On the Cover

The 2027 annual meeting illustration was designed by AHA marketing coordinator Rebecca L. West. The image draws inspiration from the architecture and dynamic streetscapes of New Orleans, as well as the diverse, vibrant people of the city. The details of wrought iron balconies, hanging ferns and creeping jenny, and street sign lamp posts are all part of the city's distinct visual culture.

All-Gender Restrooms

All are welcome to use the restroom that best fits their identity. All-gender, single-occupancy restrooms will be available at the New Orleans Marriott on the lobby level and the fourth floor. All-gender restrooms at the Sheraton New Orleans will be located on the third floor near the Napoleon Ballroom (no urinals).

Meetup and Coworking Space

A space with tables and seating to get some work done and connect with others will be located in the Lagniappe Room, Sheraton New Orleans; additional seating will be located in the Studio Hall Foyer, New Orleans Marriott. Look for special meetup events throughout the meeting; see historians.org/meetups for details.

Multifaith Room

A private space for faith practice or meditation will be available in the Jackson Room, New Orleans Marriott. Please note this is not limited to silent observation.

Nursing Rooms

Nursing rooms will be provided in the Audubon Room, New Orleans Marriott and the Napoleon Office, Sheraton New Orleans.

Quiet Rooms

Quiet rooms will be located at the Beauregard Room, New Orleans Marriott and the Poydras Room, Sheraton New Orleans. The rooms are available for all conference attendees as a place for a few minutes of quiet time. Please do not make phone calls in the quiet rooms.

Session Icons

These icons identify presidential sessions and film screenings, starting on p. 17.

The 140th annual meeting of the Association will be held January 7–10, 2027, in New Orleans, Louisiana. More than 1,500 scholars will participate in the four-day meeting. In addition, 42 specialized societies and organizations have scheduled sessions and events in partnership with the Association. AHA awards and honors will be announced on Thursday, January 7, followed by a plenary session. AHA president Suzanne Marchand will deliver the presidential address on Friday, January 8.

Land Acknowledgment

The American Historical Association acknowledges that the land on which New Orleans sits was once called Bulbancha, a Choctaw term meaning “place of many languages.” This place belonged to the Chitimachas’ homeland and served as an important trade and transportation hub for many different Indigenous peoples, including the Acolapissas, Bayagoulas, Choctaws, Houmas, and Biloxis. We are meeting this year on the historic and contemporary lands of several nations, including, but not limited to, the Chitimacha Tribe of Louisiana, the United Houma Nation, the Tunica-Biloxi Tribe of Louisiana, the Jena Band of Choctaw Indians, the Grand Caillou/Dulac Band, and the Isle de Jean Charles Band.

Hotel Accommodations

The AHA has reserved blocks of rooms at the following hotels:

	Single	Double	Triple	Quadruple
New Orleans Marriott (co-hdqrs.) 555 Canal St.	$195	$215	$235	$255
Sheraton New Orleans (co-hdqrs.) 500 Canal St.	$195	$215	$235	$255
JW Marriott New Orleans 614 Canal St.	$207	$227	$247	$267

Please see the AHA Housing website (historians.org/hotels) for details. Guests who reserve discounted rooms through the AHA housing service will not be charged an additional destination fee.

Making a Hotel Reservation

Attendees should reserve a room through the AHA’s housing service, Maritz. Attendees can make reservations online through a link on the AHA website or by calling 864.641.1557. International registrants may call 864.641.1557. Attendees interested in reserving suites should email AHA@maritz.com for more information about suite types and rates.

Reservation Dates

Reservations can be made online or by phone between September 15 and December 16, 2026. The last day to make or change reservations through the housing service is December 16, 2026. After that date, remaining inventory in each hotel’s block will be released and rates are no longer guaranteed. After December 22, all reservations, changes, and cancellations must be made directly with the hotels.

Credit Card Guarantee

All reservations must be guaranteed with a major credit card valid through February 2027. The credit card used to guarantee your reservation may be charged a deposit by the hotel on or after December 17, 2027. Cancellations must be made 72 hours prior to the scheduled arrival date or hotels will charge a cancellation fee of one night’s room and tax.

Meeting Registration

Take advantage of reduced rates by preregistering for the conference. Make sure your membership is up to date so you can enjoy member pricing at each level.

Reserve a hotel room in the AHA block through the AHA housing service before registering for the meeting and receive a $50 discount off meeting registration. (You will not receive a discount refund if you register before booking a room.) Register online at historians.org/register.

Advance registration must be completed by midnight on December 15, 2026. Thereafter, onsite rates will apply. Registration materials, including badges, will be distributed at the meeting during registration hours, posted on page vi.

Everyone attending the meeting must register. In addition, all US historians presenting at AHA sessions must be AHA members. Admission to the Exhibit Hall requires a registration badge.

Refund Policy

Advance registrants who are unable to attend the meeting may request a refund of their registration fee. Cancellations and refund requests must be submitted by December 15, 2026. Refunds will be processed less a $25 administrative fee. No refunds will be issued for requests received after December 15, 2026—no exceptions. Refunds will not be given for no-shows. Cancellations and refund requests should be emailed to ltownsend@historians.org. Proof of payment may be required.

Accessibility Information

All meeting hotels have accessible lobbies with at least one entrance with auto-slide doors; door-service personnel are available at other entrances. Thresholds and doormats comply with American with Disabilities Act (ADA) regulations. Lobbies have marble floors and/or low-pile area carpeting. Elevators connect all levels of each property. Each elevator has a wheelchair-accessible keypad. Elevators either have audible announcements or Braille numerals beside each control button. Restrooms in lobbies and on meeting room floors are wheelchair accessible and have tactile signage.

All hotels have accessible registration desks or provide clipboards to guests to complete registration documentation. All hotels have accessible guest rooms. Among other amenities, these rooms feature wheelchair-accessible doors, lever door handles, security peepholes, ample room space, grab bars in restrooms, low sinks with insulated pipes, accessible towel racks, and accessible mirrors. The following auxiliary aids are available at most properties: flashing fire alarm, doorbell, and telephone; vibrating alarm clock; closed-caption decoders; Braille signage; and TDD telephones. Additional information about accessible sleeping rooms is available through Maritz, the AHA's housing service.

New Orleans Marriott

The Porte Cochere entrance is accessible; the Canal Street entrance has an ADA lift.

Meeting Rooms: All meeting rooms are accessible via elevator.

Parking: Valet parking only; contact the hotel about possible accommodations. Max height 5'9".

Sheraton New Orleans

The Motor Court entrance on Canal Street is accessible.

Meeting Rooms: All meeting rooms are accessible by elevator.

Parking: Accessible self-parking and valet parking. Max height 6'5".

JW Marriott New Orleans

Both the Canal Street and Common Street entrances are accessible; Canal requires a room key for access.

Parking: Valet parking only.

Accessible Transportation

Much of the public transportation system in New Orleans is accessible, including standard New Orleans Regional Transit Authority buses, the Red Streetcars, and some Green Streetcars. See neworleans.com/plan/transportation/accessible for additional information, including a list of cab companies with accessibility options.

Scooter and wheelchair rentals are available by contacting ScootAround (888.441.7575, scootaround.com) or Mobility City (504.380.9031, mobilitycity.com/new-orleans-la)

Service Animals Welcome

Service animals are welcome at all events, sessions, and venues. The ADA protects the right of people with disabilities to be accompanied by trained service animals in public places. Remember, not all disabilities are visible and service animals are not required to wear special equipment or tags. Service animals are working and should not be distracted without permission.

Fragrance

Please help us to accommodate attendees who are sensitive to fragrances by refraining from wearing scented products.

Sign Interpreting

Attendees with hearing impairment who will need sign-interpreting service must notify the AHA and register for the meeting by November 1, 2026. The request should include the sessions they plan to attend. The AHA will secure the services of appropriate interpreters. The AHA will assume the cost for up to nine hours of sign language interpreting service per attendee.

An interpreter may also be provided upon request for the presidential address (Friday, January 8) and the business meeting (Saturday, January 9).

Assistive listening devices are also available on request.

Please contact annualmeeting@historians.org by November 1, 2026, to request an interpreter or assistive listening device.

Health and Safety

The AHA and our meeting hotels are working together to follow public health best practices to make meeting attendance as safe as possible. We expect that all attendees will have been vaccinated for COVID-19 by the time of the meeting (and received a booster if possible). Masks are welcome for those that wear them. See historians.org/ampolicies for the latest information.

Code of Professional Conduct

The AHA is committed to creating and maintaining a harassment-free environment for all participants in the Association's activities, regardless of their actual or perceived sex, gender, gender expression, gender identity, sexual orientation, marital status, race, ethnicity, nationality, ability, socioeconomic status, veteran status, age, or religion. All members and participants, including employers, contractors, vendors, volunteers, and guests, are expected to engage in consensual and respectful behavior and to preserve AHA's standard of professionalism at all times. The policy pertains to all venues where officially sanctioned AHA conferences, meetings, and other activities occur.

Details, including procedures for addressing violations of the statement, are posted at historians.org/conduct.

Recording Policy

The AHA and the press occasionally record sessions for use in broadcast and electronic media, and film or photograph public areas at the meeting. Registration, attendance, or participation at the meeting constitutes an agreement to the use of the attendee's image in photographs, video, audio, and electronic communications. In order to encourage open debate and allow members to speak as freely as possible, the AHA does not permit audio or video recording of its business meeting. Anyone who wishes to conduct audio or video recording of sessions or events must obtain permission from participants in advance. The AHA is not responsible for unauthorized recording but does reserve the right to revoke registration of anyone who records sessions without appropriate permissions.

Social Media Policy

To facilitate virtual conversations arising from the annual meeting, the AHA encourages attendees to post on social media using #AHA27. Participants are encouraged to share their social media handles. Speakers presenting material that they do not wish to be shared in real time should make a request to the audience at the beginning of their presentations.

Childcare

Grants to subsidize childcare are available by application. Please visit historians.org/childcaregrants for more information.

Formal childcare services will not be provided at the meeting. Attendees should make arrangements directly with a provider such as Care.com or Sittercity.com prior to arriving in New Orleans. The AHA assumes no responsibility with respect to these services and accepts no liabilities related to the services provided.

Child Registration Policy

Parents and guardians whose children, 15 years old and younger, will accompany them to the meeting may bring their own child into the Exhibit Hall at no extra charge. Attendees ages 16 and up must register at the appropriate registration rate. The AHA assumes that parents and guardians will provide appropriate supervision for their children.

Business Meeting

The AHA Council, divisions, and committees will report to the Association at the annual business meeting. All information about the business meeting, including the agenda and procedures, will be available on historians.org/business-mtg in advance of the event. Only AHA members and others who receive permission from the Council may attend the business meeting. Please confirm in advance that your membership is up to date.

Affiliated Societies

AHA affiliated societies organize both joint sessions with the AHA and affiliate sessions not subject to Program Committee review. This practice is intended to promote collaboration and communication across the discipline, enable affiliates to have a presence at the conference, and facilitate networking between different organizations. Affiliate sessions are designated as such in the program.

A table in the Exhibit Hall has been set aside during normal hours for affiliated societies to display materials and to meet with members of the discipline on a rotating schedule. Check the online program for the schedule.

Organizing an Informal Meeting

The AHA has set aside space for small group conversations about historical and professional issues. Those interested in hosting an informal conversation with colleagues during the annual meeting can arrange a gathering in our coworking and meetup space. Members registered for the meeting may also reserve a room for small group meetings during the conference for board meetings, focus groups, or collaborative projects. See historians.org/meetups for details.

141st ANNUAL MEETING
SEATTLE
JANUARY 6–9, 2028

Call for Proposals

Deadline: February 15, 2027

We invite proposals for sessions in a variety of formats and encourage lively interaction among presenters and with the audience.

All historians are welcome and encouraged to submit proposals. The AHA also invites historically focused proposals from colleagues in related disciplines and from AHA affiliated societies. The Program Committee will consider all proposals that advance the study, teaching, and public presentation of history.

25. Articulating Shared Language About History Methods, Part 1, Collecting Historical Evidence

New Orleans Marriott, Iberville

Organized by the AHA Teaching Division

This is a seminar session. Seminars meet three times during the conference, allowing participants to sustain a conversation and build relationships. Participants will engage in collaborative discussion and analysis drawn on existing scholarship and examples from their own work. Seminar leaders will precirculate discussion documents. Participants must commit to attending all three sections of the seminar.

No charge; because space is limited, free advance registration is required. Potential participants should register by December 1.

Seminar facilitators will be in touch to confirm participation by mid-December. Graduate students are encouraged to apply. Seminar facilitators may allow additional auditors to attend, but auditors must contact the facilitators in advance.

50. Imperial Afterlives: Histories of the Present from Asia, Part 1—Histories of Asian Imperial Ambitions

New Orleans Marriott, Bacchus

This is a seminar session. Seminars meet three times during the conference, allowing participants to sustain a conversation and build relationships. Participants will engage in collaborative discussion and analysis drawn on existing scholarship and examples from their own work.

Seminar participants might precirculate work-in-progress, recently published work, and/or a suite of theoretical or methodological essays for discussion. The seminar is open to historians and historian-adjacent scholars at all stages; PhD students and early-career scholars are encouraged to apply.

Participants must commit to attending all three sections of the seminar.

No charge; because space is limited, free advance registration is required. Potential participants should register by December 1. Facilitators will be in touch to confirm participation by mid-December.

Seminar facilitators may allow additional auditors to attend, but auditors must contact the facilitators in advance.

Chair: Jeremy Tai, McGill University

This is part of a multisession workshop. See also sessions 153 and 227.

LOCAL ARRANGEMENTS COMMITTEE TOUR

Friday, January 8, 11:00 a.m.–1:00 p.m.

Tour 1: Free People of Color in Pre-Civil War New Orleans—The Historic New Orleans Collection

New Orleans Marriott, Studio 3

Tour leaders: Robert Ticknor, Libby Neidenbach, and Jari Honora, Historic New Orleans Collection

This tour highlights original materials on free people of color in the collections of the Historic New Orleans Collection (HNOC), a museum and research center in the French Quarter. Attendees will get an up-close look at important artifacts and documents not otherwise on view and learn about the unique and fascinating story of free people of color in New Orleans. The tour will highlight two recently acquired portraits by Louisiana's first native-born portraitist, free man of color Julien Hudson.

The presentation will explore the lasting contributions free people of color made to New Orleans as they developed their own institutions and built thriving communities in the pre-Civil War period.

After the presentation, attendees will walk to 520 Royal Street for a self-guided tour of HNOC's museum galleries. Current exhibitions include The History of the French Quarter Galleries; A Vanishing Bounty: Louisiana's Coastal Environment and Culture; New Orleans Musicians in Art; American Revolution: The Augmented Exhibition; and Bunny Matthews: His Life, Art, and Obsessions.

Please note: The group will walk approximately one mile on city sidewalks to 410 Chartres Street and 520 Royal Street; pavement may be uneven. Museum entrances and most galleries are ADA accessible; see the HNOC website for details.

Limit: 25 people. $40 members, $50 nonmembers.

FILM FESTIVAL

Friday, January 8, 1:00–3:00 p.m.

Film Festival: O'Connor Winner
Documentary—Bombshell

Sheraton New Orleans, Napoleon Ballroom C3

Ben Loeterman, writer and director (Ben Loeterman Productions, Inc. for American Experience, 2026)

Eighty years after the devastating atomic bombings that ushered in the nuclear age, Bombshell explores how the US government manipulated the narrative about the atomic bombings of the Japanese cities Hiroshima and Nagasaki. The government presented a benevolent picture of atomic power, minimizing the horrific human toll. Bombshell sheds light on the efforts of a group of intrepid reporters to let the world know the truth.

The filmmaker will introduce the film and lead a discussion afterward.

LOCAL ARRANGEMENTS COMMITTEE TOUR

Friday, January 8, 2:30–5:30 p.m.

Tour 2: 50 Years of Music History with Frenchmen NotesNew Orleans Marriott, Studio 3*

Tour Leaders: Jessica Dauterive, Midlo Center for New Orleans Studies, and Hannah Kreiger-Benson, Frenchmen Notes, will lead the walking tour; Laura DeFazio, Frenchmen Notes, and Ariety Fried, Midlo Center for New Orleans Studies, will lead the community history event.

Join us for a walking tour to celebrate the 50th anniversary of Frenchmen's first modern music club, The Dream Palace, and explore the vital cultural corridor's importance to New Orleans history. The tour concludes in DBA music club with a community history event where a band will perform and share stories about living and working as New Orleans musicians.

Frenchmen Street is in the Faubourg Marigny neighborhood in the city's 7th Ward, known for its rich history of musical, cultural, and political leaders. In 1971, the Frenchmen area was designated as part of the Historic Marigny District and soon after began its development into a local music scene. As nearby Bourbon Street became increasingly geared toward tourists, music clubs in the two-and-a-half-block strip known as "Frenchmen" provided a new place where local musicians worked and experimented with musical genres and performance styles.

Tour leaders work with Frenchmen Notes, a digital community archive that collects oral histories and cultural economy data that document the development of this pivotal scene—its complex history, heyday, and current state—for music fans, community members, and researchers alike.

Please note: Participants will travel to the New Orleans Jazz museum by bus and then walk approximately four blocks on city sidewalks from the museum to the club; pavement may be uneven. The group will return to the hotel by bus.

Limit 20 people. $55 members, $65 nonmembers.

153. Imperial Afterlives: Histories of the Present from Asia, Part 2—Decolonization and the Legacies of Afro-Asianisms

New Orleans Marriott, Bacchus

This is a seminar session. Seminars meet three times during the conference, allowing participants to sustain a conversation and build relationships. Participants will engage in collaborative discussion and analysis drawn on existing scholarship and examples from their own work.

Seminar participants might precirculate work-in-progress, recently published work, and/or a suite of theoretical or methodological essays for discussion. The seminar is open to historians and historian-adjacent scholars at all stages; PhD students and early-career scholars are encouraged to apply.

Participants must commit to attending all three sections of the seminar.

No charge; because space is limited, free advance registration is required. Potential participants should register by December 1. Facilitators will be in touch to confirm participation by mid-December.

Seminar facilitators may allow additional auditors to attend, but auditors must contact the facilitators in advance.

Chair: Mingwei Huang, Dartmouth College

WORKSHOP

Saturday, January 9, 8:30–10:00 a.m.

K–16 Educators' Workshop, Part 1:
International Affairs Revealed Through Primary Sources

Sheraton New Orleans, Grand Ballroom E

Primary sources such as speeches, letters, maps, photographs, telegrams, broadcasts, oral histories, and more can provide insight into the interests, activities, and values of individuals who influenced and were influenced by international affairs. They can also inspire conversations with students about similarities and differences between the past and the present, and they can motivate student research. In this hands-on workshop, Library of Congress education specialists will engage participants in teaching activities featuring some of their favorite sources and will provide tips and strategies for finding compelling and useful materials in the Library's extensive digitized collections at www.loc.gov.

Speaker: Lee Ann Potter, Library of Congress

Tour 3: The National WWII Museum

New Orleans Marriott, Studio 3

Tour Leaders: Jeremy Collins and historians from the museum’s Jenny Craig Institute for the Study of War and Democracy

The National WWII Museum welcomes AHA conference attendees to a highlights tour offering participants insight into not just what the museum covers but how it is conveyed to visitors. The museum tells the story of the American experience in the war that changed the world—why it was fought, how it was won, and what it means today.

The tour will include an overview of the history of the museum and New Orleans’ connection to the war effort. The museum tells its story through four main galleries. “The Arsenal of Democracy” explores the interwar years, the road to war, America’s entry into the conflict, and the home front. “The Road to Berlin” follows the European Theater of Operations from D-Day to VE-Day. “The Road to Tokyo” takes visitors through the Pacific Theater of Operations on land, in the air, on the sea, and below the sea. The “Liberation Pavilion” discusses the immediate postwar period, including the Holocaust and War Crimes trials and the US role in the postwar world.

Please note: The group will travel to the museum by bus. The museum is ADA compliant.

Limit: 25 people. $50 member, $60 nonmembers.

182. Articulating Shared Language About History Methods, Part 3: Producing History

New Orleans Marriott, Bacchus

Organized by the AHA Teaching Division

This is a seminar session. Seminars meet three times during the conference, allowing participants to sustain a conversation and build relationships. Participants will engage in collaborative discussion and analysis drawn on existing scholarship and examples from their own work. Seminar leaders will precirculate discussion documents. Participants must commit to attending all three sections of the seminar.

No charge; because space is limited, free advance registration is required. Potential participants should register by December 1. Seminar facilitators will be in touch to confirm participation by mid-December. Graduate students are encouraged to apply.

Seminar facilitators may allow additional auditors to attend, but auditors must contact the facilitators in advance.

Chair: Jennifer Hart, Virginia Tech

This is part of a multisession workshop. See also sessions 25 and 107.

WORKSHOP

Saturday, January 9, 10:30 a.m.–12:00 p.m.

K–16 Educators' Workshop, Part 2: International Affairs Revealed Through Primary Sources

Sheraton New Orleans, Grand Ballroom E

Primary sources such as speeches, letters, maps, photographs, telegrams, broadcasts, oral histories, and more can provide insight into the interests, activities, and values of individuals who influenced and were influenced by international affairs. They can also inspire conversations with students about similarities and differences between the past and the present, and they can motivate student research. In this hands-on workshop, Library of Congress education specialists will engage participants in teaching activities featuring some of their favorite sources and will provide tips and strategies for finding compelling and useful materials in the Library's extensive digitized collections at www.loc.gov.

Speaker: Lee Ann Potter, Library of Congress

227. Imperial Afterlives: Histories of the Present from Asia, Part 3—Rethinking the Global Color Line

New Orleans Marriott, Bacchus

This is a seminar session. Seminars meet three times during the conference, allowing participants to sustain a conversation and build relationships. Participants will engage in collaborative discussion and analysis drawn on existing scholarship and examples from their own work.

Seminar participants might precirculate work-in-progress, recently published work, and/or a suite of theoretical or methodological essays for discussion. The seminar is open to historians and historian-adjacent scholars at all stages; PhD students and early-career scholars are encouraged to apply.

Participants must commit to attending all three sections of the seminar.

No charge; because space is limited, free advance registration is required. Potential participants should register by December 1. Facilitators will be in touch to confirm participation by mid-December.

Seminar facilitators may allow additional auditors to attend, but auditors must contact the facilitators in advance.

Chair: Mingwei Huang, Dartmouth College

WORKSHOP

Saturday, January 9, 1:30–4:30 p.m.

Op-Ed Workshop

Sheraton New Orleans, Borgne

Organized by the AHA Research Division

Writing short articles for the general public is an important skill in the historian’s toolkit. From newspaper op-eds to magazine articles to blog posts, there are many publications where historians can share their research, connect it with current events or popular culture, and reach new readers.

A panel of experienced editors and writers will begin the session by discussing how to pitch, write, and edit op-eds meant for a general audience. In the second part, small groups will be able to workshop their own ideas for short-form writing with each other and the experts.

No charge; because space is limited, free advance registration is required.

Chair: Laura Ansley, American Historical Association

Panel: Keisha N. Blain, Brown University
Brian James DeMare, Tulane University
Thomas Lecaque, Grand View University
Tina Shull, University of North Carolina at Charlotte

RECEPTION

Saturday, January 9, 6:30–7:30 p.m.

Undergraduate Reception

New Orleans Marriott, Galerie 1

The AHA cordially invites undergraduates to a reception and informal conversation with colleagues and faculty.

The graphic is a dark blue rectangular box with a gold border. In the center is a gold circular seal with a dark blue border containing the text "AHA Awards" and three stars below it. A horizontal gold ribbon passes behind the seal. Below the seal, the text "Know a great historian who deserves to be recognized?" is written in white. Underneath this is a paragraph in white: "Every year the AHA honors distinguished historical work with dozens of awards and prizes for books, articles, teaching, mentoring, public history, digital history, and more." Below this is an orange horizontal bar with the text "Nominations are due May 15" in white. At the bottom, in white text, is: "Learn more about past winners, how to submit a nomination, and how you can support prize endowments at historians.org/prizes."

Sunday, January 10, 1:00–5:00 p.m.

Tour 4: Whitney Plantation
New Orleans Marriott, Studio 3

Tour Leaders: Ashley Rogers, Whitney Plantation, and Ibrahima Seck, Whitney Plantation

Whitney Plantation is a site of memory that educates the public about the history and legacies of slavery in the United States. First opened to the public in 2014, the museum has become well-known for its groundbreaking interpretation and dedication to truth-telling. St. John the Baptist Parish, Louisiana, was once one of the densest plantation districts in the United States. Today, the same properties where plantations once stood are the sites of major petrochemical facilities. Activists call this region Cancer Alley. The drive to the museum will include a discussion of the environmental history of the River Parishes and the development of Cancer Alley by executive director Ashley Rogers. The tour of Whitney Plantation will explore the 270-year-old property through memorials and original buildings dating back to the 18th century. The guided tour of the plantation will be led by Ibrahima Seck, director of research for the museum and an expert on African cultures in Louisiana.

Please note: This bus tour includes some walking. The Whitney Plantation Visitor Center is ADA compliant. Most of the tour is on a gravel path. Visitors should expect to walk and stand for 90 minutes. Manual wheelchairs may have difficulty navigating the grounds; motorized wheelchairs work better. Some of the historic structures are accessible only by stairs.

Limit: 25 people. $50 members, $60 nonmembers.

Numbers are session numbers. This index was compiled from keywords selected by session organizers when they submitted proposals. It is intended as a guide rather than a comprehensive list.

"Packed with features and written in Reynolds's and Gilbert's signature, accessible style, World in Motion delivers on the vision of a world history that recognizes the never-ending movement of people, things, identities, and even our understanding of history. It is a startling achievement, many years in the making, and one that will speak to this generation of students."

—Trevor Getz, San Francisco State University

"Offered at nearly half the cost of other world history textbooks, World in Motion does not compromise on plentiful, compelling images or on learning tools . . . embedded in every chapter. Students and instructors alike will appreciate the lively and accessible prose, unusual images, and brief primary sources followed by subtly complex questions. I had to do a double take on each of these—they grab the reader's attention, making it hard to ignore the riches of world history, making it hard to resist the impulse to dig deeper. Which is exactly what world history texts are for." —Tracey Rizzo, University of North Carolina Asheville

Denise I. Bossy

Yamasee: Indigenous Mobility, Placemaking, and Power in the Early South

"Denise Bossy demonstrates that the Yamasees were far more interesting, and enduring, than the 1715 war that bears their name. Before and after this conflict, the Yamasees remade themselves, using mobility and place-making to secure a future for themselves despite the catastrophic changes wrought by the colonization of the early South."—Stephen Warren, University of Iowa

Congratulations to the inaugural class of the Historian's Writerly Craft, convened by Tamara Walker. This summer intensive online workshop is premised on the belief that historians of Vast Early America are writers, too. We thank you for sharing your work and your time.

AHA28 Annual Meeting Call for Proposals Deadline: February 15, 2027

We invite proposals for sessions in a variety of formats and encourage lively interaction among presenters and with the audience.

All historians are welcome and encouraged to submit proposals. The AHA also invites historically focused proposals from colleagues in related disciplines and from AHA affiliated societies. The Program Committee will consider all proposals that advance the study, teaching, and public presentation of history

Questions? Contact annualmeeting@historians.org.
