of the AHA Working Group for Historical Perspectives on Same-Sex Marriage

The passage of Proposition 8 in California in November 2008 prompted the submission of a resolution at the AHA Business Meeting in January 2009. To implement the resolution passed by the AHA Council, a working group was formed to create a threaded miniconference at the 2010 meeting to explore historical perspectives on same-sex marriage. Working group members are Kristin Hoganson (University of Illinois at Urbana-Champaign) representing the 2010 Program Committee, Leisa Meyer (College of William and Mary) as co-chair of the AHA's LGBTQ Historians Task Force, and James Green (Brown University), as well as the AHA vice presidents—Karen Halttunen (University of Southern California) of the Teaching Division, who also chairs the group; David Weber (Southern Methodist University) of the Professional Division; and Iris Berger (University of Albany, SUNY) of the Research Division. As charged by the Council and AHA President Laurel Ulrich, the group developed special events and sessions on the subjects of marriage, sexuality, and the social constructions of domestic unions.

The working group's goal was to include histories of marriage and sexuality that range across historical time, geographic space, and thematic focus. There has been a significant expansion of historical scholarship in recent times on the subjects of marriage, sexuality, and the social constructions of domestic unions. The following sessions and events were developed to feature some of this cutting-edge scholarship that illuminates our understanding of these complex and historically contingent institutions and practices.

Meeting site: Meet in the Hyatt's George Bush Room at 2:00 P.M. for a bus to Presidio Hill

Tour Leader: Iris Engstrand, University of San Diego

Find out where the American state of Description: California actually began. Join a bus tour that will visit the Serra Museum atop Presidio Hill, where in 1769 Franciscan Father Junípero Serra and Spanish military leaders founded Mission San Diego de Alcalá—first in California—and established an encampment that would turn into a Presidio (royal fortress) a few years later. It is today the only museum devoted to the Spanish colonial period, and is usually closed to the public. The mission itself was moved to a more appropriate site six miles inland-second stop on our tour-where it has been fully restored. The church is a perfect example of simple mission frontier architecture. The mission was attacked by Indians, rebuilt, secularized, used as U.S. Army headquarters during the U.S.-Mexican War, and is today a parish church. The quiet, peaceful valley is no more-but you can imagine what it was like during the eighteenth century.

Limit: 48 people

Fee: $15

What San Diego Has to Offer

San Diego is California's second largest city, bordered by Mexico, the Pacific Ocean, the Anza-Borrego Desert, and the Laguna Mountains. San Diego County's 4,200 square miles offer numerous options for the first-time—or return—visitor. First-time San Diego visitors may want to start out with an Old Town Trolley tour. It is a great way to see and learn about San Diego and find out what you're most interested in seeing. Balboa Park (www.balboapark.org) is also a must-see because it has something for everyone with its beautiful gardened walks, numerous museums, a science center with IMAX, restaurants, the San Diego Zoo, and a playground.

Downtown San Diego is neatly packed into a single square-mile grid between the 5 freeway and the Harbor. It has skyscrapers, old turn-of-the-century buildings, and peaceful parks. Visitors can enjoy dining in Little Italy, shopping at Horton Plaza, taking in an opera at the Civic Center, exploring an aircraft carrier at the Harbor, and dancing in the Gaslamp Quarter, all in the space of a few dozen city blocks. Close to the international airport, cruise ship terminal, Balboa Park museums, and world-renowned San Diego Zoo, downtown San Diego where the meeting hotels are located is a good starting point.

FILM FESTIVAL

THURSDAY, JANUARY 7, 5:30-7:30 P.M.

Hyatt, Randle Ballroom D

World Premiere Manifest Destiny: To Conquer or Redeem

Sharon Wood, producer and director (Lucasfilm, 2009)

To Conquer or Redeem tells the dramatic story of the Spanish-American and U.S.-Philippine wars in the context of continental expansion and conquest. As Part One of Manifest Destiny, a documentary series on U.S. foreign policy, this film tracks the evolving role of exceptionalism as a rebellious colony grew into a continental power and then an overseas empire. Viewers will never see William McKinley—or these wars—the same way again.

Mark Philip Bradley (University of Chicago) will introduce the film, and Sharon Wood will be present to participate in the post-screening discussion led by Professor Bradley.

FILM FESTIVAL

Friday, January 8, 4:30-6:30 p.m.

Hyatt, Randle Ballroom D

An Island Calling

Annie Goldson, producer/writer/director; Owen Scott, writer; Theresa Koroivulaono, consultant (Occasional Productions, 2008)

On July 1, 2001, prominent couple John Scott and his partner Greg Scrivener were murdered in their Suva, Fiji home. This film traces the extraordinary and colorful story of the Scott family, the political crises that have marked Fiji's recent history, the killings and their aftermath, and the complex mix of tribal authority, ethnicity, Christianity, and democracy that exist in the postcolonial Pacific.

Filmmaker Annie Goldson (University of Auckland), Vilsoni Hereniko (University of Hawai'i at Manoa), and Tarcicius Kabutaulaka (University of Hawai'i at Manoa) will introduce the film and lead a discussion afterward.

The screening is co-sponsored by the AHA Working Group for Historical Perspectives on Same-Sex Marriage and the Committee on Lesbian, Gay, Bisexual, and Transgender History.

FILM FESTIVAL

SATURDAY, JANUARY 9, 11:00 A.M.-1:00 P.M.

Hyatt, Randle Ballroom D

Ruins

Jesse Lerner, director (1999)

Jesse Lerner's Ruins is a hybrid film that blurs the line between fiction and documentary, and melds culturally skewed anthropological films, staged scenes, and documentation about a Mexican antiquities forger to question not only the traditional reception and understanding of pre-Columbian culture, but also our very assumptions of historical truth as mediated through the camera lens.

Matthew Restall (Penn State University, and editor, Ethnohistory) will introduce the film, and director Jesse Lerner will be present to participate in the post-screening discussion led by Professor Restall.

205. Poster Session

Hyatt, Elizabeth Ballroom E

Offered for the fifth time at the 2010 annual meeting, this poster session provides a venue for the newest developing historical research. Though relatively new to the humanities, poster sessions have long been utilized at professional meetings in scientific fields. On sessions with several panel participants, audience interaction is limited to brief discussion periods—usually only a few people are able to ask questions and each presenter may not have time to discuss their research fully. The two-hour poster session addresses this common problem, allowing for considered dialogue and engaging interaction.

The 2010 Program Committee encourages all meeting attendees to visit the poster sessions on display in the Hyatt's Elizabeth Ballroom E. The following presenters will be available to discuss their posters between 2:30 and 4:30 P.M. on Saturday, January 9:

FILM FESTIVAL

Hyatt, Randle Ballroom D

Ararat

Atom Egoyan, director, writer (Miramax Films, 2002)

Atom Egoyan's thought-provoking film compels us to experience the toxicity of genocide and the ways it continues to cast shadows on the lives of Armenians and others years after its bloody unfolding. Its harrowing aftershocks animate a movie maker, an art history professor, a confused young Armenian, and a screenplay writer as they explore what it means to them. Their ideas and ideals are tested by others who have no connection with the genocide but who serve as catalysts to their struggle to come to terms with what happened so long ago.

Laurence Baron (California State University, San Diego) will introduce the film and lead a discussion afterward.

FILM FESTIVAL

SATURDAY, JANUARY 9, 5:00-7:00 P.M.

Hyatt, Randle Ballroom D

Tabu: A Story of the South Seas

F.W. Murnau, director, writer, and producer; Robert Flaherty, writer and producer (Kino International, 1931)

Tabu started out as a collaboration of two of the most distinguished filmmakers of the 1920s, F.W. Murnau and R.J. Flaherty. Completed by Murnau and shot on locations in Tahiti, Bora Bora, and Morea, the film tells the story of a young Pacific island couple falling in love and thereby violating a local taboo. Tabu, released in 1931 just days after Murnau's untimely death, was rightly called "the apogee of the art of silent film." It was often interpreted as a commentary on Hollywood by two drop-outs of the studio system, but it also establishes—in beautiful images—a powerful argument for inevitable tragedy. Screened courtesy of Kino International, kino.com.

Olaf Stieglitz (Muenster University) and Massimo Perinelli (University of Cologne) will introduce the film and lead a discussion afterward.

The American Historical Association Announces:

The Raymond J. Cunningham Prize for the Best Article by an Undergraduate Student

The American Historical Association offers the Raymond J. Cunningham Prize for the best article written by an undergraduate student and published in a history department journal. This prize, to be awarded annually, was established in memory of Raymond J. Cunningham, who was an associate professor of history at Fordham University. He was an authority on the American historian, Herbert Baxter Adams.

- To be eligible for the prize, the article must have been published in a history department journal.
- To be considered for the 2010 competition, the entry must have been published between May 1, 2009, and April 30, 2010.
- Each history department journal may nominate ONE article. Only entries from a journal will be accepted. Each nomination must include a brief letter of support (no more than two pages) along with the article submitted as an entry.
- One copy of each entry must be sent to each of the prize committee members (whose names will be announced in February 2010).
- The winning author and the winning journal will each receive a $200 prize.

For application proceedures and other information log onto the AHA's web site at www.historians.org/prizes/Cunningham.cfm.

The Martin A. Klein Prize in African History

Martin A. Martin The AHA invites entries for the Martin A. Klein Prize in African History. The prize is intended to recognize the most distinguished work of scholarship on African history published in English during the previous calendar year. The books must focus primarily on continental Africa (including 1884-200 those islands usually treated as countries of Africa). Eligibility will otherwise be defined quite broadly, to include books on any period of African history and from any disciplinary field that incorporates a historical perspective. In making its selection, the prize committee will pay particular attention to methodological innovation, conceptual originality and literary excellence. Works that reinterpret old themes or develop new theoretical perspectives are welcome. Anthologies, encyclopedias, and other edited volumes will not be considered.

Books published in the period January 1 through December 31, 2009, may be submitted by authors or publishers, by sending one copy to each of the three members of the committee. Details about the prize can be found online at www.historians.org/prizes/index. cfm?PrizeAbbrev=Klein. The names and contact information for the three committee members will also be posted on that web page after March 30, 2010. Entries will not be returned.

The prize is named for Martin A. Klein, who is currently professor of history at the University of Toronto. Funding for the prize was completed thanks to a substantial donation from Dr. Mougo Nyaggah of California State University at Fullerton and his wife, Dr. Lynette Nyaggah. Mougo Nyaggah was Klein's first graduate student at the University of California at Berkeley. Nyaggah credits the completion of his doctorate to Klein's mentoring, guidance, enthusiasm, and commitment to the research and teaching of African history.

> Entries for both prizes must be postmarked on or by MAY 15, 2010, to be considered for the 2010 competition.

The Roy Rosenzweig Fellowship for Innovation in Digital History

In 2010, the American Historical Association and the Center for History and New Media will offer the second Roy Rosenzweig Fellowship for Innovation in Digital History. This award was developed by friends and colleagues of Roy Rosenzweig (1950–2007), Mark and Barbara Fried Professor of History and New Media at George Mason University, to honor his life and work as a pioneer in the field of digital history.

This nonresidential fellowship will be awarded annually to honor and support work on an innovative and freely available new media project, and in particular for work that reflects thoughtful, critical, and rigorous engagement with technology and the practice of history. The fellowship will be conferred on a project that is either in a late stage of development or which has been launched in the past year but is still in need of further improvements. The fellow(s) will be expected to apply awarded funds toward the advancement of the project goals during the fellowship year.

In a 1-2 page narrative, entries should provide a method of access to the project (e.g., web site address, software download), indicate the institutions and individuals involved with the project, and describe the project's goals, functionality, intended audience, and significance. A short budget statement on how the fellowship funds will be used should be attached. Projects may only be submitted once for the Rosenzweig Fellowship.

The entry should be submitted by e-mail to rosenzweigprize@historians.org. Questions about the prize and application process should be directed to rtownsend@historians.org. Recipients will be announced at the AHA's 124th Annual Meeting, January 6–9, 2011, in Boston.

The next deadline for submission of entries is May 14, 2010.

For more information, log onto the AHA's web site at www.historians.org/prizes/Rosenzweig_Fellowship.cfm

Historians TV at the 124th Annual Meeting

uring the 124th Annual Meeting, the American Historical Association will continue its partnership with WebsEdge of London to produce a daily television program, HistoriansTV, a production that began earnestly last year at the 123rd Annual Meeting in New York City and was a rousing success.

Each day of the meeting a new 30-minute news program will be broadcast which will include interviews with key speakers, news from the meeting floor, and several five-minute, prerecorded "thought leadership films" that will highlight programs, policies, technologies, best practices, and institutions that advance the goal of historical research, collections, historical scholarship, public history, and education. These feature segments will profile historical research centers, government agencies, libraries and archives, colleges and universities, museums, historical attractions, and institutions from around the country.

The daily news will be broadcast each day on a dedicated TV channel in the hotel rooms of meeting attendees at no charge and on several plasma screens placed in the meeting hotels, the Manchester Grand Hyatt and the San Diego Marriott Hotel & Marina. Portions of the recorded shows will also be available on a designated web site after the meeting and on HistoriansTV DVDs to be made available to members after the meeting.

The daily news programs will include prefilmed material to bring key issues, programs, and interviews to attendees and will be recorded by reporters with experience on BBC and CNN (the head of production has served as the BBC Evening News Producer for over a decade). Major speeches and reactions to the day at the meeting itself are filmed and included as part of the evening news show. At the meeting there will be a HistoriansTV reporter reporting from the meeting, as well as a HistoriansTV news desk. Television cameras will be on site at the meeting each day, interviewing attendees, visiting the exhibit hall, and taping major daily events. The daily program will be edited onsite to ensure that up-to-the minute news is covered. Each day a new 30- to 45-minute show is produced. The programming is supported by a TV Program Guide which will be included in attendee registration packs distributed at the meeting with badges.

Check the AHA's web site at www.historians.org/annual for more information. To view program footage from last year's annual meeting, go to the HistoriansTV web site at: www.historianstv.com.

HistoriansTV—be sure to look out for it at the 124th Annual Meeting!

The following members of the AHA completed their 50th year of continuous membership in the Association during 2009. The list also includes members who have already achieved this honor.

People, Places, and Power—the Story of American Democracy

Of the People

A History of the United States IAMES OAKES, MICHAEL McGERR, JAN ELLEN LEWIS, NICK CULLATHER, and JEANNE BOYDSTON

f the People not only tells the history of America—of its people and places, of its dealings and ideals—but it also unfolds the story of American democracy, carefully marking how this country's evolution has been anything but certain, from its complex beginnings to its modern challenges.

This comprehensive survey focuses on the social and political lives of people—some famous, some ordinary—revealing the compelling story of America's democracy from an individual perspective, from across the landscapes of diverse communities, and ultimately from within the larger context of the world.

UNKNOWN SOLDIERS The American Expeditionary Forces in Memory and Remembrance Edited by Mark A. Snell

When the United States declared war in April 1917, President Woodrow Wilson sent the American Expeditionary Forces (AEF) to the Western Front. This collection of essays draws on previously unheard voices, including memoirs, autobiographies, official records, and oral histories, to examine how the wartime generation and those that followed have remembered and commemorated the AEF. 978-0-87338-940-2

ORLANDO M. POE CIVIL WAR GENERAL AND GREAT LAKES ENGINEER Paul Taylor

After joining the Union Army in 1861, Orlando M. Poe commanded the 2nd Michigan Infantry before being appointed chief engineer by William T. Sherman to oversee the burning of Atlanta and Sherman's March to the Sea. Mining an extensive collection of Poe's unpublished personal papers, Paul Taylor brings to life the story of one of the nineteenth-century's most overlooked war heroes.

DISPATCHES FROM BERMUDA

The Civil War Letters of Charles Maxwell Allen, U.S. Consul at Bermuda, 1861–1888 Edited by Glen N. Wiche

During his time as U.S. consul to Bermuda, Charles Maxwell Allen's post became one of vital importance to the United States as this British colony became a center for Confederate blockade-running activities. Allen's letters shed new light on two often overlooked aspects of the war: the Union blockade of southern seaports and the effort to bring war supplies through the blockade to the Confederate states.

NATO AND THE WARSAW PACT

Intrabloc Conflicts

Edited by Mary Anne Heiss
and S. Victor Papacosma

This collection of essays utilizes a wide range of case studies to explore the oftensignificant tensions within the two blocs that faced off during the decades of the Cold War. In approaching the Cold War-era alliances from a new angle, this volume adds to the literature in recent international history.

"SPUR UP YOUR PEGASUS"
Family Letters of Salmon,
Kate, and Nettie Chase,
1844–1873
Edited by James P. McClure, Peg A. Lamphier, and

Erika M. Kreger

Often separated from his family due to the demands of his career as a lawyer and antislavery politician, Salmon P. Chase maintained his relationship with his daughters by the frequent exchange of letters. The letters in this volume—from Chase to his daughters, from his daughters to him and to each other-span from when Kate was a young child and Nettie not yet born to their father's death in 1873. "Spur Up Your Pegasus" provides important insights into the personal lives and private thoughts of a prominent political family. 978-0-87338-988-4

A PASSION FOR THE

John F. Seiberling and the Environmental Movement Daniel Nelson

After his successful campaign to protect Ohio's Cuvahoga Valley, Congressman John F. Seiberling used his increasingly influential position to foster urban parks, transform Alaska, and make wilderness protection a hallmark of the new approach to lands management. Based largely on correspondence and other previously unused materials, this biography examines Seiberling's role in the creation of millions of acres of protected wilderness in national forests.

JOURNALS FROM INDIANA UNIVERSITY PRESS

Transition: An International Review

EDITED BY F. ABIOLA IRELE AND TOMMIE SHELBY-Transition is an international review of politics, culture, and ethnicity. Its writers fill the magazine's pages with unusual dispatches, unforgettable memoirs, unorthodox polemics, unlikely conversations, and unsurpassed original fiction.

Race / Ethnicity: Multidisciplinary Global Contexts

EDITED BY JOHN A. POWELL AND MAC A. STEWART—Race/Ethnicity offers a critical intervention in contemporary thinking on race and ethnicity by recognizing and responding to shared challenges. Through a multidisciplinary approach and a willingness simultaneously to engage theory, practice, and other forms of knowledge, the journal offers new ways to exchange vital information.

History & Memory

EDITED BY GADI ALGAZI—History & Memory explores the manifold ways in which the past shapes the present and is shaped by present perceptions. It focuses on a wide range of questions relating to the formation of historical consciousness and collective memory in different periods, societies, and cultures, from official representations of the past in public monuments and commemorations to the role of oral history and personal narratives, and the renewed relevance of history writing for emerging nations and social conflicts.

The Global South

EDITED BY ADETAYO ALABI—The Global South is an interdisciplinary journal that focuses on how world literatures and cultures respond to globalization. Its premise is that the various Souths—from the North American South to the European South, Latin and Central America, Africa, Asia, and Australia—share comparable experiences that differentiate them from mainstream and hegemonic cultures in their locations. Since many of these Souths share not necessarily a common wealth, but various issues of marginalization and inadequate access to means of production and amenities under globalization, The Global South is concerned with the intersections among their experiences.

Indiana Journal of Global Legal Studies

EDITED BY HANNAH BUXBAUM, JOST DELBRÜCK, AND CHRISTIANA OCHOA—IJGLS is instrumental in creating a new and important body of scholarship, as well as an analytical framework that will enhance understanding of the nature of law and society in the current global era. It is a joint publication of Indiana University Press and the Indiana University Maurer School of Law. Print subscription orders should be directed to the journal at the Maurer School of Law, 211 South Indiana Avenue, Bloomington, Indiana 47405; 812-855-8717; ijqls@indiana.edu. Orders for online subscriptions should be directed to the IU Press.

The University of Georgia Press, New York University Press, and Northern Illinois University Press announce a collaborative book series supported by the

Andrew W. Mellon Foundation

www.earlyamericanplaces.org

EARLY AMERICAN PLACES focuses on the history of North America from contact to the Mexican War, locating historical developments in the specific places where they occurred and were contested. Though these developments often involved far-flung parts of the world, they were experienced in particular communities—the local places where people lived, worked, and made sense of their changing worlds. By restricting its focus to smaller geographic scales, but stressing that towns, colonies, and regions were part of much larger networks, Early American Places will combine up-to-date scholarly sophistication with an emphasis on local particularities and trajectories. Books in the series will be revised dissertations exclusively.

The collaborating presses' responsibilities are divided geographically. Georgia will focus on the southeastern colonies, the plantation economies of the Caribbean, and the Spanish borderlands. NYU will cover the northeastern and middle Atlantic colonies, and French and British Canada. Northern Illinois will cover the Great Lakes, the Upper Mississippi Valley, and the Great Plains.

Program Benefits:

- Publication of first books by scholars
- Royalty advances for authors in the series
- Aggressive marketing and promotion through exhibits, direct mail, and advertising targeted to members of the American Historical Association, the Organization of American Historians, the Omohundro Institute of Early American History and Culture, the Society for Historians of the Early American Republic, the American Society for Ethnohistory, the Southern Historical Association, and the Western Historical Association

THE PAPERS OF JAMES MADISON DIGITAL EDITION

J. C. A. Stagg, Editor in Chief

The Papers of James Madison documents the life and work of one of the most important political and constitutional thinkers in our nation's history. A vital project that continues to add new volumes, this publication has been consulted for decades by scholars and students for primary-source material by and about the fourth president. Rotunda now makes this invaluable resource available in a new online edition. This new digital edition collects all the volumes published thus far in the print edition's Secretary of State series and Presidential series—as well as the Congressional series, including now-out-of-print volumes that are becoming increasingly difficult to find. New volumes will be added to the digital edition in periodic installments, rounding out the most extensive collection available of the fourth president's writings.

This online resource contains all of the editorial content of the print edition and adds to this a powerful XML-based search functionality, linked cross-references, and the ability to navigate chronologically or by series volume. As part of the new Rotunda platform, it can be included in searches across the entire American Founding Era Collection, providing invaluable additional context to the great statesman's works.

Ways of the World A Brief Global History with Sources

Robert W. Strayer, California State University-Monterey Bay

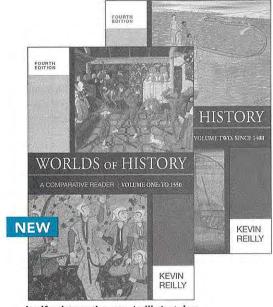

Ways of the World: A Brief Global History with Sources combines a global narrative with written and visual primary source features. Each chapter offers a narrative that is written to be brief and end-of-chapter sources sets that focus on a theme presented in the chapter. The accessible voice of a single author delivers to students an insightful new synthesis, thought-provoking questions, and narrative ending reflections on the meaning of world history. Available in full color and in combined and split volumes, the Ways of the World docutext is everything you need for your world history survey.

Ways of the World: A Brief Global History with Sources provides a superb balance between historical narrative and primary documents that allows the student to engage in a critical analysis of major world civilizations, cultures, and events. Introductions to documents and marginalia offer provocative questions asking students to probe both the individual significance of events and sources, and to make all-important connections to the larger picture. In addition, the visual essays add a new and fresh dimension to the critical analysis of specific events and issues in world history.
